MORE RUSSIAN TOWNS FALL IN GERMAN DRIVE

Report 30,000 Nazis Die in 3 Days.

LONDON, July 8 [Thursday]—(AP).—On the third day of its new offensive a German tank and infantry assault against savage Russian resistance drove into an additional "few villages" Wednesday near Belgorod at the southern end of a 200 mile front, where the Nazis had captured two towns Tuesday, but the Germans still were unable to achieve a major breakthru, the Russians announced today.

The German advance was made in great battle fury during which lines and trenches and even entire villages changed hands time and again. The Russians said their troops were counter-attacking late last night and "are now fighting to restore the position."

The Russians said that elsewhere along the front the Germans were stopped cold.

Loss of Villages Admitted.

The loss of the "few villages" was acknowledged in the soviet midnight communique recorded here by the soviet monitor. Earlier a special communique had told of the Germans rushing up vast reserves and listed huge new Nazi tank and plane losses.

[According to a New York Times dispatch from Stockholm, Sweden, last night, quoting Berlin reports, the Germans have broken thru the main Russian defense line in the Orel-Belgorod bulge at two points and the soviet forces have been thrown back as much as 2¼ miles. These successes were achieved in the north between Orel and Mtsensk and in the south around Belgorod.]

During Wednesday alone, the Russians said, the Germans lost 520 tanks and 229 planes, making a three day total of 1,539 tanks and 649 planes. The number of Germans killed, which the Russians are not attempting to total, is more than 30,000.

Germany's Supreme Effort.

This was Germany's supreme effort to crush the Red army—Adolf Hitler's third and perhaps final fling before an allied invasion hits him from the west. Dispatches from both Berlin and Moscow made it clear that the Germans were making a major attempt, drawing upon their air reserves from the remainder of Europe. The axis hurled 30 divisions [450,000 men] against the Russians on the Orel-Kursk-Belgorod front, said the special communique from Moscow.

Both Berlin and Moscow said the Germans were rushing reserves and material to the front line, including aircraft. The special Russian communique said the Germans were supported by "large numbers of aircraft sent in from other fronts."

Earlier a German military spokesman asserted that the main Russian line guarding Kursk had been broken at several points.

At the nearest point the battle is 200 miles from Moscow and if the Germans could exploit their initial success, they might attempt to outflank the capital by curling around its rear.

Ships Trapped in Kula Gulf; Fight in Dark

BY TOM YARBROUGH.

SOUTH PACIFIC HDQ., July 8 [Thursday]—(AP).—The Japanese naval forces, decisively defeated in the battle of Kula gulf, in the central Solomons, were compelled to fight by a numerically inferior group of American warships which surprised and trapped them there, it was disclosed today.

The triumph was so one-sided that, outside of the loss of a single American light cruiser, the U. S. S. Helena, not another warship on our side even sustained damage, this source reported.

Many of Personnel Saved.

The Japanese losses conservatively were placed at eight warships definitely sunk and two damaged. A communique from Gen. MacArthur said today nine and possibly 11 enemy cruisers and destroyers were sunk.

Our warships, also light cruisers and destroyers, caught the enemy units attempting to sneak out of the gulf, a body of water only 15 miles long and about eight miles wide, between Kolombangara and New Georgia Islands.

The battle, necessarily fought at close range, opened at 3 a. m. as the enemy units moved north thru the dark, squally night.

The first phase lasted five minutes. In that time five Japanese ships were intercepted and all were left sinking or burning.

The five ships either destroyed or set afire in the first blow, Gen. MacArthur's communique disclosed, were destroyers.

Struck by Broadsides.

Gen MacAthur's announcement amplifying the Kula gulf naval engagement said, "In the first phase of the engagement, four or five hostile destroyers were struck by smashing broadsides that within five minutes destroyed or set afire the entire group.

"Three or possibly four enemy light cruisers were then taken under fire. All were either sunk or afire within 15 minutes. One was beached.

"Later during rescue of survivors from the light cruiser Helena [the American warship lost] our destroyers intercepted and sank two of three enemy ships attempting to escape from the gulf and damaged the third."

[The progress of the American offensive in the Solomons was admitted yesterday in a left handed way by Tokio radio in a broadcast to Italy. "Their efforts are simply desperate," the broadcast, recorded in New York by OWI, said. "Let us admit with complete frankness the surprising stubbornness of the enemy."]

Warships Shell Kiska.

Washington, D. C., July 7 (AP).—Warships of the North Pacific force poured hundreds of shells into Japanese defenses on Kiska Island last night in an operation possibly preliminary to a drive to reconquer that Aleutians position.

ARMY STRIKES AT BIG AIR BASE FROM 2 SIDES

ALLIED HDQ. IN AUSTRALIA, July 8 [Thursday]—(AP).—American landing troops have won two beachheads near the Japanese air base at Munda, Gen. MacArthur announced today in a communique which also expanded our naval victory in the Kula gulf to at least nine and possibly 11 enemy cruisers and destroyers sunk.

Success all along the 700 mile arc of the Pacific offensive was reported as the drive entered its second week. Australian jungle fighters seized a vital hill on the approaches to Salamaua, New Guinea, after the bewildered Japanese defenders had been pounded from the air by 106 tons of bombs and allied fighter planes dealt more crushing blows against challenging Japanese air forces over the Solomons.

Land Before Dawn.

In a pincers movement on Munda, American troops landed above it at Rice anchorage before dawn July 5, it was disclosed, the same date that American warships were shelling the nearby Bairoko anchorage. Other American troops landed at Zanana, six miles east of the Munda airdrome, and now have contacted the enemy along the Barike river.

The heaviest attack ever unleashed in the Southwest Pacific area on a ground target preceded the capture of Observation hill which lies between Salamaua and Mubo, 12 miles to the southeast. The 106 tons of bombs burst among the Japanese defenders in a 45 minute period.

Picture of Action.

The delayed reports on the New Georgia activity now can be pieced together into this chronological pattern: On the night of July 4 and in the pre-dawn of July 5, American warships in the Kula gulf battered Bairoko anchorage which supplies Munda, 12 miles below it. American troop landings at Rice anchorage followed immediately. At the same time, other troops secured the Zanana beachhead with patrols fanning out quickly to find Japanese forces and engage them.

Japs Moved into Gulf.

This account was given of the new landing operations:

"Our forces landed at Rice anchorage four miles northeast of Bairoko harbor before dawn on the fifth [July 5]. Operations were preceded by the bombardment of the enemy base in the Kula gulf by our surface units [it was in this bom-

Gives Life for Bomber Crew

LONDON, July 7 (AP).—The gallant story of Lt. John J. Howell of South Miami, Fla., who held his damaged plane level until the crew bailed out and then plunged to his death at the controls was told today by American army headquarters. Howell has been awarded a posthumous distinguished service cross for "extraordinary heroism."

He was flying a fast medium bomber on its first mission in the European theater—a low level attack May 14 on the Velzen [Holland] power plant. The area bristled with anti-aircraft guns.

Just after the plane released its load squarely on the target, shells and bullets hit it. Oil covered the windshield. The pilot's control column was knocked out.

Plane Only 30 Feet High.

Lt. Howard E. Short, Howell's co-pilot, wiped the windshield instrument panel with a flying jacket. He found the plane had been flying about 30 feet above ground. Regaining altitude, the plane crossed the coast with coastal batteries firing on it.

By this time, in addition to the shell and bullet holes, the bomb bay doors would not close, the landing gear would not go down, and a gas tank was pierced and nearly empty. Altho the pilot's control column was useless, the co-pilot's was intact.

When the ship was over its own field, Howell ordered the crew to jump. Short stayed with him to help crash-land the staggering plane.

"Short," said Howell, "we can't land this thing."

Uses Controls on Both Sides.

"I stood by the open bomb bay door," Short said. "Howell was flying the wreck by himself. He was operating the rudder controls with his feet and leaning across the cockpit to reach the co-pilot's control column to operate the ailerons and the elevator. He turned and waved to me and I jumped.

"Just as my parachute opened I saw the bomber swerve and the left wing go down. It recovered momentarily and then dove into the ground with Lt. Howell still aboard."

Short explained it was easy to jump safely from a medium bomber on a level course but this plane was too nearly out of control to be held level except by manual action. Howell knew this when he made his decision and ordered the co-pilot to bail out, holding the ship level for him to do so.

15,000 Stage Riots

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, July 7 (AP).—Crowds 15,000 strong took possession of the streets of Fort de France, capital of Martinique, for two days recently in demonstrations favoring the Fighting French leader, Gen. Charles de Gaulle, it was reported here today. The demonstrations were said to have forced the action of the government of the French island in seeking an agreement with the United States and a break with Vichy.

The demonstrations were said to have broken out June 24, with crowds shouting "Vive De Gaulle!" and singing the French anthem, "La Marseillaise." They were unmolested by the gendarmerie sent to disperse them, the report added.

A disagreement between Adm. Georges Robert, Vichy high commissioner of Martinique, and the colonel commanding the island's garrison favored the demonstrations, the report added, because Robert refused to allow the soldiers to put down the uprising.

Antilles Negotiator Chosen.

ALGIERS, Algeria, July 7 (AP).—The French committee of national liberation today appointed Marcel Hoppenot, who now is in Washington, D. C., as a delegate with extraordinary powers to negotiate the return of the French Antilles to the unified empire, a spokesman said.

The only portions of the French Antilles not yet siding with the committee are Martinique and Guadeloupe, whose administrator, Adm. Georges Robert, invited the United States last week to name an envoy to discuss a "change" in French authority there.

At the same time the committee appointed Brig. Gen. Henri Jacomy as commander of the French military forces in the Antilles and French Guiana.

Ouster of Robert Seen.

Observers interpreted this to mean that the committee would not consent to retaining Adm. Robert as governor of Martinique regardless of the outcome of the negotiations. Also, the fact that a military commander has been named while the Antilles are still outside the committee's authority was seen as an indication that the committee expects that the talks will be successful.

Pleasure Trip?

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 7.—Gen. Henri Giraud, commander in chief of the French troops in North Africa and co-president of the French committee on national liberation, was received at the White House this afternoon.

Altho the avowed purpose of his visit to this country is to improve relations, see America, and chat with officials, it was widely believed that his chief concern is the French political situation.

It is thought that the presence of the French leader here might help to build Giraud abroad as the real leader of the French.

Reveal De Gaullists' Plan.

This belief was strengthened when official circles here let it become known informally that they are in possession of a secret French document, allegedly revealing the ambition of followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle to perpetuate him as the leader of the French.

The dropping of this information at the time of Giraud's visit was regarded as more than a coincidence. It was believed that the purpose of this move was to offset any attacks the De Gaullists might time with the Giraud visit and also to advance Giraud by smearing De Gaulle.

The document in the possession of officials here is an oath of allegiance pledging De Gaullist followers to recognize him as the sole leader of France and to work under his orders and those of his leaders before as well as after the liberation of France. It is not known whether the oath is new or something circulated before the North African campaign.

Gets 17 Gun Salute.

Giraud arrived here by plane at Bolling field, where he was given a 17 gun salute. He was met by Adm. William D. Leahy, aide to the commander in chief; Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, and Adm. Ernest J. King, chief of naval operations.

He went to the White House, where he was received by Mr. Roosevelt. After the formal call at the White House, he went to the Blair house, the mansion the government has purchased for entertaining distinguished visitors.

Gen. Giraud is accompanied by three French officers who escaped from France with Giraud.

Five of Kidnap Robber Gang Sent to Prison

Prison sentences caught up with five swaggering young toughs yesterday in the Criminal court of Judge Donald S. McKinlay. Their leader, a parolee from Joliet penitentiary, was sentenced to serve two 20 year terms as a habitual criminal. Shorter terms were dealt out to his four followers, three of whom are veterans of Juvenile court appearances.

A sixth member of the gang, whose previous record was good, was placed on two years' probation, the first six months of which he must serve in the county jail.

Five of the young criminals took part in the kidnaping of three Lake Forest youths last April 1, and are under indictment in Lake county for that crime. They were convicted of robbing the Rev. Edward McGovern of Hinsdale, whose car was used in the kidnaping.

Two 20 Year Terms.

Those sentenced and the terms they must serve:

John Bodenchak, 23 years old, leader of the gang, two 20 year sentences under the habitual criminal act, the sentences to run concurrently. He cannot be released by the parole board until he has served at least one-third of the sentence, or 6 years and 8 months.

Joseph Jakubec, 18, two concurrent sentences of one to eight years on two robbery charges. Under the new maximum-minimum sentence act, he must serve at least one year before he may apply for parole.

Robert Kravish, 16, sentenced to one to three years on one robbery charge; must serve at least one year.

Richard Schenold, 19, sentenced to one to three years on each of two charges; must serve at least one year.

John Hanuska, 19, sentenced to one to three years on each of two charges; must serve at least one year.

Raymond Weglowski, 17, placed on probation for two years, the first six months to be served in jail.

Each Called to Bench.

Bodenchak, Jakubec, Kravish, Schenold, and Weglowski took part in the Lake Forest kidnaping and were sentenced for robbing Father McGovern of Hinsdale. Hanuska was sentenced for two other robberies.

Each of the young criminals was called separately to the bench to hear his sentence. Bodenchak was first, and Judge McKinlay, commenting that no time need be wasted with him, sentenced him as a habitual criminal.

Then came Jakubec. The judge made note of his four appearances in Juvenile court, starting when he was 13, for burglary.

"Probably the general leniency of the Juvenile court was more or less responsible for the present situation," the judge remarked.

Kravish and Schenold came next. Judge McKinlay noted that they were in Juvenile court together twice, first for taking $5 from a newsboy and later for stealing an automobile. Schenold had a third appearance for burglary.

Leniency Plea Lost.

Assistant State's Atty. Alexander Napoli demanded stiff sentences for all the defendants. Atty. George Crane pleaded for leniency, urging minimum sentences of one year so the army could get the prisoners if it desired at the end of that period.

"God forbid that they should have to take such fellows for the army!" exclaimed Napoli.

State's Atty. Harry Hall of Lake county said his prosecution of the five kidnapers would await conferences with Prosecutor Napoli, Police Chief Frank Tiffany of Lake Forest, and the families of the kidnap victims.

Prison Fugitive for 23 Years Is Granted Pardon

Boise, Idaho, July 7 (AP).—W. D. Simmons, a barber of Findlay, O., who escaped from the Idaho prison in 1920, was pardoned today. Simmons served two years and nine months of a one to 14 year sentence for forgery. He fled to Ohio, married, and became a respected citizen. Last month he returned to Idaho and surrendered.

STEEL PLANT MAKES IT SANS GRIT AND SWEAT

New Kaiser Saga West of Rockies.

BY MARCIA WINN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Fontana, Cal., July 7.—Out here on a tract of land where 60,000 hogs grubbed and cavorted 15 months ago steel now is being made in an incredible plant thru which one can wander in business suit or evening gown and emerge spotless.

The plant, its steel, and the manner in which it rose like a genii from the sands, is just another paragraph in the saga of Kaiser, Henry J., the man who gets things done. Fifteen months ago: hogs. Eight months ago: pig iron. Two months ago: steel.

The whole thing is an anachronism. It is almost a sin against nature. This is the land of stucco and cardboard cutouts, of low lying fruit and vineyards, of avocado ranches and geraniums that grow on bushes, of the mañana [or "Let's do it tomorrow . . . tomorrow . . . tomorrow . . ."] ideology and midday siesta.

First West of Rockies.

To see 300 foot smokestacks, which kindly forbear to belch smoke, or 100 foot milk bottles which turn out to be blast furnaces, jutting against the hot, empty sky is as startling a vision as a six masted schooner would be racing across the sands. But here it is, another bit of Kaiser handiwork, the only completely integrated steel mill west of the Rockies.

The layman's idea of a steel mill is dirt, soot, smoke, heat, flames—flame, heat, smoke, soot, dirt. It includes a mental picture of rugged men, blackened with soot, silhouetted against the flames of the open hearth into which they throw shovel after shovel of catalyst or compound.

You won't find any of that here, for this plant is as remarkable as the house that Jack built. Here iron and steel are "almost" made without the human hand. The human hands that made it necessary to inject that "almost" are hands that press buttons, levers, and gadgets, or drive cranes, engines, and lorry cars. Men race around in white uniforms or white asbestos cloaks, and if you are really hungry, you can spread food on the floor and eat off it.

Even Air Conditioning.

Lt. Charles Shanley, 22 years old, an employé of the local advertising department of THE TRIBUNE before he joined the army air forces and became a Flying Fortress bombardier, was listed as missing in action June 28, the war department yesterday notified his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Shanley, 3546 Bosworth avenue.

His father said he went to England in April with a group that included Capt. Clark Gable, the motion picture actor. In his letters Lt. Shanley disclosed that he had gone regularly on raids over Nazi held territory with United States bombers and believed he had shot down one Focke Wulfe 190.

Lt. Shanley enlisted Jan. 2, 1942. He is a graduate of De Paul academy and Wright Junior college. His brother, John, also a Tribune employé, is a seaman 2d class in the navy.

Pvt. Richard Graff, an advertising order clerk in the public service department, was the first Tribune employé killed in action in this war. He died Feb. 3, 1942, while fighting with Gen. MacArthur's forces in the Philippines.

Reveal Nine Enemy Ships Sunk in Kula Gulf.

bardment that the United States destroyer Strong was lost.]

"During the same night, elements of our ground forces from Rendova secured a beachhead at Zanana, six miles east of the Munda airdrome. Patrols made contact along the Barike river."

Disperse Air Armada.

In the latest attempt of the Japanese to challenge control of the air over Rendova Island, seized in the central Solomons June 30, an unspecified number of bombers with an escort of 56 Zeros, was intercepted and dispersed by our fighter patrols in a daylight action.

Three of the bombers and nine fighters were shot down against the loss of only one allied plane, the communique said.

"Delayed dispatches indicate that on July 5 enemy bombers attempting to attack allied shipping [at Rendova] were driven off with a loss of nine bombers," the communique added.

"No damage was caused."

North of the Kula gulf on Kolombangara Island, 28 tons of heavy bombs were dropped on Vila by torpedo and dive bombers with a fighter escort, starting fires in the supply dump and bivouac areas. Medium bombers struck at the Japanese airdrome there. All our planes returned.

The Munda air base, on which the Americans now have increased their pressure with the new landings, was first developed by the Japanese last December, but they have been unable to make much out of it because of repeated poundings it has been given from the air.

In American hands, it would provide an airdrome within fighter plane range of the big Japanese air and shipping fortress of Rabaul, New Britain.

Three hundred miles above Australia in the Tanimbar Islands two-engined allied raiders bombed and strafed the enemy airdrome on the island of Selaru, attacked near-by villages occupied by the Japanese, started a fire in a fuel dump, and silenced an anti-aircraft position.

Extensive Action Near Salamaua.

The fighting and air action in the area of Salamaua was the most extensive reported since Americans landed at Nassau bay on the coast below Salamaua on June 30.

"In direct support of our ground forces, strong formations of attack planes, medium, and heavy bombers executed coördinated bombing and strafing attacks on enemy positions on Observation hill and in Kitchen and Guigap creeks [in the Mubo vicinity]," the communique said.

North of the ground fighting scene in the central Solomons, a heavy raid on Japanese air bases at Kahili was reported. In an elaboration of the attack, previously announced by the navy in Washington, D. C., the communique said 45 tons of high explosives were dropped by heavy bombers, causing large fires despite intense anti-aircraft fire thrown up by Japanese warships and shore batteries. Two of our planes are missing.

JAPS CLAIM 4 U. S. WARSHIPS SUNK IN KULA BATTLE

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

A Japanese imperial headquarters communique said yesterday that Japanese naval forces sank "one enemy cruiser" and set another afire Sunday night in the Kula gulf and that torpedo boats the following morning sank three war vessels.

The communique made no mention of Japanese losses. The Japanese for the first time admitted allied landings on the Island of New Georgia, saying troops came ashore there at several points.

CRUISER HELENA ONE OF SHIPS HIT AT PEARL HARBOR

Washington, D. C., July 7 (AP).—The 9,700 ton cruiser Helena, which was sunk in the battle of Kula in the central Solomon Islands early July 6, was one of the ships which the Japanese damaged at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941. She was subsequently repaired and returned to sea service and reportedly had an active career in the Pacific.

Capt. C. P. Cecil.

The light cruiser, named for the city of Helena, Mont., was commissioned at the New York navy yard on Sept. 18, 1939. She was equipped to carry four aircraft and her armament included 15 six inch guns and 8 five inch anti-aircraft guns.

The skipper, Capt. Charles Purcell Cecil of Louisville, Ky., was a veteran of naval service. Before the present conflict started, he was serving as executive officer of the naval training station at Great Lakes, Ill.

To Ask Fund Drive.

Helena, Mont., July 7 (AP).—A. T. Hibbard, state chairman of the war savings committee, said today he would propose to the committee next week that Montana raise funds to build another cruiser Helena.

Navy sources estimated the cost of replacing the Helena at $30,000,000.

Writer Sees Boys Shoot Japs Like Squirrels.

BY J. NORMAN LODGE.

WITH OCCUPATION FORCES ON RENDOVA ISLAND, July 1 [Delayed]—(AP).—Our initial landing on Rendova Island and the immediate push into the jungles were made amidst the most despicable conditions this correspondent has ever seen.

In addition to stagnated, ankle-deep mud, there were weird varieties of ants, slugs, caterpillars, flying insects, horseflies as big as butterflies, bluebottles as large as beetles, lizards of every color in the spectrum, snakes, prickly undergrowth—and plenty of rain.

Landing forces took along only hard tack and hash as field rations, and chlorinated water which tastes worse than castor oil.

Pup Tents Swimming.

Every pup tent was virtually swimming in water. Every piece of clothing was soaked. Yet the men continued to joke and compare these conditions to those of the camps they left in North Carolina, for instance.

Units set to work today clearing coconut trees for our heavy artillery which will lay down a barrage on the Munda airfield. Smaller guns have been sending advance greetings to that important base since a few hours after the landing.

Sporadic fighting thruout last night perhaps was largely the result of jitters. Every leaf looks like a Jap to the fresh troops their first night in the jungle.

A Jap Loses.

The Japanese show themselves to be a brave but foolhardy foe, refusing to surrender even tho they have two strikes against them and a fast one coming up. One Nip captain brandishing a sword charged one of our units equipped with an automatic weapon. He lost.

Japanese soldiers fled so suddenly before the invading Americans that their breakfast rice was found still boiling.

SWALLOWS POISON IN TAXI.

Frances Martin, 26 years old, 3001 Jackson boulevard, a waitress in a loop restaurant, swallowed poison last night while she was riding in a taxicab at Damen avenue and Madison, with another waitress. The chauffeur, Harry P. White, 4108 North Pulaski road, took her to Presbyterian hospital.

HISTORY SHARPS TRY TO PLUMB AMERICAN MIND

Propound 3 Questions to Learn Facts.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Three basic questions must be settled in considering revisions in the method of teaching American history in the country's schools and colleges, experts agreed here yesterday.

These educational experts, meeting as a committee sponsored by two national groups and one sectional association, financed by the Rockefeller Foundation, met in the Drake hotel to consider widespread complaints that Americans generally are dunces when it comes to knowledge of their country's foundations and development.

The three questions are:

1. Do the American people know their own history?

2. A "minimum core of content for all history courses" should be evolved. Of what should that core consist?

3. What should constitute definite standards for the training of history teachers?

Even Committee in Doubt.

Dr. Edgar B. Wesley, professor of the teaching of history, University of Minnesota, head of the committee, said the committee admits it does not know whether Americans know their history or whether they know the important things in that history.

The answer to that question, he said, thus becomes the first of the three big problems confronting the committee. The only way he said the question could be answered is to prepare a basic nation-wide test for citizens and students. This test, Dr. Wesley explained, would not include trick or picayune questions. Rather, he said, the committee will prepare questions revealing the way teachers, pupils, street car conductors, clerks, club women, and others think when American history is considered.

"We shall frame the questions to show that we distinguish between the 'correct' and the 'best' answer," said Dr. Wesley. "We prefer the 'best' answer to the 'correct' because the former requires thinking rather than rote memory for facts."

Typical Question Projected.

Dr. Wesley gave this example of such a question:

"1. To achieve religious freedom?

"2. To escape severe laws?

"3. To improve his economic status?

"4. To gain the right to vote?"

Based on the findings of the survey into the American public's way of knowing its history, Dr. Wesley said the committee agreed its next task was "to delimit and to recommend the content of American history courses."

Would Have Minimum Core.

"We would like to recommend a central core of content for every school in the country to use as a minimum," Dr. Wesley explained. "This minimum core of a course for a given grade should require less than a year, so that localized materials could be drawn on by the teachers.

"For example, I should like Illinois teachers to have time in the course to study the founding of railroads, the development of Chicago, the Lincoln and Douglas debates, and the general settlement of the state. Each locality should thus be permitted to relate its part to the building of the whole country.

Plan Graphic Report.

"Our committee is endeavoring to write a brief, spirited, specific, and colorful document that will permit educators, legislators, editors, and the general public to see what is being done in this important field."

Dr. Wesley praised the way history is taught in the Chicago public schools.

The three groups sponsoring the committee are the Mississippi Valley Historical association, the American History association, and the National Council for Social Studies.

The public history test is being prepared by Dr. Howard Anderson of Cornell university, Dr. E. F. Lindquist of the University of Iowa, and Dr. Walter Cook of the University of Minnesota.

LT. CHARLES SHANLEY.

PREDICT START ON RIGHTING OF NORMANDIE SOON

New York, July 7 [Special].—Observers of salvaging operations on the U. S. S. Lafayette, the former French luxury liner Normandie, today saw signs that the day for righting of the capsized vessel is close at hand. Since Feb. 9, 1942, when a spark from a welder's torch set her afire, the 59 million dollar ship has laid on her side at a Hudson river pier.

One portent that the righting is near at hand was seen in the fact workmen are constructing an observation platform on the West Side highway running past the pier. This platform will be a grandstand for officials to view the righting operation.

Another sign was the demolition of "Normandieville," a group of shacks, tool house, and catwalks built on the vessel's hull.

CHIANG GETS TOP HONORS IN U. S. LEGION OF MERIT

3 of His Generals Also Named to Order.

CHUNGKING, July 7 (AP).—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was decorated today as chief commander, Legion of Merit, by Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, commanding in China, India and Burma, representing President Roosevelt.

Gen. Ho Yo-chin, minister of war and chief of staff of the Chinese army, and Gen. Shang Chen, director of the national military council, were made commanders of the Legion of Merit, while Gen. Yu Ta-Wei, chief of ordnance, was made an officer of the legion.

The decorations were presented in the presence of Mme. Chiang, making her first appearance since her return to China from the United States, heads of government departments, members of Gen. Stilwell's staff, and the crew of the American air transport in which Mme. Chiang returned home.

First to an Ally.

The medals, bestowed on the sixth anniversary of China's war of resistance against the Japanese, were the first given allied figures since the legion's revival by President Roosevelt during the present war. The legion was created by order of Gen. George Washington on Aug. 7, 1782.

Earlier, Mme. Chiang had decorated the crew of the transport in which she was a passenger from the United States with the order of the standard of clouds.

Gen. Chiang issued a call today to the allied nations to strike at once in force against Japan. Now, he declared, is the opportune moment "to reap great results" in reducing the time and cost of final victory.

[In anniversary greetings sent from London, Prime Minister Churchill told the generalissimo the successes in North Africa and on the Yangtze gave "tangible evidence in the east and the west of what is to come," and said "the pattern of events is now becoming clear."]

Presidential Message.

Washington, D. C., July 7 (AP).—President Roosevelt sent a special short wave radio greeting to the people of China today on the sixth anniversary of their resistance to Japanese aggression.

The message was read for the President in a transmission from San Francisco to Chungking.

"Our friends have long known what our enemies are learning today," the message said, "that the promises of the United States are always kept and our pledges are always redeemed."

Russia Praises Bravery.

MOSCOW, July 7 (AP).—Praising Chinese resistance on this sixth anniversary of the Chinese-Japanese war, the soviet army newspaper Red Star said today the will of the Chinese people is unbroken and their faith in victory unshaken.

"The Chinese people continue to fight bravely for freedom and national independence," it said.

L. M. NORRIS IS DEAD.

Bloomington, Ill., July 7 [Special].—Lyman M. Norris, 72 years old, of Normal, who staked a claim when the Oklahoma strip was opened for settlement in 1894, died here today in Mennonite hospital. In recent years he was manager of the Bloomington Ice Cream company.

CHINA TO GET LEAD ROLE IN POST-WAR ASIA, ASSERTS EDEN

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, July 7.—Lasting peace in the Pacific after defeat of Japan can only be attained thru a system of security guaranteed jointly by the United States, China, Russia, and Great Britain, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said tonight in the first comprehensive statement on far eastern war aims to come from here.

Obviously China must play a leading part in reconstruction of Asia after the war, said Eden. He did not elaborate on this point beyond saying it would compare with the "collective arrangements we contemplate in the west."

Eden spoke before a meeting marking the sixth anniversary of the start of the war in China.

The tide of battle against the axis in Europe has turned already, Eden told the Chinese people of whom there were many facing him in Albert hall. When the job is done in the west "allied power will flow to the east and overwhelm the empire of Japan," he predicted.

EARLY APPROVAL OF NEW FRENCH GROUP EXPECTED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 7.—Following discussions between French Foreign Commissioner Rene Massigli and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden today, political commentators said formal recognition of the French national committee of liberation in Algiers by America and Britain can be expected soon and may coincide with France's national day, July 14.

There was no indication as to the form of recognition to be given to the committee. Neither Gen. Charles de Gaulle nor Gen. Henri Giraud, the French co-leaders, want the committee regarded as anything more than a provisional administration, pending France's liberation, it is said.

Following the winding up of the Fighting French committee here, many of its members and staffs were leaving London for Algiers. Before the end of September, it is expected that nearly 1,000 will have been transferred.

LEGION'S JULY 4 SHOW PROFITS NEARLY $6,000

The American Legion's show at Soldiers' field July 4 earned a gross of $25,717, Russell W. Root, chairman of the fourth of July committee, told Cook county council of the Legion last night at a meeting in the city council chamber. The council estimated its profit would be about $6,000. Jay Brown, commander of the Legion council, appointed George Drobnis as adjutant to succeed W. P. Roberts, who resigned to enter military service.

Printers Call Off Strike on Providence Papers

Providence, R. I., July 7 (AP).—The Providence Typographical union voted tonight to return to work at the Providence Journal and Bulletin after a one day strike. Action followed a war labor board order to end the walkout, which began this morning in a contract dispute over wage variances that caused suspension of the Evening Bulletin for the first time in 80 years. The vote to return avoided interruption of the daily issue of the Journal, a morning paper, which would have broken a record of 114 years of daily publication.

NAZIS BOLSTER CRETE AS KEY TO BLOCK INVASION

Turkish Press Asks Italy to Quit Albania.

ANKARA, Turkey, July 7 (AP).—The bayonetlike jab of British forces Sunday night against the Island of Crete, which guards the smaller island stepping stones to the Balkan peninsula, has heartened allied and neutral observers here.

The Germans appear to have centered their defense on Crete, supported by a crescent of outer islands from Rhodes to the Greek mainland and making a continuing defense line with fortifications along the Adriatic coast.

[A dispatch from a New York Times correspondent in Ankara said the Germans and Italians were entrenched in Mediterranean and Aegean fortresses and feared the invasion would start within 48 hours. He said there were reports of allied submarines and torpedo boats operating in the Aegean and of bombers and reconnaissance planes flying over the islands along the Greek coast.]

Possible Invasion Plan.

Unofficial strategists said the allied drive might begin with an attack on Rhodes, with a quick mop up of the Dodecanese and the inner Aegean which initially would bypass Crete but quickly open it for a many sided attack.

After that island's defenses have been neutralized the allies could strike at the German occupied Balkans.

The Germans have attempted to make Crete impregnable with deep defenses along its 160-mile front and a garrison which probably numbers at least 10 divisions. Altho three-fifths of the island's soldiers are Italians, there is a German officer in command. Rhodes is less heavily defended and the island nestles close to neutral Turkey.

Turks' Plea to Italy.

In this connection the Istanbul newspaper Aksham today discussed the possibilities of a separate peace by Italy and said the Turks want Italy "to get out of Albania, break off relations with the Balkans and leave the islands near Turkey's shores." The comment appeared to refer to the Dodecanese islands.

Reports received in Istanbul across the border from Nazi-dominated Bulgaria said 200 German aviators had arrived in Sofia equipped with the latest fighter planes and are expected to defend the nation's communications system from allied air attack.

Says Invasion Fleet Massed.

LONDON, July 7 (AP).—The Nazi radio today told Germany that the allied African chieftain, Gen. Eisenhower, had concentrated more than 1 million tons of shipping on the African coast for a leap across the Mediterranean into Europe.

This broadcast was tempered by an assertion that the allies "cannot launch a real invasion" because of the so-called defenses in southern France and Italy. "Even an invasion under cover of battleships or other heavy units must be considered an absolutely deadly risk," said the Berlin radio.

BRITISH PLANES PLANT MINES IN NAZI SEAS, RIP FRENCH RAILWAYS

LONDON, July 7 (AP).—R. A. F. bombers conducted extensive minelaying operations in enemy waters last night while speedy Mosquitos, manned by Canadian crews, attacked rail targets in France, the air ministry announced today. One bomber was lost. Fighters today made sweeps over northern France and the Low Countries.

Two enemy fighter planes flew over the East Anglia district early this evening. One was shot down.

[The German communique said that on Tuesday night "single enemy planes haphazardly dropped high explosives on western German places. Slight damage was caused to buildings."]

U. S. PRESS BUREAU'S CHIEF BEATEN BY 2 IN BUENOS AIRES

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

BUENOS AIRES, July 7.—Frank Breese, 29 years old, a Californian, news manager of the United Press bureau here, was set upon and beaten by two assailants last night.

He was the third American victim of such tactics, similar attacks having been made on Waldo Frank, author and lecturer, on Aug. 2, 1942, and on Julius Strupp, a prominent business man, last May 21. No one has been convicted or punished for either attack.

Breese was attacked while walking to his home from a subway station four blocks away. He was followed down the street by one man who attacked him from behind, aided by a second who had been hiding behind a parked car.

The motive for the attack appears to have been political, since Breese was not robbed and it was said he had no personal enemies.

74,473 DENTISTS EXPECTED TO BE IN SERVICE BY '45

Only one dentist will be available for every 1,830 persons in the nation in 1945, Dr. John T. O'Rourke, dean of the dental school at the University of Louisville, warned in the July issue of the Journal of the American Dental association. Dr. O'Rourke estimated that 74,473 dentists would be in army and navy by that time.

"The proportion of dentists will not increase during this decade," wrote Dr. O'Rourke in outlining a campaign for tooth care, prevention of decay, and prosthetic service [replacement of teeth]."

"The public has been taught to lean too heavily on the use of chemotherapeutic dentifrices," he commented in urging a nutrition program and frequent examinations to insure better teeth for the civilian population.

FIGHTING FOOD A 'WEAPON' IN TRIBUNE EXHIBIT

Add Army Ration Display to Ordnance Items.

The entrance to the army ordnance-Chicago Tribune war show is in Nathan Hale court between Tribune Tower and W-G-N. Visitors should start the tour there. The show is open daily from 10 a. m. to 10:30 p. m. There is no admission charge.

Food for fighting men at the front—it's as necessary to win a war as rifles, and tanks, and jeeps.

To show what an American soldier eats when separated from his field kitchen or mess hall, the quartermaster department yesterday added an emergency food ration exhibit to the ordnance department displays in Tribune Square.

Three types of emergency field rations are included in the exhibit. Two types, ration C and ration K, are carried by a soldier in his pack. C ration is the pioneer. A day's supply consists of six cans, two for each meal. Meat and vegetables are in three cans; biscuit, hard candy, coffee, and sugar are in the other three.

Diet for Paratroopers.

K ration was developed for paratroopers, but has been adopted generally. A day's supply consists of three packages slightly smaller than a cigar carton. The breakfast box has a 4 ounce tin of chopped pork and egg white, coffee, seven crackers, fruit bar, a stick of gum, and three cigarets. For lunch there are a tin of cheese, malted milk tablets, crackers, concentrated lemon juice, cigarets, gum, and sugar. The supper box contains soup concentrate, four ounces of corned beef, chocolate, crackers, cigarets, and gum.

The third field ration is for motorized men. It's called 5-in-1 because the wooden foot-square box carries enough food for five men for one day or one man for five days. Under the lid is a menu. The sample on exhibit lists tomato juice, cereal, biscuits, and coffee for breakfast; soup, beef roast, peas, rice, lemonade, and hard candy for lunch, meat stew, biscuits, coffee, prunes, and apricot-spread for supper.

All three types of rations are precooked. The food can be eaten either hot or cold. All could be supplemented by ration D, a four ounce super-chocolate bar whose 600 calories make it so energy-rich that if the entire bar is eaten in less than a half hour the soldier will become sick. It can be dissolved in a cup of hot water. It's carried in pockets and can stand jungle temperatures.

Use Emergency Tin.

For the direst emergencies, as in case of shipwreck, the army has developed a special tin. It contains 12 packets of candy wafers, six sticks of gum and six vitamin pills. The wafers and pills, tests have shown, will keep one man in good condition for six days, or six men for one day. The gum helps stave off thirst.

"Army men usually aren't very far off shore, so the chances are nine to one that a shipwreck victim will be picked up from his raft within 48 hours," a quartermaster department spokesman said.

The package contains a warning, however, that if the soldier catches fish, he should save his wafers, pills, and gum.

"Wherever you are, good luck!"

JAIL PROFESSOR ON THREE MEN'S VERBAL CHARGES

Accusation Involving Girl, 5, Denied by Him.

A local university professor, 67 years old, who lives alone, was locked up over night in the Warren avenue police station. Three citizens had made verbal accusations against him, saying that he had molested a 5 year old girl. But they signed no statements. The girl apparently was unharmed. The girl's mother signed no complaint and the professor denied the charge vigorously.

Police did not book him, but held him in a cell on what they called an "open charge." They did not allow him to call an attorney, acting, they explained, under a police rule which permits them to hold suspects in sex cases in jail without charge, bond, counsel, or means of fighting for their liberty until an assistant state's attorney investigates the case in the sex bureau of the detective bureau. When the arrest falls on a holiday the detention may be for several days.

Previous Arrest Alleged.

Police said the professor was arrested in the Warren avenue district in October, 1940, on a similar charge.

The professor explained that on that occasion he had been beaten by a brother of a girl who found him sitting next to her in a theater. He had been brought to court, the professor said, and had been exonerated in 15 minutes.

The professor said he had met the mother of the child he is accused of molesting last December. He was lonely, he said, the mother was divorced, and he became fond of the little girl. He said he took her out to dinner and to movie theaters more than a dozen times with the mother's consent.

Takes Child to Movie.

Yesterday he took the child to a movie and sat with her thru two full shows. Then he started to walk home with her. They chatted and the child frolicked and the professor says he patted her affectionately. The two entered a restaurant at 1944 Madison street.

Three men came in and one of them sat down beside them and tried to take the child away, accusing the professor of molesting her.

The professor argued with them and police arrived and took him and the child to the station.

Accusers Tell Story.

Police said that the men who accused the professor are Thom Mitchell of 1919 Washington boulevard, Steve Pape of 3419 Harrison street, and Charles Groman of 19 South Honore street. Each is about 40 years old.

They said that they followed the professor and the little girl for three blocks before announcing their suspicions. The child's mother, summoned to the station, said that the professor had taken her daughter out several times with her permission, but that she did not know he had taken her to the theater yesterday.

NAZI AIR SCREEN AT SICILY RIPPED DOWN BY ALLIES

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, July 7 (AP).—German fighter opposition dwindled precipitately on Sicily yesterday under the hammering by allied warplanes.

Flying Fortresses and Liberators, and medium and light bombers all joined in the 'round the clock effort to sweep the enemy entirely from above the Mediterranean island flanking southern Italy. The main target was Gerbini airfield and its four subsidiary fields in southern Sicily.

Fifty Liberators attacked from middle east bases on Tuesday, dumping more than 285,000 pounds of bombs on runways and dispersal areas. Fortresses from French Africa hit ammunition dumps, administration buildings, hangars, and five landing strips.

The only challange by axis planes was to the Liberators, which shot down one.

TRIBUNE WRITER IS U. S. WITNESS AGAINST VIERECK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 7.—The government rested its case late today in the third trial of George Sylvester Viereck, who is charged with failing to reveal the full extent of his undercover activities when he registered with the state department as a German agent.

Sigrid Schultz, former Berlin correspondent of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, was a surprise witness against Viereck during the day. Miss Schultz testified Viereck participated in the annual Nuremberg rally of the Nazi party in 1936. She said Viereck attended the party rally as a Nazi agent while she was present as a reporter.

She also identified "Mr. Con Stremple," to whom Viereck sent weekly news reports, as Heribert von Stremple, former press relations attache of the German embassy. She described propaganda functions of high Nazis whose names were mentioned earlier in the trial, including Dr. Hans Dieckhoff, former German ambassador here.

8TH AIR FORCE LISTS 68 RAIDS AS YEAR'S WORK

Washington, D. C., July 7 (AP).—The army today reported this summary of the first year's operations of the 8th air force over Europe—68 daylight bombing missions, 102 industrial targets, naval bases, and war plants destroyed or damaged by 11,423 tons of bombs, and 1,199 enemy planes shot down.

Losses were 276 American heavy bombers. However, in addition to the enemy aircraft confirmed as destroyed, the 8th air force probably destroyed 525 and damaged 501. The losses of American planes averaged only 3.91 per cent in 7,067 sorties against Germany and German-occupied Europe—a sortie being a single flight by one plane.

A monthly box score disclosed the heaviest total of bombs—2,865½ tons—was dropped by the American bombers in May. That month also saw the greatest destruction of enemy interceptors—340 destroyed, 108 probables, 167 damaged. The 8th air force lost 67. The costliest month to the Americans was June, 1943, when they lost 85 heavy bombers while dropping 2,458 tons of bombs and destroying 304 enemy planes, with 69 probables and 121 damaged.

BRITONS PAY THIRD OF INCOME IN TAX TO CARRY ON WAR

LONDON, July 7 (AP).—Reporting that the average Briton last year paid about one-third of his income to support the war, Kingsley Wood, chancellor of the exchequer, told commons today he hoped a pay-as-you-go tax plan could be devised for Britain.

Wood, replying to demands inspired by the United States example, promised a statement by early autumn.

The budget expenditure this year will be eight times that of 1933-'34.

Taxes last year took 40 per cent of all private income.

Taxes now are paid by 12½ million Britons, of whom 10 million are small taxpayers.

The war expenditure already has doubled that of 1914-'18.

Report Belgians Execute 16 Nazis for Slaying of 8

Adherents of Germany; 165 Take Oath.

Judge Philip L. Sullivan in federal District court administered the oath of citizenship to 165 men and women yesterday. Many of them stayed in the courtroom and listened in amazement as he then ordered decrees revoking the citizenship of two German born army privates who had refused to bear arms against the enemies of the United States.

The soldiers, John Jack Irskens, 33 years old, formerly of 723 North avenue, and Norbert Bresky, 37, of West Caldwell, N. J., were in court in the custody of fellow soldiers from Fort Sheridan. They will be returned there, Maj. Sol Hoffman of the judge advocate's department told the court, and dishonorably discharged as morally unfit for further duty.

Unwilling to Fight Germany.

Bresky testified he came to the United States in 1922 and was naturalized in 1931.

"Are you now willing to bear arms against Germany?" Assistant United States Atty. Francis J. McGreal asked. "No, sir," Bresky replied.

"What did you come over here for?" Judge Sullivan commented. "Why didn't you go back right back right away? You were enjoying our liberty here, earning our money, and getting away from the hardships of a dictator nation. What do you expect of this country?"

Maj. Hoffman told the court Bresky had served an enlistment in the army during peace time, altho he was an honorary member of the Nazi party and a member of the German-American bund. He has a brother in Germany who was an organizer of the Nazi party in Danzig in 1934.

Wanted to Learn Trade.

"Why did you join the army in peace time?" the judge asked.

"To learn a trade," Bresky replied. "I like to soldier."

Irskens testified to coming to this country in 1929. He said that at the time he was naturalized he did not realize he was required to bear arms against Germany in the event of war.

McGreal produced an affidavit the defendant had made to officers at Fort Sheridan last fall. Quoting Irskens, he read:

"I firmly believe the United States was the one that brought on the war with Japan by aggravating them and denying them citizenship. Pearl Harbor was merely a military surprise and not a treacherous attack."

After their discharge from the army, the men will become enemy aliens and will be taken before the enemy alien hearing board. They will be interned for the duration of the war or kept under close surveillance, McGreal said. Before their discharge each will be entitled to collect back pay that has accumulated since their court martial.

CANADA TO GET 1ST SEAMEN FROM NEW BASE SOON

DEEP BROOK, N. S., July 7 (AP).—Canada's small but hard-hitting navy will soon get its first seamen, gunners, and stokers from a new 12 million dollar naval training base established here early this year.

First recruits arrived at the station late in June to begin an intensive 10-week training course. Altho construction of the 90 buildings, which will house the various schools, is not yet completed, there were at the end of June 3, 444 trainees, of which 147 were officer candidates and 60 WRENS taking specialized courses, in addition to 1,400 civilian construction workers.

Canada started the war with only a small number of ships but has assumed an ever-larger share of patrol and convoy work in the North Atlantic,

RUTH MITCHELL LASHES AT OWI POLICY ON SERBS

Washington, D. C., July 7 (AP).—Miss Ruth Mitchell, ardent supporter of the Serbian guerrilla Gen. Draja Mihailovic, has accused the office of war information [OWI] of taking sides in Jugo-Slavian politics, it was disclosed today, and Director Elmer Davis replied with what he termed a "general and complete denial."

Miss Mitchell, sister of the late Brig. Gen. William [Billy] Mitchell and a resident of Jugo-Slavia for many years, wrote Davis asserting that OWI is following a policy line favorable to Croats and inimical to Serbs.

Davis replied that American policy recognizes and supports a united Jugo-Slavia and "we have the greatest admiration for Gen. Mihailovic and for other Jugo-Slavs who are fighting the common enemy."

Miss Mitchell had charged that the OWI's policy toward "the fighting Serbs" was "nothing short of criminal" and was "strictly pro-Croat."

CALLS CHICAGO 'WARMEST HOST' TO OUSTED JAPS

Nearly 2,500 Find Homes with 'Minimum Fuss.'

Chicago is the nation's warmest and most generous host to the thousands of American citizens of Japanese ancesary being scattered thruout the country by the war relocation authority, Elmer L. Shirrell, midwest WRA director, said yesterday.

Shirrell said that nearly 2,500 Japanese-Americans have found work and homes in the Chicago area, and he took time out to praise both employers and the public in general for having absorbed them with a minimum of "fuss or friction."

Called Industrious Workers.

"All those who have been brought to Chicago, including a few elderly aliens who are dependent on their children, have, without exception, merited the trust and confidence the people here have placed in them," he said. "They are industrious and intelligent workers who take their places quietly in the community and ask nothing but tolerance of their new neighbors.

"Many, away from their native California for the first time, become homesick for a short while, but few complain and all tell us of the friendly spirit in which their presence is accepted.' All who can find jobs in war plants, altho we have placed perhaps 40 per cent on farms, where their skill is so vitally needed right now.

Servants in Demand.

"Employers who have put them to work invariably seek additional help from us. When a couple enters domestic service, in a few days we are asked for more by neighbors. We have requests for 500 more domestic servants than we can fill right now."

Shirrell said that about one-sixth of all those who have been sent out from the relocation centers have come to Chicago, but that plans to keep up the movement are threatened by the housing shortage here.

W. C. BAKER JR. WINS AIR MEDAL IN PACIFIC WAR

Lt. W. C. Baker Jr.

Lt. Walter C. Baker Jr., 24 years old, pilot of a P-38 [Lightning] fighter, has been awarded the air medal for heroic action, according to word received yesterday by his wife, Mrs. Ethel May Baker, 7717 North Marshfield avenue.

The information came in a personal letter sent Mrs. Baker by Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of allied air forces in the Southwest Pacific area. The letter said the award was made for Lt. Baker's participation in more than 25 operational missions in the fighting area from March 7 to May 27.

Lt. Baker attended the University of Illinois before enlisting in the air forces. He received his wings last August at Mission, Tex. and has been overseas for 10 months, Mrs. Baker said.

WRA HANDLING OF JAPS CALLED A SILLY SYSTEM

Washington, D. C., July 7 (AP).—Rep. J. Parnell Thomas [R., N. J.] said today he will introduce a bill to remove administration of war relocation centers from the war relocation authority to the army.

Addressing Dillon Myer, director of WRA, in a hearing of a Dies subcommittee on WRA's handling of Japanese, Thomas declared: "It is just a silly social experiment you are conducting."

Myer estimated 73,000 Japanese Americans or Japanese aliens over 17 years old have been taken into the war relocation centers, and "10 per cent of the males have refused to pledge allegiance to the government of the United States."

U-Boats Sink Nine Ships, Berlin Radio Claims

LONDON, July 7 (AP).—The Berlin radio reported today that German submarines had sunk nine allied ships totaling 53,000 tons "in recent days." Failure of the broadcast, which was recorded by the Associated Press, to give any details made comparison with allied reports of recent losses impossible.

Fitch Found

Policeman Orville Burkey with captured animal.

Dr. Clarence A. Neymann, chief of staff of the Cook County Psychopathic hospital, who lives at 53 East Elm street, early today said that the animal found at Elm and Clark streets by Harvey Cook, 4040 Broadway, a watchman, is his pet ferret Freddie. Dr. Neymann made the identification from its picture in early editions of today's TRIBUNE. Dr. W. A. Young of the Anti-Cruelty society, to which the animal was taken, previously had identified it as a fitch. It wore a collar by which Dr. Neymann hopes to make more certain identification today to regain custody of it. He said he bought Freddie about six months ago to kill rats in his war garden and that Freddie had been efficient at his task and friendly to all humans as well. The animal was taken to the Anti-Cruelty society by the Chicago avenue police, who got it from Cook.

WILMETTE FLYER HOME AFTER 50 BOMBING TRIPS

Mount Vesuvius, the Italian volcano, is proving an excellent smoke signal by day and a beacon by night for American bombers raiding Italy, Capt. William L. Condy, 1061 Oakwood avenue, Wilmette, said yesterday upon his return home after 50 bombing missions on axis territory in Europe and Africa.

Capt. Condy's forays included seven on Pantelleria. The seventh, he said, was directed against coastal defense guns and a few minutes later the Italians spread the white flag of surrender on the air field.

Sent to England last July, Capt. Condy joined in raids on France and Holland. He flew a Flying Fortress, Heinie Headhunter, to Africa last November and assaulted bases in Africa, Italy, and Sicily.

At home he met for the first time his daughter, Mercedes Mary, 4 months old.

JAIL 47 CHINESE FOR CLASH WITH JAPS AT CAMP

San Francisco, Cal., July 7 (AP).—Forty-seven Chinese internees of a federal detention camp at Sharp Park were taken to jail in army trucks today in the climax of a Chinese-Japanese dispute.

Irving F. Wixon, United States director of immigration here, said the Chinese put up a Chinese flag in front of their barracks and refused to remove it as demanded by 172 Japanese internees. The Japanese became threatening, Wixon said, and he was called to the camp.

The Chinese refused to take down their flag unless permitted to attend a San Francisco celebration of China's sixth war anniversary.

The Chinese are all deportation cases, seamen who have deserted their ships and have refused to return to sea.

SOLDIER BREAKS INTO HOME; KILLS GIRL AND SELF

Winona, Minn., July 7 (AP).—Detective Milton Bone said today a soldier, identified from papers as Pvt. Jack P. Vanness, 25 years old, Fort Leavenworth, Kas., killed a girl, 17, and then shot himself fatally.

The girl was Carolyn Kleckner, Farragut, Ia., who had been visiting her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Foley.

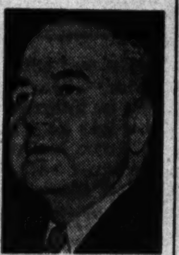
Bone said Mr. and Mrs. Foley told him the girl had been sent here by her parents to escape Vanness' attentions and that Vanness appeared, demanding to see her.

Refused admission, he broke in and killed the girl and himself, Bone was told.

NELSON DENIES CURB ON PAPER TO 'GAG' PRESS

Answers Maas' Charges; Says He's Misinformed.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]



Rep. Melvin J. Maas.

Washington, D. C., July 7.—Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the war production board today denied charges by Rep. Melvin J. Maas [R., Minn.] that the WPB is censoring the press by refusing to allocate paper for the publication of books and magazines which it deems unfavorable.

Nelson did not answer Maas' charges in detail, but promised to make a full report soon to a house subcommittee which is investigating the alleged paper shortage and activities of WPB's printing and publishing division.

Appeals To Be Made Public.

Meanwhile, Rep. Maas said Nelson has informed him that WPB will, in the future, make public the record of all appeals by book, magazine, and newspaper publishers for extra paper allotments, together with WPB's rulings on the appeals.

Such information has heretofore been withheld by WPB and, according to Maas, has opened the way for "secret control of the press." The congressman said Nelson's promised change of policy by WPB was satisfactory to him and would eliminate a danger to freedom of the press.

Maas told the house yesterday that the WPB publishing division had refused to allocate paper to a publishing firm when the firm said it intended to publish a book by Maas about the war in the Pacific.

Calls Maas Misinformed.

Nelson said Maas was "misinformed."

"Nothing resembling censorship is practiced, directly or indirectly, by WPB," Nelson said. "The existing system of paper conservation orders has been devised purposely to avoid any possibility of censorship.

"Publishers of books, magazines, and newspapers all have a quota equal to approximately 90 per cent of the paper they have been using in the past. Under the published orders of WPB they can print anything they choose on that paper.

"If publishers need paper in addition to their quota they file appeals with the printing and publishing division; in cases where undue hardship is proven relief is granted. This is done without any consideration of editorial comment."

REPORT BACKERS OF MONARCHY IN SPAIN PUNISHED

LONDON, July 7 (AP).—The German radio said today that disciplinary measures had been taken against members of the Spanish Cortes who last month wrote Generalissimo Franco asking that the monarchy be restored in Spain.

All the 25 signers of the message were understood to have been members of the Cortes, whose duty it is to advise the cabinet and chief of state and who enjoy parliamentary immunity. Some, at least, were members of the national council of the Falange, Spain's only party.

The petition to Franco asked that Prince Juan, the son to whom King Alfonso assigned the throne before his death in Italy, be returned from his present exile in Switzerland.

KNIFE BANDIT TAKES $6.

A Negro robber threatened Patrick Walsh, 45 year old elevated railway station attendant at 63d street and South Park avenue, with a knife yesterday and escaped with $6, he reported to police.

MARY LOUISE CURTIS BOK.

Rockport, Me., July 7 (AP).—Efrem Zimbalist, violinist, and Mrs. Mary Louise Curtis Bok, daughter of the late publisher, Cyrus H. K. Curtis, were married yesterday at Lyndonwood, the bride's summer home here. Zimbalist is 54 years old; his wife, 66.

The Russian born musician, whose first wife was the late Alma Gluck, opera and concert singer, is director of the Curtis Institute of Music, which was founded by the former Mrs. Bok, widow of Edward W. Bok, editor and author.

FOREMAN KILLED ON TRACK.

F. D. R. REPORTED ACTING TO END CABINET BATTLE

Talks to War Advisers for Two Hours.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 7.—President Roosevelt was believed to have studied the damage to his prestige and to have explored possible courses of action in the bitter feud between Vice President Henry A. Wallace and Secretary of Commerce Jesse H. Jones at a White House meeting with his war cabinet this afternoon.

The chief executive's summons to his war mobilization committee was regarded as indicating Mr. Roosevelt was taking a personal hand in the battle over who is to blame for delays in acquiring critical strategic materials.

It was believed that Mr. Roosevelt counseled his aids on means of effecting peace between the two embattled members of his official family before the feud can get completely out of hand.

Aim to Back Senate Quiz.

The administration moved yesterday to head off a congressional investigation of the row, which has been punctuated by shouts of liar and has spread from strategic materials to critical materials. By a party line vote of 6 to 5 the house rules committee tabled a resolution to investigate the controversy.

Meanwhile, administration forces in the senate were moving to table a similar resolution for an investigation by the senate banking and currency committee. Every effort was being made to have that group follow a party line vote in order to prevent Wallace and Jones from washing more dirty linen in public.

The war mobilization committee met with Mr. Roosevelt for more than two hours. None of the members of the committee would discuss the conference, which observers regarded as confirming reports that the principal topic of discussion was the sensational family dispute.

Members of the committee are Director of the Office of War Mobilization James F. Byrnes, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, War Production Director Donald M. Nelson, Director of Economic Stabilization Fred M. Vinson, and Harry Hopkins of the munitions assignment board.

Byrnes Peace Move Failed.

Byrnes tried in vain to bring Jones and Wallace together last week. It was reported that Jones refused to see the hand Wallace extended. The hand was offered in greeting to Jones by the head of the board of economic warfare, not to seal the negotiation of peace.

After the failure of this peace effort, Jones accused Wallace of lying and squandering public funds.

Mr. Roosevelt, who said he knew nothing of the Wallace attack on Jones until after it had been made, has not called the two members of his official family before him to demand an explanation for their brawling, as far as is known.

CANDY IS FIGHTING FOOD

Tons of confectionery go to our armed forces for use in field and emergency rations. Because our military men have high regard for the concentrated food and quick-energy values in high nutrition candies. On the home front, too, fine quality candies, such as Andes, play an important role—affording extra energy and reducing fatigue for war workers, civilian defense workers, and busy folks in every war effort. These fighting days demand extra "pep"—and wholesome Andes are such a wonderful source of added energy!

NAVY DEFENDS KNOX OIL DEAL; ASSAILS CRITIC

BY WILLIAM MOORE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 7.—The contract by which Navy Secretary Frank Knox gave an operating monopoly over the Elk Hills naval oil reserve to the Standard Oil company of California was defended today in a statement by the navy.

The statement rebuked Norman Littell, the assistant attorney general who pronounced the contract illegal and more far reaching than the contracts in the Teapot Dome oil scandals of the Harding administration. And the navy pictured the Standard Oil company as a business concern which had forgone immense profits to enter into the contract.

The statement said further that President Roosevelt had blocked the navy's plans to drill test wells for a determination of the value of the lands.

Cites Standard's Loss.

The navy statement scoffed at implications that the navy had not come off the better in the contract and said:

"The conclusion is inescapable that Standard Oil, by entering this contract with the navy, is giving up millions of dollars that it would otherwise make in profits."

As to Littell, the statement asserted:

"In his anxious haste to save the navy from being victimized by a shell game, he has evidently forgotten which shell the pea was under when he last saw it."

The statement was introduced with a preface by Adlai E. Stevenson, special assistant to Knox. It was addressed to the house public lands committee, which is investigating the circumstances of the contract.

F. D. R.'s Participation.

The statement said of President Roosevelt's participation:

"The secretary of the navy asked the President under date of Feb. 23, 1942, to release certain funds to drill test wells to develop additional data relating to the value of the lands in the reserve. The President replied by letter on March 21, 1942, stating that he doubted the advisability of drilling the proposed test wells and authorized the secretary to proceed with negotiations toward the purchase, if possible, of all lands lying within the geologic structure in which naval petroleum reserve No. 1 [Elk Hills, in California] is located."

Knox has ordered the contract canceled since the transaction has been under criticism.

Pursues Prowler Caught Trying to Open Latch

Mrs. Vera Fabian, 5114 North Wolcott avenue, yesterday pursued a young man with black curly hair down three flights of steps after he reached his hand thru her kitchen window in an attempt to open the latch. As the prowler fled, Mrs. Fabian recognized him as a man who had called on several days inquiring for a nonexistent tenant.

Cantor Abraham Kipper, 1250 Independence boulevard, said last night that he married Lt. Abraham J. Dreiseszun, 22 years old, army air force hero, and Miss Rose Lubin, 16, of 1551 South Karlov avenue. Mrs. Irving Green, the bride's mother, said the couple, first cousins, have been sweethearts since their childhood. Lt. Dreiseszun, a navigator aboard a Flying Fortress, participated in raids over Europe and North Africa and was awarded the air medal with nine oak leaf clusters and the distinguished flying cross. The officer and his bride will leave soon for an army base in Texas where he has been assigned as an instructor.

EDITOR ENTERS G. O. P. CONTEST FOR PRESIDENT

Covington, Ind., July 7 (AP).—The weekly Covington Republican says Wheeler McMillen, editor in chief of the Farm Journal, "will seek the nomination for President of the United States at the Republican convention next year."

The announcement followed a visit of McMillen to Covington, where he was editor of the Republican from 1914 to 1919. Born on a farm near Ada, O., 50 years ago, he now makes his home on a farm near Hopewell, N. J. His editorial office is in Philadelphia, Pa.

FUROR GROWING OVER CENTERS' OUSTER OF GIRLS

Dropped 'Vets' Plan 2d Protest Meeting.

Tension over the dismissal of 300 girls from the membership list of the Service Men's centers continued to grow yesterday as representatives of the center indicated the ruling would stand, to make room for some of the 10,000 girls on the waiting list who also want to dance with the soldiers.

This brought forth an announcement from the Service Men's Centers' Veterans—the girls who have been ousted—that they intend to fight to the finish for reinstatement. They will hold the second of their protest meetings at 7 p. m. tomorrow in the Hamilton hotel. The first attracted 30 dismissed women and five indignant sailors.

Thinks Ruling Fair.

Daniel L. Flaherty, administrative director of the centers, said that he thought the ruling, made by the girls' committee of the women's advisory board, was fair.

"It's only right that other girls should have the same privilege of serving that the original girls have had," he said. "Of course, they can protest if they wish. It's a free country."

The girls who have protested are those who began serving when the center was new.

Miss Clara Miller, 7623 Eberhart avenue, and Luella Van Bergen, 6827 South Sangamon street, are founders of the organization. They have working with them now a strategy committee composed of Miss Dagmar Hurbanek, 4407 Wisconsin avenue; Miss Dolores Smith, 5065 Pensacola avenue, and Miss Terry Podgorski, 4317 Henderson street.

All Are "Veterans."

The trouble started last week when the 300 girls received letters advising them to turn in their membership cards and pins so that others could have a chance to serve. Most of them had been with the center for two or more years, attending regularly. They say they are all above the minimum age of 18.

Miss Miller observed that the new girls weren't in such a hurry to join when there were more civilian men around.

MALTA TO RULE SELF AFTER WAR, STANLEY AVERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 7.—Colonial Secretary Oliver Stanley told parliament today that the British government intends to restore home rule to the Island of Malta after the war.

From 1921 to 1931, he said, the people of Malta enjoyed full legislative and administrative responsibility in the conduct of internal affairs. Control of naval and military services the government reserved to itself.

A resolution urging the British government to start immediate negotiations with the principal representatives of India for establishment of an Indian national government, was approved overwhelmingly today at the annual conference of the National Union of Railwaymen.

FARLEY LEAVES ON SIX WEEKS TRIP TO MEXICO

New York, July 7 [Special].—Democratic State Chairman James A. Farley left tonight for a six weeks business trip to Mexico, with stopovers planned in Chicago, Kansas City, Dallas, San Antonio, and El Paso. In response to a question as to whether the trip could not easily turn into a political trip, on which the fourth term for President Roosevelt could be discussed, and presumably opposed, Farley made it clear that he considered it too early to talk politics.

"This is not the time to talk politics," he said. "The people are concerned not only with the winning of the war, but with the problems they confront now and will confront after the war."

Asked if he would see former Vice President John Nance Garner in Texas, Farley said:

"I would never think of passing thru Texas without calling on my good friend John Garner, to pay my respects to him."

Kansas City, Kas., July 7 (AP).—A Detroit soldier in New Guinea, Pvt. Marvin Patrick Patton, was married by proxy today to Miss Evelyn Wagner, 28 years old, of 3210½ Sunnyside avenue, Chicago. District Judge Clark E. Tucker performed the ceremony with J. O. Emerson, an attorney, as proxy for the bridegroom.

The bride said she met Patton five years ago. They planned to be married last Aug. 1, when Patton was stationed at Camp Grant, Ill., but his departure changed their plans.

TAFT DEMANDS NEW DEFINITION OF FCC POWERS

Says Radio Rule Exceeds Intent of Congress.

Washington, D. C., July 7 (AP).—A new congressional definition of the authority of the federal communications commission over broadcasting was demanded today by Sen. Robert A. Taft [R., O.], who charged that an administration "passion for government control" threatens the freedom of both press and radio.

He cited the government's anti-trust suit against the Associated Press as an illustration of what he called "reckless disregard for freedom of the press" and asserted that it has been only "the ingrained insistence of our people that has prevented any great progress toward actual suppression of the freedom of newspapers and magazines."

Calls Control Too Close.

He called radio "the blood brother of the newspaper as an instrument of free speech" and said the broadcasters had been brought under closer control than congress had intended.

In a speech for delivery in the senate, Taft said a recent decision of the Supreme court has been interpreted as augmenting the authority of the FCC to regulate chain broadcasting "far beyond any intent of congress which can be read into the federal communications act by the average layman having some knowledge of its history.

He urged that the FCC suspend the exercise of these powers until congress can act, declaring:

"If congress feels that rules to prevent monopoly in the network field should be added, they should be made by congress and not by a subordinate agency of the government. And by no means should such regulations be allowed to open the door of government control of radio, as the act of 1934 is now interpreted by the Supreme court.

"The present administration has shown no concern for freedom of the press at home," he said. "The suit brought against the Associated Press under the Sherman act shows the attitude of the administration that the press and distribution of news shall be subjected to the same kind of rules as the manufacturer or the chain store.

"Reckless Disregard" Shown.

"Regardless of the legalities of the case, it is clear that the policy which directed the bringing of this suit is part of the general passion for government control, and those who brought it show a reckless disregard for freedom of the press."

Taft said radio regulations should be "limited to the essential rules necessary to prevent confusion in the air, decent expression, and the affording of facilities to all points of view."

"If speech is to be really free," he argued, "there must be freedom of every possible means of communicating ideas and views and principles and hopes, from one citizen to another, from one section of the country to another. It is only by free means of communication that a people can remain free.

"There is no freedom if these means of communications are owned and operated by the government."

FIND GAS RATION COUPONS WORTH 12 MILLION GALS.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 7 [Special].—The mystery of how gasoline rationing books, containing coupons worth 12 million gallons of gasoline, came to be in a creek near Veedersburg is being investigated by officials from the office of price administration state headquarters in Indianapolis.

James D. Strickland, director of the Indianapolis OPA district, said the books contained mostly T coupons, except that several were R coupons — for nonhighway vehicles. The coupons were found Monday by boys swimming in the creek.

Strickland said the coupons apparently had been stolen while being shipped to the Dallas, Tex., OPA warehouse from Washington. He indicated that many A, B, and C coupons had been taken at the same time and are being used in a black market operation.

VETO FOR BILLS TO EASE STATE JOB RULES SEEN

Springfield, Ill., July 7 [Special].—It was learned on good authority tonight that Gov. Dwight H. Green will veto the Davis bill, which would abolish educational requirements for state civil service employment. However, it was said, this action will be taken not because of thinly veiled threats by the federal social security board to shut off Illinois funds.

The social security program is administered in the state by merit employés, hence the federal authorities' interest. J. W. McCarthy, social security board regional director, today telegraphed Green that his Washington, D. C., office had said the bills would raise questions of conformity that "will require reconsideration of state plans for the administration of public assistance and unemployment compensation."

However, the governor had decided before the bills passed that they would not encourage a trend toward more education.

Baton Twirler

JOYCE THOMAS.

Joyce Thomas, 15 year old baton twirler of Watervliet, Mich., again is entered in the International Friendship Gardens Music Festival twirling contest, to be held near Michigan City on Saturday. She and a score of baton twirlers will perform that night at the annual festival concert at the Theater of Nations in the gardens. The show is a preliminary to THE TRIBUNE's 14th annual Chicago Music Festival, which will be held in Soldiers' field Aug. 21. Miss Thomas won first place in the junior baton twirling division last year at Michigan City and second place in the finals in Chicago.

FEWER FLIES FLIT ABOUT CHICAGO —IT SAYS HERE

"It's really been a terrible spring and early summer," said Dr. William J. Gerhard, curator of insects at Field museum, yesterday.

Terrible—for flies, he added. So terrible that yesterday the number of flies flitting over Chicago was so few that the fly swatter market had reached an all time low.

"The cool spring retarded the early fly population increase," said Dr. Gerhard. "Heavy recent rains are keeping the growth slow now."

Dr. Gerhard said that flies breed in manure and garbage. He said maybe improved garbage collection methods were reducing the fly population and suggested the city hall be consulted.

"Absolutely," said Commissioner of Streets Lloyd M. Johnson when given the opportunity to take credit for ridding the city of flies. "Our goal has been to collect garbage at least once a week. It has brought results."

"While there are not many flies at present, wait until August. Then we shall see."

And swat.

CHARGE LEWIS SEEKING STRIKE AT SPRINGFIELD

Officials of the United Farm Equipment and Metal Workers [CIO] charged last night in a letter to CIO President Philip Murray that John L. Lewis, "in his latest attempt to bring further disunity to our home front," was trying to bring about the second strike in a month at the Allis-Chalmers plant at Springfield, Ill.

Grant W. Oakes, president, and Gerald Fielde, secretary treasurer, of the UFEMW, said their union won bargaining rights in an election in June, 1942, that the national labor relations board dismissed last month a petition by Lewis' United Mine Workers, local 50, for a new election, but that the Lewis union declared a strike on June 15 and established a picket line.

Last week, the two men said, the labor board refused to accept jurisdiction of the dispute between the two unions and now, they said, Lewis' union is petitioning the labor board to conduct a strike vote.

JULY 4 OPA GAS CHECKUP LISTS 5,445 LICENSES

Report More than 800 as Violators.

Office of price administration agents investigated the driving of 5,445 motorists on the July 4 week-end for possible violations of gasoline rationing regulations, reports from 10 of the 18 district offices in the seven state region centered here disclosed yesterday.

Despite the fact that every OPA investigator not doing an essential job over the week-end was out on highways or city streets taking down license numbers of cars or questioning drivers, Raymond S. McKeough, OPA regional administrator, said the activity was "not a drive."

Checkup to Continue.

"It will be continued as long as it is necessary to get compliance with the gasoline rationing program," he said.

Of the 5,445 cars checked, McKeough said, 1,826 drivers were interviewed by OPA investigators, and violations were found in 821 cases. The license numbers of the other 3,619 cars were taken down by investigators and are being referred to local rationing boards.

The districts from which reports have been received are St. Paul, Duluth-Superior, Milwaukee, Green Bay, Springfield, Ill., Rockford, Peoria, Moline, Bismarck, N. D., and Des Moines, he said.

List Long Distance Drivers.

McKeough said license numbers were taken down where a motorist was observed a long distance from his home and in all probability could not be there without illegal use of gasoline. In the case of violations discovered as a result of personal interviews, reports also are being made to the local rationing boards which issued motorists' gasoline coupon books.

McKeough said that local boards will use their own discretion in setting a date for hearing on the complaints turned in, and will have final disposition of each case.

GIRL ACCUSER'S STORY FREES 3 IN RAPE CASE

Three youths were acquitted of rape and kidnaping charges yesterday by Justice of the Peace Clair Moore in court at the state police station at 135th street and Cicero avenue. A pretty young student nurse who had signed complaints against them testified under questioning of the youths' attorney, Harry Ditchburne, that she got into their automobile voluntarily and submitted in turn to their advances.

The young men are Jock McIntosh Jr. and Robert Nixon Jr., who live together at 2451 York street, Blue Island, and Hendry S. Bennett, who said he lived at a golf course operated by McIntosh's father at 131st street and 80th avenue, Palos Heights. Each is 17 years old and is employed at the golf course.

The girl, also 17, said the boys met her at a Blue Island hospital as she was going to work at 10 p. m. June 21. She rode with them to a golf course at Midlothian, where they parked the car on a lonely road. Sgt. Carl Relli of the state police, who testified he saw Nixon attacking the girl as he drove up to the car, was asked to point him out in court. He pointed to Bennett.

ROVING PICKETS KEEP 5,000 FROM WORK IN MINES

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 7 (AP).—Nearly 5,000 soft coal miners who planned to work today were kept from their jobs as roving pickets, including three women, closed eight southwestern Pennsylvania mines. In the state's anthracite areas the last 4,500 holdouts returned to work, but the picketing around Brownsville increased the number of idle miners to about 7,000.

John P. Busarello, president of United Mine Workers district 5, said the pickets were among the insurgent miners who at a three hour Brownsville meeting yesterday decided to try to enlist other miners in their "no contract, no work" campaign.

ARMY FUGITIVES AWAIT REMOVAL TO NEW JERSEY

Harry Lee Delettre, 20 years old, and Joseph Snedecker, 22, who escaped with five other men from the army air forces guardhouse at Atlantic City, N. J., a month ago, waived examination yesterday before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker and were held in $25,000 bail for removal to New Jersey. The two were alleged to have kidnaped an Atlantic City minister and robbed him of $300 after carrying him in his automobile to Reading, Pa.

FINE POLICEMAN $233.50 ON SALE OF FREE TICKETS

A transaction which netted Patrolman Maurice Levine of the Summerdale district just 75 cents yesterday cost him a month's pay, $233.50. The city civil service commission voted a 30 day suspension of Levine after finding him guilty of selling two tickets to a baseball game to service men last May 28. The tickets were among those issued by the United Service organizations for free distribution among service men. The charge was "conduct unbecoming an officer."

CONFEREES FAIL TO END DISPUTE ON SUBSIDY BAN

Hope of Early Agreement Seems Doubtful.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 7.—Reporting failure to reach an agreement after an all day session, house and senate conferees gave up this evening their attempts to find a quick and acceptable compromise settlement of the food subsidy controversy, which precipitated yesterday's senate uprising and threatened the life of the administration's 3 billion dollar Commodity Credit corporation.

They announced they will resume their work tomorrow morning but none was willing to predict when a report will be ready for final action by the two houses. This is the last major issue blocking the start of the summer recess, said the leaders, as differences over terms of other pending bills are expected to be ironed out within another day.

Senate Banned Roll-Backs.

In open rebellion against the office of price administration's price roll-back scheme, the senate passed a flat ban on the payment of subsidies by any government agency or corporation to hold down food prices notwithstanding the fact that similar legislation was vetoed by President Roosevelt last week.

The house, which sustained Mr. Roosevelt's veto, has merely passed a resolution continuing the CCC but making no mention of subsidies. Critics insist that this will open the way for virtually unlimited subsidy payments for roll-back purposes.

This led to reports that administration leaders are willing to delay action pending the return to the capital of several senators favorable to the roll-back scheme, whose votes are necessary to override the rebels in a final showdown.

Appropriations Tied Up.

Attempts of the two houses to get together on the terms of three outstanding appropriation bills, which must be sent to the White House before the weary legislators can begin their summer recess, bogged down during the day. Neither chamber showed any disposition to yield to the other.

The 2 billion 900 million dollar war agencies bill, carrying drastic cuts in funds for the OPA and the OWI, was returned to conference after the house refused again to accept a senate amendment requiring senate confirmation of all employes of 17 war agencies making $4,500 a year or more. A similar requirement in the 1 billion 239 million dollar labor department and federal security appropriation measure has left that legislation also hanging in the air pending agreement on some form of compromise, which will clear the way for final action on both bills.

Voting on a final deficiency appropriation bill, which contains funds for a number of government agencies covering the end of the last fiscal year, the house reaffirmed its intention of abandoning the federal crop insurance program as well as refusing to accept several other senate amendments.

ORDER 48 HOUR WORK WEEK FOR AUTO MECHANICS

A minimum work week of 48 hours will be established Aug. 1 in automotive repair shops of the Chicago area, William H. Spencer, regional director of the war man power commission, announced yesterday. The action, requested by representatives of both labor and management, is designed to extend supply of skilled automobile mechanics, of which there is a shortage estimated at 20 per cent.

The order covers Calumet, Waukegan, and Joliet-Fox valley areas in addition to Cook and Du Page counties. It applies to all shops with eight or more employes.

Employers must file schedules by July 15 showing what workers, if any, will be made available for other jobs when the work week is lengthened. Requests for exemption must also be filed by that date. Question of overtime pay for the additional hours must be decided between employers and employe representatives, Spencer said.

Observe Ceiling, Poultry Dealers Warned by OPA

Michael F. Mulcahy, Chicago metropolitan area director of the office of price administration, yesterday sent warning notices to 18 retail and one wholesale poultry dealers to cease ceiling price violations. The warnings said that court actions would be brought against the dealers to revoke their licenses to do business if violations continued. Four of the retailers are in Gary and the other retailers and the wholesaler in Chicago.

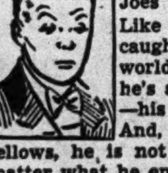
THE QUESTION.

How did you happen to create your cartoon character?

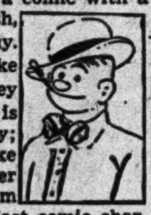
WHERE ASKED.

Tribune Tower.

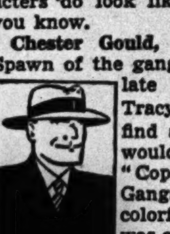
THE ANSWERS.



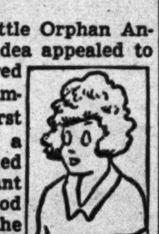
Milton Caniff, "Terry and the Pirates"—Terry Lee's inspiration is the normal American kid—the Buds and Joes at prep schools. Like them, he got caught in the swirl of world events. Now he's an aviation cadet—his obvious destiny. And, like his real life fellows, he is not disconcerted no matter what he encounters.



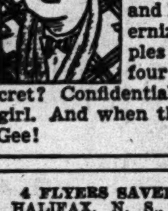
Frank Willard, "Moon Mullins"—The editors wanted a comic with a kind of tough, fresh, ordinary sort of guy. I wanted a job. I like the job. I hope they like Moon. Moon is not my autobiography; he doesn't look like me, either. Neither does Lord Plushbottom nor Uncle Willie. Most comic characters do look like their creators, you know.



Chester Gould, "Dick Tracy"—Spawn of the gangster days of the late '20s—that's Dick Tracy. You couldn't find a kid, then, who would play cop in "Cops and Robbers." Gangsters were too colorful. So Dick Tracy was created—an American combining the qualities of a Sherlock Holmes with the persistence of a Royal Mountie. As gangdom was broken, Dick's popularity grew.



Harold Gray, "Little Orphan Annie"—The orphan idea appealed to me because it offered a free and unencumbered spirit. At first the orphan was a sweet, curly headed boy called Orphant Otto. He was too good to be true; besides, the comic field was swarming with little boys. So I added a skirt—and there was Orphan Annie.



Carl Ed, "Harold Teen"—Penrod and Harold Teen are sorta brothers. At least "Seventeen" really inspired me to create Harold. Of course, that was in the horse and buggy days and I have had to modernize the age of pimples and passion thru four decades. The secret? Confidentially, it's boy meets girl. And when that happens . . . Gee!

4 FLYERS SAVED AFTER CRASH.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 7 (AP).—C. B. MacDonald of Kansas City, Mo., was one of four R. C. A. F. flyers rescued yesterday by a naval vessel after they had been afloat in a rubber dinghy for 24 hours in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The plane developed motor trouble and made a forced landing.

HORN OF PLENTY PICKED TO ADORN RATION BOOK 4

Already on Press; More Stamps Provided.

Altho war ration book 3 has not been mailed to millions of persons and will not be effective for three weeks, book 4 already is being printed, it was disclosed yesterday by the office of price administration, which said that book 4 will be bigger and contain more coupons than any of its predecessors.

Edward F. Stegen, regional rationing executive, said book 4 has lettered and numbered stamps, but no pictures except a cornucopia, or horn of plenty, on some of the coupons. Book 3 pictures some of the rationed articles on its stamps.

Stegen said he would attend a conference in Washington next week at which he hoped to learn whether the cornucopia might indicate a more liberal rationing policy, or whether book 4's increase in stamps might mean an extension of rationing to other articles.

More than 21,700 volunteer workers have mailed out 15,000,000 copies of book 3 in the seven states of the OPA region, leaving 3,000,000 more to go before July 15.

2d Cup Coming Back?

Extra cups of coffee in restaurants appeared to be in sight yesterday when the office of price administration authorized a coffee bonus for restaurants, hotels, large boarding houses, and other institutional users.

The bonus, available when the users apply for September-October allotments, will amount to 20 per cent of the total quantity obtained in the July-August allotment. The OPA said the bonus reflects an improvement in the shipping situation, which has permitted coffee stocks to reach the highest levels since rationing started.

Price of Salmon Cut.

The maximum price of Alaska Chinook canned salmon, packed in half pound cans, was rolled back from $12 to $10 a case at the canning level yesterday. The OPA said this will result in a decrease at the consumer level of about 6 cents a can.

DIFFER ON NEED OF REROUTING MICHIGAN BUSES

Divergent views on the proposed re-routing of motor coach traffic from Michigan avenue to La Salle street, between the river and Jackson boulevard, were placed before the Illinois Commerce commission yesterday.

Otto K. Jelinek, engineer of the Chicago park district, said his study of traffic showed that such re-routing of buses would appreciably ease congestion during rush hours.

Atty. Thomas C. Strachan, counsel for the Chicago Surface Lines, told the commission that Michigan avenue traffic, which declined after the start of gas rationing, had by no means reached the saturation point.

MRS. VIRGINIA ANDERSON.

Letters she wrote, but never mailed, to an unnamed soldier were ordered returned to Mrs. Virginia Anderson, 28 years old, 2236 Berwyn avenue, yesterday when Judge John F. Haas in Superior court granted her a divorce from Elmer, 30, on the ground of desertion.

Under questioning of Attys. Joseph H. and Norman Becker, the young woman, an insurance underwriter, testified her husband took the letters as she wrote them and would not return them. She said he still has them, adding he left her when she asked him Jan. 15, 1942, to choose between her and a girl he had courted prior to their marriage on July 29, 1939, and with whom he had resumed friendship.

She waived alimony, asking only the letters.

Rockford, Ill., July 7 [Special].—Earl Leroy Thompson, 38 years old, was sentenced to one to three years in prison today by Circuit Judge William A. Dusher when he pleaded guilty to embezzlement of $795 from the Lockwood Oil company here. He was a manager of a Lockwood oil station.

LAZY? NO! YOU JUST DON'T GET THE RIGHT DIET

N.U. Aids Find Vitamin B Complex Spurs Work.

A diet deficient in vitamin B complex reduces a person's capacity for work by inducing fatigue and causing loss of appetite, Dr. Clifford J. Barborka, Dr. Eliot E. Foltz, and Dr. Andrew C. Ivy say in an article in the July 10 issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association. Their findings were based on more than a year of research at Northwestern university school of medicine.

Modern bread was blamed for the basic loss of vitamin B complex, according to Dr. Ivy, the study of the doctors indicating that in producing finer flours the vitamin B complex in the hull of wheat is lost in milling.

Concentrate Spurs Work.

The article stated this conclusion: "There was definite decrease in the work output of the double work periods [of the students] shortly after the deficient diet was begun and there was a definite increase in work output following the addition of yeast concentrate to the deficient diet."

The deficient diet, which students ate for 82 days after subsisting on a normal diet for a year of surveillance, is "composed of common foods, such as might be found on the tables of about one-third or more of the population of the United States," they said. A breakfast menu on the deficient diet included: Orange juice, 100 grams; corn flakes, 15 grams; toast, 25 grams; butter, 25 grams; cream, 100 grams; jelly, 10 grams; sugar, 10 grams.

Energy Quickly Restored.

After the addition of thiamin and riboflavin [chief constituents of vitamin B complex] the doctors reported greater energy by all the students involved in the research.

"Use of natural foods to bring inadequate diets to the required levels is the ideal solution of the problem," they said. "Early mild cases of malnutrition, with no objective evidence of deficiency disease, do prevent maximal work efficiency."

BRITISH GRANTED 36 TO 48 CLOTHES COUPONS A YEAR

LONDON, July 7 (AP).—Britons will get a maximum of 48 clothing coupons and a minimum of 36 for the next 12 month rationing period starting Aug. 1, Hugh Dalton, president of the board of trade, said today.

The current issue of 60 coupons was originally intended for 14 months, but this was later extended to 15 months. Thus, unless the maximum of 48 coupons is allowed in the next issue, Britons will get less than the four per month of the current period.

Dalton said the price of clothing today is 70 per cent over pre-war figures.

WPB TO PERMIT METAL LICENSE PLATES FOR '44

Washington, D. C., July 7 (AP).—The war production board relaxed today its order against the production of motor vehicle license plates to permit states to manufacture one 1944 plate for each vehicle, instead of the customary two.

The order permits states to use metal on hand, or sheet and strip steel not heavier than 22 gauge and listed as idle or excess inventory with the Steel Recovery corporation. Specific authorization must be obtained from WPB to purchase the steel.

Many states have recently reported that license plates are becoming illegible and must be replaced.

STEEL PLANT MAKES IT SANS GRIT AND SWEAT

to the benevolent southern California elements.

A rough idea of the unorthodoxy of this plant may be obtained from its blast furnace and its coke ovens. The blast furnace here is the 97 foot milk bottle and goes by the fond name of "Bess" in honor of Kaiser's wife. Next door to it is a gigantic coke oven, two banks of 45 ovens each. A coke oven reduces coal to coke, and a blast furnace cooks limestone, iron ore, and molten coke together to get iron. They unquestionably are two of the hottest areas in the known world, yet sandwiched in between the two in this extraordinary place are velvety, green lawns, shrubs, and flowers.

The plant embraces so much land [1,350 acres] that it has turned 800 acres into a victory garden, with a great triangular bean patch growing triumphantly and blithely a small stone's throw from the open hearth furnaces. The vast acreage makes it possible for the plant to have what is known as a continuous straight line operation, or, in lay language, an assembly line. Coal, iron ore, and limestone go in one end. Steel and 250 by-products emerge at the other.

Assembly Line System.

Henry Kaiser Jr., a serious young man of 27 who is hailed by every one as "Hank," is assistant works manager of the plant. He modestly says it never could have been built without the aid of established steel companies — Republic, Bethlehem, United States Steel. He says it differs from other modern plants principally in its architecture, its ability to expand without upsetting its assembly line, and its 3½ mile conveyor system.

The latter is all important, for thru it man power is reduced. Everything goes by belt, most of it covered. Conveyors convolute over the place like an interminable roller coaster.

This starts with raw coal and iron ore. The iron ore, brought from a mine at Sunnyside, Utah, leased by Kaiser, drops from railroad cars into an underground hopper, is carried by conveyor belt into crushers, and thence to the ore storage area, from which it eventually goes bucking out by belt. Iron ore dust is carried by conveyor directly to a sinter plant. The coal, mined at a new Kaiser open pit mine at Kelso, Cal., comes by rail and begins a separate conveyor trek. Molten coke, molten iron, ingots, all go by conveyor belt. Samples of steel for laboratory analysis are shot from furnace to laboratory thru an adaptation of the department store tube.

Built with RFC Money.

The plant financed by a 83 million dollar RFC loan is making steel ingots now and has been since May 14, but it is not yet rolling steel. This will not begin until late August when the 110 inch plate mill, a gargantuan structure 1,100 feet long and 300 feet wide, is finished. Work is being concluded, also, on the merchant mill [where nuts and bolts will be turned out] and the structural steel mill, but the tar distillation plant, the only continuous one west of the Rockies, was completed in March, and four of six open hearths now are operating 24 hours a day.

Steel is steel, and a mighty thing, and to watch it made the old way or this genii way is like watching some one press a button and move the planets at will, but the most impressive facet to the lay visitor is the lack of dirt here.

Button Pressing Business.

Just how the plant gets rid of it is pretty involved; some of the dust they catch and cook up with other things; the gases they distill; everything they wash. But however they do it, it is effective, for the only dirt left around is that which blows in occasional gusts of dust from the ground being dug for new construction. They can do little about that other than to keep the ground dampened, but in time all the unused areas will be planted in a cover crop.

Right now several thousand men and women are employed here, many in the beautiful, low administration buildings, others in the $200,000 hospital, the bulk on construction work. But by the end of the year, when the plant is in full operation and tossing out its goal of more than half a million tons of steel a year, this will be cut to one-fourth. Most of these will be gentlemen in white coats who stand around and press buttons.

Swiss Decree Orders 2 Nazi Parties Dissolved

BERNE, Switzerland, July 7.—The Swiss federal council today officially decreed the dissolution of the Rassemblement Federal and the Nationale Gemeindschaft Schaffhausen, political parties representing the National Socialist [Nazi] movement in Switzerland. Their newspapers were also suppressed. The steering committees of these two groups, said semi-official comment, were charged with giving false information concerning activities of two party members executed for "giving information of a military value to a foreign power."

URGE REMOVAL OF PERILS NEAR CITY'S AIRPORT

Three industrial property owners in the vicinity of the Chicago airport will be asked by the city council committee on aviation and recreation today to remove voluntarily structures which the committee considers to be hazards to safe flight operations. The committee found the hazards during a survey made after the crash of an army bomber into a gas storage tank near the airport.

The structures are a smokestack at the Cracker Jack company, 4800 West 66th street; a water tower at the plant of the Diamond T Motor Car company, 51st street and Menard avenue, and eight silo type coal bins of the Airport Coal company, 5857 Archer avenue. The owners will meet with the committee at 10:30 a. m. in the city hall.

Another structure considered a hazard is the smokestack on the Mark Twain school, 51st street and Linder avenue. The board of education agreed to lower the stack if priorities for needed blowing equipment could be obtained.

YOUNG FARMERS DO CHORES FAST FOR A DAY'S FUN

Fred Mahler of Des Plaines, a farmer, has found a method for keeping the boys and girls on the farms this summer.

Mahler gathered 30 youngsters of Maine township, who are working on surrounding farms this summer, and brought them into the city for a day's outing. The first stop on the program was the army ordnance-Tribune show in Tribune Square where the group spent more than an hour examining the newest weapons and equipment. A tour of the loop followed and then an afternoon on the rides in Riverview park.

"Young boys and girls won't mind working on farms this summer if they know that they can have a day's fun in the city now and then," Mahler stated.

CONSULTANTS.

Men between 38 and 55 years of age who have had at least 10 years of experience recently as negotiators of contracts, who know how to analyze balance sheets and profit and loss statements, and who have a general knowledge of the functions and activities of accountants and lawyers in the field of contract negotiations may be able to qualify for a commission in the army as "price adjustment officers."

The general duties of accepted candidates will be to analyze and renegotiate war department contracts. This activity demands the services of men able to weigh the numerous factors affecting the contractor's operations and profits, his contribution to the war effort, the financial risks involved, the financial structure of the organization, the quality and quantity of production, etc.

Executives of manufacturing concerns, banks, insurance companies, and investment companies, and lawyers, engineers, and other professional men with general corporate business experience would be promising candidates. Candidates should have had annual earnings in excess of $10,000. The basic qualifications were given in yesterday's column and these should be consulted before applying at the Chicago officer procurement district office, 20 North Wacker drive.

The army's post-war military government series describing commissions available in the provost marshal general's office, which appeared in this column, is available in mimeograph form upon request accompanied by a self-addressed envelope.

H. S. A. writes: "Is there any interest or activity in the direction of enlisting men who have had a great deal of experience as mountaineers or skiers? Where would one go to get such information?"

ANSWER: Men who are experienced skiers, mountaineers, northwoodsmen [including woodsmen, guides, timber cruisers, etc.], who have exceptional stamina and the ability to live and take care of themselves in the mountains, are being sought by the army. The recruiting is being handled jointly by the war department, national ski patrol system, and the National Ski association. Applications are available from a representative of the ski patrol system. John B. Carson, room 1901, 111 West Washington street, Chicago, handles applications in Illinois; A. J. Barth, 3742 West Galena street, Milwaukee, takes care of applicants in Wisconsin; Mrs. Jayne Heibel, box 624, Marquette, Mich., is the representative for Michigan. Letters of qualification from the National Ski association will be honored at all army reception centers.

F. H. K. asks: "Can I mail a package directly to my cousin being held prisoner in the United States or does it have to go thru Red Cross?"

ANSWER: You may send it to him directly. It will be censored at the camp.

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

WEDDING TRIP OF MAHARAJAH STRIKES A SNAG

Reno, Nev., July 7 (AP).—The wealthy, British educated maharajah of Indore and his new maharani, the former Euphemia Watt Crane, ran into automobile trouble and spent the first night of their honeymoon in an auto court.

Their car broke down in Carson City, 30 miles south of here, shortly after the Indian prince and his bride started on a honeymoon trip to southern California. As a result the couple spent the night in a Carson City Auto court's "honeymoon cottage."

The maharajah and his bride, who obtained divorces from their respective spouses within two hours of each other yesterday and were married last night, planned to start their honeymoon trip again tomorrow.

HAMILTON, Bermuda, July 7 (AP).—Harry Sousa, 23, convicted rape-slayer who enjoyed a brief period of liberty yesterday when he escaped from the Hamilton jail two hours before he was to have been hanged, was dropped thru the trap this morning. Sousa was convicted of raping and murdering Margaret Stapleton, daughter of an English clergyman, two years ago.

After his escape he was the object of an island-wide manhunt in which United States army and navy officials coöperated. A clothing merchant discovered him hiding in a water front cave.

Through the dark of night, and the heat of day, America's plane spotters have kept their lonely watch. Theirs is a job without recompense, without glory, without even the thrill of danger—yet they have kept to their posts. But there are times, when the fog rolls in or the skies are dark, that even the keenest human eyes are not enough. Then, along our shores and about our cities, we can depend on electronic sentries to scan the skies.

RADAR is America's best plane spotter. Like the bat, which is equipped by nature with one of the most remarkable sets of blind-flying "instruments" known to man, radar can operate "blind" in night and fog. Waves from electronic tubes, incessantly scanning the skies, can "feel" through the dark the approach of an enemy plane.

Radar, and the Spitfires, stopped the Stukas in the skies over England in 1940. Radar, helping to direct the fire of an American warship in the Pacific, enabled it to hit a Japanese warship 8 miles away in pitch darkness.

Yet radar is no more miraculous than your radio set. It is simply the application of principles discovered many years ago. Many scientists and engineers—in this country and in Britain, some working alone, some in the Army and Navy, many in college and industrial research laboratories—played a part in its development. And General Electric was one of the first and most active in this field.

This was only natural. For, when in 1940 the Navy requested G.E. to begin the manufacture of radar equipment, we had been for more than 20 years engaged in the development and manufacture of the kind of electron tubes, circuits, and apparatus that makes radio, and radar, possible. Additional manufacturing facilities were started at once. And today, General Electric is supplying this equipment in quantity for the Army and the Navy.

Electronics is a Peacetime Science: We know it best through radio, a great and essential industry. But electronics works in almost every other industry, too—measuring in millionths of an inch, converting electric current to heat steel furnaces and to refine aluminum and magnesium, seeing through inches of steel, protecting property and human lives, regulating lighting. And electronic controls enable women to do many complex jobs in industry, releasing men for war.

But the destiny of electronics is not to replace—it is to add to the products and services we enjoy, and to make easier our ways of obtaining them. Things like television merely await the war's end. And in the electronic laboratories of today are the seeds of other, of new and undreamed-of benefits for tomorrow. General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

SOME PEACETIME USES OF ELECTRONIC TUBES

Home Radio · X-Rays · Elevator leveling · Textile, steel, and paper mill control · Television

What is Electronics, Anyway?

1. What is an electron?

The electron is one of the fundamental particles of matter and electricity. Electrons are part of atoms; atoms make up molecules. And molecules, in turn, make up all the matter in the world, and in the universe of which the world is but a small part. The electron is far too small to be seen, even with the best microscopes. Thirty thousand trillion trillion electrons would weigh less than one ounce! Electronics is the science of electrons.

2. Who discovered electronics?

No one person. Electronics has grown as the result of the work of many scientists, in many countries, over the past 60 years. It is growing faster today than ever before, as scientists learn more about electrons and how to use them.

3. What is the difference between an electronic tube and a radio tube?

A radio tube is one of the many kinds of electron tubes. They are as varied as the jobs they do. Some are small as a thimble, others big as a man. Some are vacuum tubes, others contain rare gases. Some are made of glass, others of steel. New types are being developed all the time.

4. Is television an electronic development?

Yes. So is the radio, the X-ray, radar. Electronic tubes work in the long-distance telephone; they control important processes in industry; they count and sort and safeguard. New uses are being found almost every day.

5. What does electronics promise for the future?

Many things. New products and services, new medical tools to help safeguard human health. Perhaps equally important, it will give us a tool by which we can make things faster, better, and cheaper, so that we can all afford more of them.

Do you admit that the American Revolution was the greatest event in the history of human progress?

WE REPEAT A QUESTION.

A week ago we addressed a question to Union Nowers, New Dealers, One Worlders, and all other zealots of the sort. We asked whether they believed as we do that the American Revolution was the greatest political event in the history of human progress.

A week has passed and tho they are highly articulate people they haven't answered. We conclude that they don't dare put themselves on record. They do not want to say no, because to do so would be to deny their own country's leading role in the story of man's achievement. They do not want to say yes, because that would constitute an admission that our national independence has been and is a boon to mankind; if they said yes, it would follow that the surrender of our independence, as required by all their various schemes, would be tragic folly. Accordingly they remain silent.

We're going to print the unanswered question at the head of this column not only as a reminder of the lack of candor on the part of the propagandists of internationalism but also as a reminder to the American people of what is really at stake in all these proposals for subordinating the United States.

And we're going to ask some more questions. Another one will be presented on this page tomorrow.

HAGUE'S PALS.

The official spokesman for the Communist party in New Jersey has ordered his followers to give their full support, without qualification, to Boss Hague and his machine.

The incident serves as a reminder, if any were needed, that the alliance of the New Dealers with the Communists is still operative and, in fact, is more binding than it has been at any time in the past.

Hague has richly earned his position in this country as the symbol of corruption and the denial of civil rights. At his instance labor organizers were not only forbidden to speak at public meetings in his bailiwick but were not even permitted to enter it. He maintained this tyranny until it was broken by action of the federal court. He is the central figure in a long series of vote frauds and his raids on the public treasury have been notorious. It is this man and the New Deal machine he directs which have just received the indorsement of the professional defenders of the downtrodden and the exploited.

The incident serves, of course, to illustrate again the Communists' disregard for decency and common honesty.

The indorsement serves another purpose. It shows that the New Deal is becoming more and more dependent upon such elements for support. Decent men were long ago revolted by the New Deal's buying of votes with public money. Sensible men have long been aware of the dishonesty of the New Deal's fancy promises. The nation has turned against Roosevelt, as the election last November proved and as congress is beginning to realize. In their last desperate effort to retain power, the New Deal party turns to the Communists and the Communists go all out for the New Deal.

A THREAT TO THE PRESS.

The war production board has ordered newspapers to reduce their use of newsprint about 5 per cent during the present quarter of the year. From the standpoint of available supplies the excuses for the cut are flimsy, to say the least. Any excuse would do, because the purpose of the cut is not to help in winning the war but to assist Mr. Roosevelt's campaign of harassment by which he seeks to destroy the freedom of the press.

The newsprint cut is of a piece with the President's and Elmer Davis' recent attacks on the newspapers for reporting the quarrels among the New Dealers.

The order for the newsprint reduction has been in the making for some time. As the New Deal case was finally shaped up, the reduction was ostensibly requested by the army and navy. Their only conceivable interest in newsprint is that wood pulp, from which it is made, is also used to make explosives. However, the explosive plants have not suffered any shortage of pulp nor will they, naturally. The army and navy do not know anything about making newsprint, nor have they any facilities for making an intelligent appraisal of the supply. They were used merely to give a pseudo-patriotic disguise to the latest move in Mr. Roosevelt's vendetta against the press.

On grounds of national policy the intervention of the army and navy is doubly obnoxious. Great care was taken in the Constitution that our fighting forces should be at all times subject to civilian authority and control. Political bosses are now attempting to use them to interfere in civilian affairs—the very thing against which the founders of the nation attempted to protect us.

The cuts in newsprint production are not uniform, since the WPB retains the prerogative of granting exceptions. During the first half of this year these exceptions amounted to about half of the contemplated saving in newsprint consumption. Rep. Maas of Minnesota charged in congress that paper allotments are being used to coerce publishers of books and magazines. He said that publishers who contemplated articles critical of the New Dealers' conduct of the war have been threatened with reductions in their paper supply that would put them out of business. He himself served a tour of duty in the Pacific theater and undertook to write a book on what he saw there. He charges that the publisher who contemplated bringing out his book was told that he could have no paper for that purpose.

Mr. Maas says the attacks on the freedom of the press in the magazine and book field are only a preliminary to similar attacks on the newspapers, attempts to control what they print by denying paper to publications that offend the administration. Congress has in existence a committee on newsprint use which did yeoman service some months ago in preventing an unjustified reduction in allotments to newspapers. Mr. Maas should give his information to this committee.

SORCERER'S APPRENTICES AND OUR FOOD.

Some great manmade or foolmade misfortune will strike this country if opportunities are not denied persons who misuse them in their own bewilderment, confusion, or ignorance. For purposes which could be argued as good or necessitous, and which also can be egotistical and doctrinaire, the government has undertaken to change all the currents of life.

Regulations and decrees have been substituted for the sensitive and delicately articulated system of prices and profit to which all the markets were geared, to which all the people were accustomed. Every habit and instinct of doing business, either as producer or purchaser, has been upset. The customary expectations have been canceled out all along the line from the source of supplies to the final stage of consumption.

To find a substitute for the automatic actions of the price system requires genius. The best equipped men in the country, with every advantage given them, might make serious blunders for which the people would pay. A mistake in one particular as to one commodity may throw an entire line of production out of gear and keep supplies from the market, altho there may be plenty of material at the source.

For instance, the consumers in many parts of the country are now finding it difficult to get beef, altho there is a great surplus of range cattle which the feeders are unable to handle. They say that they find the doctrinaires of the government entirely indifferent to them and that they have been told that they have been disregarded in governmental planning. The violent disputes between high officials in Washington and the short time that many men find it possible to hold their positions are indicative of the confusion prevailing in the administrations and authorities charged with the responsibility of seeing that commodities reach the people.

Mr. Roosevelt, with characteristic petulance, has tried to hold the newspapers accountable for the dissensions, altho he could easily discover that publicity is given to only a part of the controversies. The newspapers generally are not unfriendly to the men who are trying to do what may be the impossible, and some of the mischief makers are so relatively obscure, altho very powerful, that personal responsibility seldom attaches to their names. Once in a while some investigator digs into the complicated machine and discovers that fiats governing the elementals of production have proceeded from the brains of young doctrinaires working in a vacuum and applying rules they have invented. They may be rich in statistical averages and barren of facts.

Whoever undertakes to put his rules as to prices into effect, substituting them for laws which have automatically governed the whole scale of production, will find that one miscalculation has bungled the entire scheme. Or if his orders conflict with the orders of another official, the same disastrous results can be obtained. We have already had enough experience to know that bad administration can build barriers between available supplies and the needy consumer. Sections of the country have already had a closeup lesson in what it means to do without necessary food commodities. The family purchasers know what it is to go to market and find they can't buy foodstuffs they needed.

New elements of chance which can't be attributed to the needs of war are entering the domestic economy. The public hasn't expected to continue a way of life untouched by the waging of a great war overseas. But the condition of the American markets is not now determined by the war necessities but by the complete confusion which prevails in the government agencies of control. The subject matter is entirely outside Mr. Roosevelt's comprehension. He believes in phrases. He can order lines held and prices rolled back and the home front steadied, but he relies on medicine men and political voodoo. His cure for the disorders created by a dozen administrative authorities is to think up a 13th.

Ill-judged interference with natural laws can easily bring this country to an insufficient diet. Inflation isn't the only misfortune which may come upon the country. The food supply is already in a thoroly disorganized condition, as every provider is beginning to realize. If Mr. Roosevelt is taking any advice, no good consequence is yet apparent, and it is conceded that the prospects promise worse to come.

SPEAKING OF SPEAKERS.

[Illinois State Register.]

Being speaker of the Illinois house of representatives is anything but a soft snap. By the broadest stretch of the imagination, one would not associate the lion taming proclivities of the speakership with a vacation. It's a man's job which has doomed a number of reputations and added luster to others.

Speaker Elmer J. Schnackenberg, who has announced that he will not be a candidate for reelection to the house and that his service as speaker will thus end with his present term, is one of the luster winners.

Springfield and the State Register have always found the speakership of the Illinois house a fascinating study. Names of many former speakers echo down thru the years, beginning with John Messinger, who was speaker of the lower house of the first Illinois general assembly in 1818. Following are such resounding names as William R. Morrison, Shelby M. Cullom, Elijah M. Haines, Clayton E. Crafts, Edward C. Curtis, Lawrence Y. Sherman, John H. Miller, Edward D. Shurtleff, Charles Adkins, Dave Shanahan, John P. Devine, and Hugh J. Cross.

This list does not include all of them, but is cited to spotlight certain great figures who loomed big in the public eye like Shelby Cullom who became governor and senator; L. Y. Sherman, who became United States senator; Edward D. Shurtleff, who became a state judge.

Certainly not to relegate him to the list of the past, but to emphasize his fairness of the present, and thruout his years as speaker, the State Register adds to that notable roster the name of Elmer J. Schnackenberg.

IN HEARTS THAT WAIT.

'Tis time to bid the brave farewell.
He goes, but we must wait until the night is gone.
Nor can we tell how far from home
Our flag will lead him on Ere Peace, tomorrow comes.

He lives the while, in hearts that wait at home
With faith and fears,
And days may grow to months
And months to lagging years
Ere he shall look on loving eyes again.

Parting at best is underlaid with tears—
With tears and pain.
And so for all that yet may come between
Of time or fate,
Clasp with pressure true the hand of him who goeth forth,
Unseen, Fate goeth too!

Think, then, some earnest word to say
Between the idle talk;
So he may know that always, night and day,
You with him walk.

"They've Been Somewhere."

The girls from out of town were trudging back toward the railroad station. The holiday was almost over. Their gay linens might be crushed a little, their perky hats minus a daisy or two, but the girls were still jaunty, were still trying to have fun. Window shopping on State street at dawn, Jackson park, cokes, the Art institute, Lincoln park, cokes, a bus ride all the way to Howard street and back, lunch in the loop, the war weapons show, cokes, a movie, window shopping on State street at dusk!

"Everything's been fun, of course," said the little brunette.

"Yes," answered the pretty red-head, "but not fun like last year and the year before. Johnny and Dave were with us then."

"Johnny and Dave." The words were thoughts, gentle and wistful, rather than spoken sounds.

"Nothing's much fun without the boys. But we'll have something new to write them."

"Yes, we've been somewhere, too. They can keep their Africa, Johnny and Dave can. We'll take Chicago." Her voice trembled a little as she continued, "This blister on my heel is simply killing me." Rachel Albright.

IN THE ARMY NOW.

He will start doing things
He instinctively loathes—
The first of which
Is hanging up clothes.

He will even achieve
(But a tough goal to win),
The knack of keeping
His shirttail in.

What use his technique,
Tho it was a honey,
Of drawing ahead
On next month's money?

And he will soon learn,
My head almost reels,
To be right on time
For all of his meals.

I am proud, as his dad,
But I wish I knew how
To learn for myself
Not to miss him so now.

The Answer to Leghorn.

How about Leghorn, the outlandish name for the swell-sounding Livorno, repeatedly bombed city on Italy's west coast? Florence, Naples, Venice, and Rome for Firenze, Napoli, Venezia, and Roma are nice and understandable, but Leghorn for Livorno sounds strange, a poor distortion. When did that word come into English use? Sure, it is in the Britannica, but nothing is learned about its etymology. I never heard it in 30 years in Europe and much travel thru Italy, certainly never in Tuscany.

Tanti saluti! Zimie.

[First remember that English business was strongly established there, and the way of an Englishman with a place-name is often past finding out. But in this case they did not distort the name. The city's early—16th and 17th century—name was Legorno. The present Italian name, Livorno, comes from the city's ancient Latin name, Liburnus.]

How to Keep Well By Dr. Irving S. Cutter

BURSITIS, A PAINFUL EPISODE.

RECENTLY the number of cases of bursitis has increased markedly. This may be explained by the fact that many individuals are engaged in new types of activity. In consequence, they are obliged to employ different sets of muscles or they use more vigorously those which have not been given a real workout.

What is a bursa? It is a thin-walled fibrous sac lined with a membrane which secretes fluid. Scores exist thruout the body and they will be encountered between structures which glide over one another, such as muscles and tendons.

They are found frequently in the vicinity of joints, lying between the bone and the soft parts. They are designed to defeat friction, relieve pressure, and aid the smooth operation of the "pulleys."

How can they cause pain? They may be injured or harbor inflammation. Irritation may bring on swelling and, when infection enters the picture, we are confronted with a problem. The diagnosis is made because of the presence of tenderness and distress on movement. If nothing is done, and the mass continues to enlarge, a substantial protuberance will ensue. The old joke about housemaid's knee is not funny. The bursa in front of the patella [kneecap] may bulge like a horn.

What can be done when disability arises? First, pressure should be eliminated. A thick pad covering the affected area, with a hole large enough to accommodate the projecting portion, will protect against further damage. In addition, hot packs are employed and a solution of potassium iodide may be given by mouth. As the tumor recedes, the bandage may be tightened until the region returns to normal.

But now and then one of these sacs will prove resistant and it may be necessary to extirpate it surgically, with the aid of local anesthesia. With the source of irritation out of the way, nature will develop a new pad if needed.

A common site of trouble is the shoulder joint. Here a bursa as large as the palm of the hand lies beneath the deltoid which forms the cap of the upper arm. Sometimes deposits of lime are laid down, resulting in symptoms involving the head or the neck. Fortunately, this toxic condition usually yields to rest and heat. If flecks of calcium exist, however, they may require removal.

So-called miner's elbow comes about whenever the site is struck repeatedly. This may happen when the employé is working in close quarters. The difficulty can be recognized because a rounded, fluctuating prominence appears on the outer aspect of the joint.

Radiohumeral bursitis is known as "tennis elbow." This "knob" is located between the tendon which controls the muscles of the fingers and other structures in the forearm. It becomes irritated by violent strain at the wrist, with the back of the hand straight and the fingers clenched. Incapacity may persist for weeks or months. The remedy is rest—aided by snug supports and heat.

Despite the suffering that may follow an insult to one of these devices, we can scarcely do without them. If they were all taken away, every movement would be accompanied by protesting squeaks and creaks.

REVERIES DISTURB WORK.

J. D. writes: A man of 60, while doing figuring or similar types of work, has fleeting memories. He stops in the middle of his job and thinks about a place he has visited, or other past impressions. What causes this condition?

REPLY.

Loss of memory and lack of ability to concentrate may be signs of poor circulation to the brain. Hardening of the arteries may be a factor. The remedies are adequate rest, good elimination, water drinking, and a balanced diet not too high in calories.

HAIR PULLER.

G. P. writes: My sister is almost bald because she is always pulling hair out of her head. What kind of a disease is this?

REPLY.

Not a disease, but a mighty bad habit, pointing to lack of control, poor training, etc. Give her something to do—knitting, crocheting, needlepoint, etc. Similar to finger nail biting but somewhat more aggravated.

BRAIN TEST.

A. K. writes: I have read of an instrument which records electrical waves or vibrations of the brain. Is this used in the diagnosis of mental disorders?

REPLY.

To a minor extent only. Chiefly in epilepsy.

PERPETUAL CHANGE.

Chicago, July 5.—There is one fundamental principle that seems to have been forgotten—perpetual change. That holds true for national boundaries. Boundaries will change and any government or organization that tries to stop it is fighting nature.

The foreign relations committee and the state department propose to commit us to an international organization that will stop aggression. That means keeping the different populations within their present limits. Perhaps they are willing to let friendly nations expand and not others. That would be more in the line of possibilities.

But to stop all expansions or aggressions—page King Canute. If the United States persists in keeping the status quo we are headed for disaster sooner or later.

To keep the population of the world static is impossible. It will either increase or decrease. Consequently there will be expansions and contractions, victories and defeats, until the change in population is adjusted.

HENRY NITSCHE.

MR. THOMAS ON UNION LAWS.

Rockford, Ill., July 4.—I am a faithful listener to the Northwestern Reviewing Stand on Sunday morning. On June 27 the discussion was on the new labor law which had just been passed over Mr. Roosevelt's veto. As an excuse for labor not keeping 100 per cent its promise not to strike for the duration, Mr. Thomas of the CIO made the statement that, human nature being what it is, there were always some irresponsibles who could not be controled. He added that no one suggested that marriage was not a success because there were divorces.

Later Mr. Thomas admitted that most of this law went right along with present labor practices and was asked why, under those conditions, he and other labor heads opposed it. His reply was that voluntary coöperation, in his mind, was better than legal force. And no one took him back to his allegory about marriage and asked him if he thought that would work better if there were no laws backing up its voluntary promises.

GREAT POSSIBILITIES.

Lyons, Mich., July 1.—Now that the President has proposed to draft strikers for service in the army and afterward send them back to their civilian jobs on army pay, I wonder whether this idea could not be amplified so as to extend to persons who may not have paid their taxes in time, or to opponents of the government in general. All that would be required would be that the draft age be extended to 65 or 75 years, and to women as well as to men, and the balance left to the discretion of the executive.

The scheme might be used to raise additional revenue, inasmuch as the government might collect the wages earned by a man drafted in this manner, and merely pay him a soldier's pay.

AXEL HOLST.

ON SELLING BONDS.

Oshkosh, Wis., July 2.—In his letter of June 27, M. D. stated that because of stupid OPA actions his, or her, family is cashing in war bonds to finance a vacation in the north woods. I agree that OPA is stupid and high handed, but I fail to see why the fighting men should suffer because of it. To cash in war bonds for a vacation is not only selfish but it approaches the stupidity of the OPA itself. Why not add a hundred bucks to the bond fund and spend your vacation at home?

BOB FAUSTOM.

SEN. THOMPSON REPLIES.

Galesburg, Ill., July 3.—The editorial in today's TRIBUNE under the caption "Bills to Encourage Incompetence" apparently alludes to H. B. 75. This bill inserts in paragraph 6 of the civil service act the following language: "No person shall be required, as a prerequisite to taking any [civil service] examination or being appointed [by the civil service commission] to any position, to have been graduated from any school or to have completed any designated number of years of school work."

This does not preclude the requirement that applicants for appointment to professional or technical positions be trained and licensed to practice a particular profession or skill. Attorneys would still be required to hold a license issued by the Supreme court; engineers, architects, physicians, etc., licenses issued by the department of registration and education, as now required by law. Thus the change does not, as stated in the editorial, "make it legally possible to put a sewer laborer in the post of sanitary engineer."

The statute now provides that the civil service examinations "shall be practical in their character and shall relate to those matters which will fairly test the relative capacity of the persons examined to discharge the duties of the position to which they seek to be appointed." H. B. 75 will make this examination the determining test. No longer will the commission refuse to examine those whose skill, knowledge, and ability [even tho superior] were acquired thru experience and practical training rather than attendance at school. This bill does not "make hash of civil service," but gives it real force and vitality.

No one would approve the appointment of a returned veteran, or of any other person, to a position for which he is not qualified. Neither should any citizen be refused the right to establish his capacity and ability by taking our civil service examinations.

WALLACE THOMPSON.

WHY HAROLD IS THAT WAY.

Chicago, July 5.—One explanation of how Mr. Ickes arrived at the sum of 12 trillion dollars for the wealth of the United States is that he is a philatelist as well as No. 1 Something Else. Did you ever hear stamp collectors talk? It mostly runs: "I got this, worth ten dollars catalog, and you ain't got that." And when it figures out as to what it actually is worth, you can get it free if you buy 15 cents' worth of Spanish picture stamps for a quarter.

The over exaggeration of value that is inherent in stamp collectors must be the answer to some of his wild guesses. The only practical New Dealer was James Farley when he sold about a million dollars' worth of stamps to the greatest sucker market in the world.

T. N. WELLEST.

NEW DEAL CIRCUS.

Chicago, July 5.—We used to hear a good deal about the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, but what is this Jones-Wallace circus recently organized at Washington, D. C.? Is it coming to Chicago? Will there be trained seals? I love trained seals.

L. J. K.

CAN'T USE HIS STOVE.

Chicago, July 4.—In the last nine years I have used gas seven of them for heating purposes.

Lately I found it necessary to move. On calling the gas company for a change in service from one apartment to another I was informed that if I moved my portable spare heater to my new apartment I could not have the gas turned on. I have no coal or wood stove. A representative of the gas company urged me to sell my heater to the new tenant if possible; if not, then I should store it. If I do this I will have to go out and get a new stove. Before I can do that I have to get a priority, making me spend a day or so from my defense job going from one office to another, then taking a stove off the market unnecessarily. I have a good stove, but I am unable to use it due to New Deal order L79. It is about time such bungling was put to an end.

ANTHONY SEDZICLASZ.

FEARS ANOTHER FARCE.

Chicago, July 2.—I'm wondering. Are we voters expected to go thru another farce in the coming Presidential election?

Surely it couldn't happen again that Wendell Willkie will even be allowed to have his name mentioned as a candidate.

Every one now knows and many knew before the fight was over in 1940 that Mr. Willkie wasn't honestly trying to win the election for himself. He was doing his best to put Mr. Roosevelt back in the White House and keep a good Republican out.

When I see Willkie's name in the paper as a possible candidate my blood boils. I just can't help wondering why something isn't being done by the men who comprise the real Republican party to set Mr. Willkie in his place.

WATER FOR VICTORY GARDENS.

Chicago, July 3—[Friend of the People].—I am one of many who have a victory garden in the plot at Foster and St. Louis avenues, which is considered to cover more ground than any other community garden in the country. I write to find out what must be done to have the fire hydrant opened a block north of Foster and Central Park avenues, in the midst of our gardens, for the purpose of watering our vegetables.

L. B.

We are now negotiating with the department of public works of the city of Chicago in the hope of arriving at a mutually satisfactory arrangement.

We recognize, as must all patriotic citizens, that the war effort and industries are creating a drain on Chicago's water supply. Important as food production is, it must not be permitted to create fire hazards or interfere with war production. We hope, however, that a middle road can be reached that will make it possible for victory gardeners to secure water where it is badly needed and not interfere with fire protection or war production.

OWNERS LOST, COUNTY TO GET TRUST ESTATES

nks May Lose Control of Vast Sums.

After a decision by Judge Philip J. Finnegan in Circuit court yesterday, State's Atty. Thomas J. Courtney ordered a survey which ultimately may compel all banks and trust companies to turn over vast sums in unclaimed trust estates to the county as public funds.

Judge Finnegan's decision, Courtney said, was the first step in that direction. Under it the Central Republic Trust company, now defunct and represented by Edward Tudor, was ordered to turn over 3,500 trust estates with assets valued at upward of $500,000, in which the owners or interested parties are either dead or cannot be found.

Many Millions Involved.

It was stated that other banks and trust companies hold thousands of such trust estates whose assets and income totaling many millions they have controled for years because none of those party to the agreements are alive or available to receive the benefits. Assistant State's Atty. Joseph P. Burke said he would start on the survey at once.

Yesterday's decision sustained an intervening petition filed by Burke in May, 1940, in the case of Charles H. Albers, who sought the court's permission to retire as trustee for the trust company, now in receivership. Burke's petition set forth that no heirs had been found in the 3,500 trust estates involved. It asserted that "under the unclaimed money statute the funds should be held by the county treasurer and eventually become public funds."

To Be Held Seven Years.

The assets of the estates involved in the court's decision consist of $150,000 in cash, $300,000 in stocks, bonds, and other securities, and $50,000 in real estate, it was stated. While the order compels Tudor to turn these assets over to the county immediately, it also provides that the county must hold them for seven years before turning them into the corporate fund as public moneys. This means little, lawyers said, since the county will have control of the cash and earnings while it holds the estates for possible claimants.

The county was given the right immediately to convert the securities, however, and to take title to the real estate.

CIO CHIEFS FORM POLITICAL UNIT UNDER HILLMAN

Washington, D. C., July 7 (AP).—The national executive board of the Congress of Industrial Organizations established a political action committee today and appointed as its head Sidney Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing workers.

The board affirmed the CIO's no-strike pledge and blamed John L. Lewis for inspiring enactment of the Connally-Smith act, which provides penalties for fostering strikes in government-operated plants or mines. The board assailed the act in a resolution.

One official said the committee would advocate not only a program of political action, but specific candidates favorable to that program.

The committee is composed of Hillman, R. J. Thomas of the United Auto workers, S. H. Dalrymple of the United Rubber workers, Albert Fitzgerald of the United Electrical workers, and an officer of the United Steel workers who will be either Van A. Bittner or David J. McDonald.

The board decided to hold the annual CIO convention in St. Louis, Mo., the third week in November.

MANUFACTURERS TO FIGHT EQUAL PAY FOR WOMEN

Springfield, Ill., July 7 (AP).—If Gov. Dwight Green signs the "equal pay for women" bill enacted by the legislature, its constitutionality will be challenged in court by the Illinois Manufacturers' association.

The association made that announcement today and described the bill as the only controversial measure affecting industry passed during the legislative session.

The statement did not set out the constitutional grounds upon which the association plans to attack the bill, but in legislative hearings David R. Clarke, Chicago, general counsel for the manufacturers' association, contended it was invalid because it applied only to employers engaged in manufacturing, and those employing six or more persons. This made it "discriminatory," he argued.

City's Post-War Council Starts on Work Today

Mayor Kelly's new post-war economic advisory council, composed primarily of business and labor leaders, will meet at noon today to elect a chairman, consider the selection of a full time executive secretary, and outline its work. The meeting will be at the City National Bank and Trust company, with Philip R. Clarke, president of the bank and a member of the council, as host.

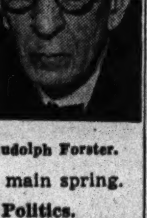
FORSTER, CHIEF OF WHITE HOUSE CLERKS, IS DEAD

Bore Great Burden for 46 Years.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 7.—Rudolph Forster, who for more than 46 years carried the load of routine work of the White House, was found dead in bed in his hotel apartment here today.



Rudolph Forster.

Altho unknown to millions of his fellow countrymen thru a deliberate policy of self-effacement, Forster, as chief clerk of the White House, was its main spring.

Never Talked Politics.

Altho in the center of many storms, he never projected himself into any battle. He saved millions of dollars and countless man hours by spotting errors in public papers.

He never sought an office, never traded on his influence, and never discussed politics. He won his place solely by faithful service, efficiency, diplomacy, and a genius for hard work.

Became an Institution.

Three days after William McKinley went to the White House, there was a hurried call for help to move a mountain of clerical work. Forster, who was born in Washington and was a stenographer in one of the government departments, was sent to the executive offices for "a few days." He never left.

The days lengthened into years and the years spun over decades and Forster became an institution. He went to his grave without disclosing an official secret. He resisted offers of thousands of dollars from magazine and book publishers for his memoirs.

BOHLING JOINS DITCHBURNE IN NEW LAW FIRM

Atty. Harry S. Ditchburne and Ald. Nicholas J. Bohling [7th] announced yesterday they have formed a partnership for the general practice of law under the firm name of Ditchburne and Bohling. Their offices will be in the Burnham building, 160 North La Salle street.

Atty. Ditchburne for many years was an assistant state's attorney prosecuting gangsters during the Capone era. He then formed a law partnership with Charles E. Lounsbury, another prosecutor, who died last year. Ditchburne and Lounsbury took part in many of the civil and criminal trials that grew out of the collapse of the utility empire founded by the late Samuel Insull.

Ald. Bohling was elected to the city council last spring. Prior to his election he was security supervisor for the Illinois industrial commission by appointment of Gov. Green. He is a graduate of the University of Notre Dame.

CITY EMPLOYES MAY WORK EXTRA AT WAR PLANTS

City employes, with the exception of police and firemen, are free to accept part time jobs in war plants in addition to their city work provided such employment does not interfere with their regular jobs, James Osborne, secretary of the city civil service commission, said yesterday. Osborne said he has received numerous inquiries from employes whether this is permissible under civil service regulations, but that he had no statistics on how many are doing work other than for the city. Police and firemen can't accept outside jobs, he said, because they are subject to call for city duty at any time.

The American Municipal association, after a survey, reported yesterday many cities are encouraging their employes to accept part time work with war plants.

Draft Appeal for Subway Transfer to Street Car

The city council's committee on local transportation will meet tomorrow morning to draft a proposal that the Illinois commerce commission grant transfer privileges between the elevated lines and east and west surface lines at subway stations. Nine physicians and four nurses, working under the direction of Dr. H. O. Bruggeman, chief of the civilian defense emergency medical group, were summoned to care for the patients. Dr. Bruggeman said all appeared to be suffering from "botulism poisoning" from eating contaminated food.

PRIEST BLAMES RACE RIOTS ON POOR HOUSING

Washington, D. C., July 7 (AP).—Blame for recent Detroit, Mich., race riots was placed today by Msgr. Francis J. Haas, chairman of the government's fair employment practice committee, on "inadequate housing, recreation, and public transportation."

The Catholic priest, after a three day visit to Detroit, said he found no evidence that the Ku Klux Klan or the axis powers had inspired the outbreak, in which more than 25 persons were killed.

Observing that Detroit's war plants had brought 35,000 people to the city since the first of this year, he voiced that opinion that similar movements of population into other cities might foment similar troubles.

You May Never Have To Take Another Laxative
Most constipated people might be as regular as clock-work—if they would only quit worrying—stop being nervous—take more exercise—watch their diet—and get up mornings an hour or so earlier to give bowels time to act. But who can or wants to do all this?
So—the next best thing is to keep the bowels working as regularly and comfortably as we can—and that's where good old Espotabs come in. Why?
Because you may take Espotabs at night and expect results in the morning when you get up without waiting around—because they do not move the bowels so violently as to leave you feeling weak and washed-out . . .

RELIEF REDUCED 43½% IN YEAR, REPORT SHOWS

The number of persons on relief in Chicago has shrunk from 90,750 in June, 1942, to 47,940 last month, or 43½ per cent in a year, George J. Klupar, welfare commissioner, disclosed yesterday. He said the case load last month was 25,623, in contrast to June, 1939, when the load was 115,668 cases and 278,000 persons, the peak figure.

Klupar pointed out that the welfare administration's job placement service, begun a year ago, must be given much credit for reducing the load. Since June, 1942, he said, the service has placed 7,322 reliefers in permanent jobs.

BEET INDUSTRY ASKED TO SEND SEED TO EUROPE

Lend-Lease Backs Drive Among Producers.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Denver, Colo., July 7.—Fighting for survival against government policies regarded as hostile to its interests, the domestic sugar beet industry has been called upon to help rehabilitate the sugar beet industry of Europe, it was disclosed today by two local beet men.

The lend-lease administration, they said, is asking that one half of the sugar beet seed being produced in this country be set aside to reëstablish the European beet industry after the war ends. Beet sugar companies have been asked by the department of agriculture's division of sugar plant investigation to act as purchasing agents for the government in accumulating such a stockpile.

Among those receiving the government request are H. W. Dahlberg, chief of research of the Great Western Sugar company, and T. E. Gardiner of the Holly Sugar company.

Fear Speculative Buying.

"The government, thru the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation," the letters said, "will contract for seed on a fixed price basis or on an open price basis.

"This division believes that the entrance of speculators into sugar beet seed production would be extremely unfortunate. We see no way to avoid such entrance and the resultant competition for the limited, suitable sugar beet seed supply other than by acceptance of the beet companies of this responsibility."

It is the contention of sugar beet interests here that the seed diversion cannot be carried out without jeopardizing the future of the domestic industry.

Develop Best Seed.

Sugar beet acreage, already severely limited as a result of an indefinite government policy toward the industry, faces the possibility of an adverse crop year that may result in a short seed supply. Under such conditions, domestic producers say, they could not safely give up half their seed for use in helping foreign growers.

Prior to the last war, the United States obtained its beet seed from Germany. When this country entered the war in 1917, difficulty was experienced in obtaining sufficient seed to keep the industry going. Thereafter American companies expanded their seed research and production activities, with the result that American beet seed is now recognized as the best in the world.

The countries to which the lendlense administration proposes to send the seed after the war were not disclosed in the letters. Russia was the leading producer of sugar beets before the start of the present war. Other producers, in order of their output, were Germany, Czecho-Slovakia, and France. All ranked ahead of the United States in production.

ADMITS TAKING $2,000 AND SAYS GIRL AIDED HIM

George Sturm, 42 years old, 3820 Gladys avenue, confessed to Acting Capt. Russell Corcoran of Sheffield avenue police yesterday that he obtained nearly $2,000 in a burglary of a taven at 1900 Wolfram street, where he formerly worked as a bartender.

Capt. Corcoran said Sturm named Miss Marjorie Karr, 18 years old, of 15 East Delaware place, as his accomplice. Sturm said that Miss Karr hid behind a piano early Wednesday until after the tavern owner, Anton Brumke, closed the place. She then admitted Sturm thru the front door, Capt. Corcoran said, after which Sturm went to the hiding place where Brumke kept the money. The funds were to be used in cashing checks of employes of nearby factories.

Sturm was arrested at his home after Brumke told police he had been loitering in the tavern several nights. Four other young women, clothed in male attire, were arrested with Miss Karr. All were held for investigation.

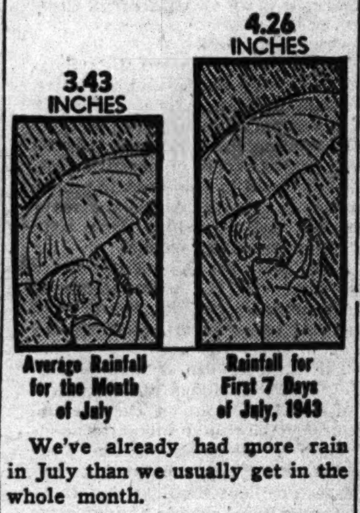
July Rain



We've already had more rain in July than we usually get in the whole month.

A mere .01 of an inch of rain, added to Tuesday's 3.92 inch torrent, brought the rainfall in Chicago for the first seven days of July to 4.26 inches, which is .83 of an inch more than the normal rainfall for the entire month, the weather bureau said yesterday. The normal rainfall for July in Chicago is 3.43 inches.

Oscar Hewitt, commissioner of public works, disclosed that the city water supply had faced the danger of pollution when the heavy rains caused the Calumet river to reverse and flow into Lake Michigan.

For eight hours winds held the flow at the mouth of the river, and prevented impure water from reaching the lake cribs, Mr. Hewitt said.

DEFER INQUEST TO ANALYZE GAS BANDITS USED

The inquest into the death of Miss Agnes Olsen, 53 years old, who died Tuesday as the result of poisonous gas shot at her by two bandits who attempted to hold up the currency exchange where she was cashier was continued yesterday until July 29 for an analysis to determine the type of gas used.

Meanwhile, police continued to search for the bandits, who escaped after failing in their attempt to open Miss Olsen's cashier cage. About 15 minutes after this robbery attempt, the same bandits are believed to have held up a currency exchange at 356 Dickens avenue, where they obtained $1,800.

Miss Olsen was gassed when the two bandits entered the exchanged at 311 North Pulaski road and demanded that she open the safe. Miss Olsen foiled the bandits by throwing a safety lock on her cage, but was overcome by the gas. Physicians said Miss Olsen exhibited all the symptoms of death by a powerful and deadly gas. She lived with her mother at 5306 Belle Plaine avenue.

HOLD PHYSICIAN CHARGED WITH ABORTION DEATH

Dr. Van A. McKinney, 52 years old, Negro, 6409 Rhodes avenue, was booked on a charge of murder by abortion by the Englewood police last night after the death in Mother Cabrini hospital of Jane Miller, 24, of 4700 Kenwood avenue. August Di Caro, 30, a cigar clerk, who said he had been living with the woman for several years, told police he took her to Dr. McKinney's office at 5526 South Racine avenue on June 30. She became ill soon afterward and was taken to the hospital. Police records show Dr. McKinney was placed on 6 months' probation in 1918 on two charges of assault with intent to kill. He will be arraigned today in Felony court.

14 UNION CHIEFS SURRENDER FOR EXTORTION QUIZ

Accused of $100,000 Annual Shakedown.

BY ROY GIBBONS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 7.—Fourteen officials representing two locals of the Independent Laundry Drivers of Greater New York, an affiliate of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America [CIO], surrendered today for arraignment in general sessions court on charges that by extortion and blackmail they have headed a racket that has shaken down independent hand laundries, agents and drivers here for more than $100,000 every year since 1938.

Members of the group, including Murray M. Gasman and Meyer Kaufman, manager and president respectively, of local 324, are named in an indictment charging 73 acts of conspiracy and other violations of the Donnelly Anti-Monopoly act.

Forced Check-off Charged.

According to State Atty. Gen. Nathaniel L. Goldstein, the group had such a strong hold on the laundry industry that when the office of price administration granted an increase of between 3 and 4 per cent in laundry prices last February, the defendants compelled independent hand laundry proprietors and agents to "kick back" 1 per cent of the raise.

Wet wash laundries, Goldstein charged, were forced by the combine to institute a check-off system by which the laundries were compelled to add dues, assessments and initiation fees to bills rendered for washing the laundry of independent operators.

Many Forced to Quit.

Goldstein said that, along with such threats, notices would be sent to the owners of wet wash laundries ordering them to stop doing work for the members who had not paid up. Approximately 2,000 laundry owners and independent agents were forced to contribute to the racket, which Goldstein said drove many wet wash laundries "out of business."

In addition to Gasman and Kaufman others named in the true bill are Jimmy Messina, manager of local 126; Frank Stern, secretary-treasurer of local 324, and Samuel Haker, recording secretary; Philip Moss, David Elkin, Louis Goldberg, and Herman Rheingold, committee members; Larry Mendelsohn, Frank Goldberg and Max Kleitzel, delegates; William Pucciarelli and Max Rosenthal, organizers.

SEIZED IN THEFT OF 24,000 BOOKS GIVEN FIGHTERS

Philadelphia, Pa., July 7 [Special].—Harry D. Silver, 47 years old, who resigned Monday as volunteer assistant director of the service wardens corps here, was held under $1,000 bail today on charges of larceny and fraudulent conversion in the theft of one-third of 70,000 books collected in a war book campaign for service men.

Silver admitted before Judge Harry S. McDevitt that he had sold 24,000 of the books to the American rescue workers for $80.

Silver, who helped collect the books with other members of the wardens corps, a branch of the office of civilian defense here, said he once was placed on probation for embezzling from the Salvation Army at Yonkers, N. Y.

Approve Use of Gas Tax Funds to Pave Six Streets

State authorities yesterday approved expenditure from the state motor fuel tax fund of $1,190,000 for six street paving projects in Chicago. That any of the projects actually can be completed this year is considered doubtful by city authorities. The city has submitted applications for permits to start 13 new paving projects, but the war production board has rejected all five applications it has acted upon so far.

LA GRANGE HEIR IN ALIMONY ROW GETS REPRIEVE

Robert James Dickenson, 33 years old, of La Grange, heir to the $300,000 estate of his father, was released from alimony row by Judge Robert Jerome Dunne in Circuit court yesterday on the promise that he join Alcoholics Anonymous—and the army, if possible—within the next three days. The court ordered him and his attorney, Wenzel Love, to report back tomorrow and warned that if he drinks during his brief liberty he will be sent back to "the row" for two years.

Dickenson spent several weeks in alimony row, technically for being $140 short in temporary alimony payments to his wife, Louise, 27, of 217 Calander avenue, La Grange. She has a divorce suit, charging adultery and drunkenness, pending against him. Mrs. Dickenson testified in an earlier hearing that he drank heavily and had not worked during their three years of married life. He made several unsuccessful attempts to obtain his release and yesterday Judge Dunne said he would give him his chance.

GUARDS CAPTURE LIFER WHO FLED PRISON'S FARM

Stonewall Clark, Negro lifer who escaped from Stateville prison farm July 4 on a brief independence quest, was back in the penitentiary yesterday, in solitary confinement for 15 days, after recapture at Plainfield, Will county. Clark, who was sentenced from Chicago in 1926 for murder, was sighted Tuesday in a Plainfield yard by a patrolman who fired, but the fugitive escaped.

Robert Gray and William Arnett, prison guards, saw the Negro in a corn field early yesterday and fired over his head as he dashed into a wheat field, threw himself flat and was seized.

Maxwell street police yesterday seized Walter L. Kukovec, 28 years old, who on June 18 escaped a second time from Illinois State hospital at Manteno, when he appeared at a draft board at 1413 West 18th street.

Kukovec was sent to the hospital in 1941 after being instrumental in bringing about the imprisonment of Dr. J. P. Gardzielewski and Atty. Joseph Nosek, a draft board chairman, who were found guilty of accepting a $35 bribe in marked money from Kukovec for deferment.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY

War Time Vacation.

Dean William H. Spencer, regional director of the war man power commission, suggests that white collar girls need not go vacationless this summer if they turn their pavement weary feet toward the green fields. He believes that many employed persons will welcome the chance to "serve their country on the home front and at the same time freshen their minds and bodies to an extent that will be of value when they return to their jobs." So, he is urging young women to consider farmerette vacations, helping farmers with their crops, or assisting canners in filling war production quotas.

The tentative dates suggested for such patriotic vacationing are: July 11 to 30, taking tassels from corn [Illinois, Wisconsin, and Indiana]; July 15 to Aug. 15, cherry picking in Door county, Wis.; Aug. 15 to Sept. 30., tomato picking and canning in Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin.

"The job of corn tasseling is particularly suited to women," says Dean Spencer. whose knowledge of farms goes back to his boyhood. "Last year women from many walks of life turned out to help their communities in this important work. This year new opportunities are being offered to women who have not had the chance to plan an outdoor, health-building program for themselves during these strenuous war days."

The White Collar Girl column has been supplied with a list of towns in Illinois, Wisconsin, and Indiana where workers will be needed. More specific information may be obtained from the central placement office of the war man power commission, 308 North Michigan avenue, or from any United States employment office.

One of the contributors to this column, Rufe Pickett, now has a column of his own, Rufe's Ramblings, in the Rock Island News Digest. Rufe is a brakeman on this white collar girl's express. . . . The shower baths at the Y. W. C. A. [mentioned last week] are at 59 East Monroe street—my mistake, O dear. . . . That beautiful Michigan avenue window exhibit of sculpture is the work of a woman in the calking business, Rose B. Bique, who took up clay modeling as a hobby. . . . . A reader says she is "anxiously waiting" to know what other white collar girls think of wearing red rimmed glasses in the office. And what do they think? . . . . Complaints continue to arrive via the mail about "pedal paint jobs." Smeary leg make-up is an unwelcome sight in any office.

Tribune's Style Show Interests Many Schools

Scores of fashion schools and universities thruout the country have shown great interest in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S American Fashions contest this year and are requesting and receiving complete, printed sets of rules governing the competition.

According to the directors and deans of these schools of design, which are scattered from New York to California, the rules have been posted prominently on bulletin boards as a stimulus to young aspirant designers, and many of the schools are using the contest as their main summer projects.

Such activities fit in completely with the main purpose of the contest, which is to encourage both professional and amateur American designers to create beautiful and practical clothes for American women, Mrs. Grace Pickering, noted fashion authority who will head the contest selections committee, said yesterday.

THE TRIBUNE'S three previous American Fashions contests gained national recognition for many formerly unknown designers and brought to light unusual talent among young students in high schools, colleges, universities, and schools of design. It also brought into the limelight the creative ability of many individuals with a flare for dress designing who were engaged in other professions and trades.

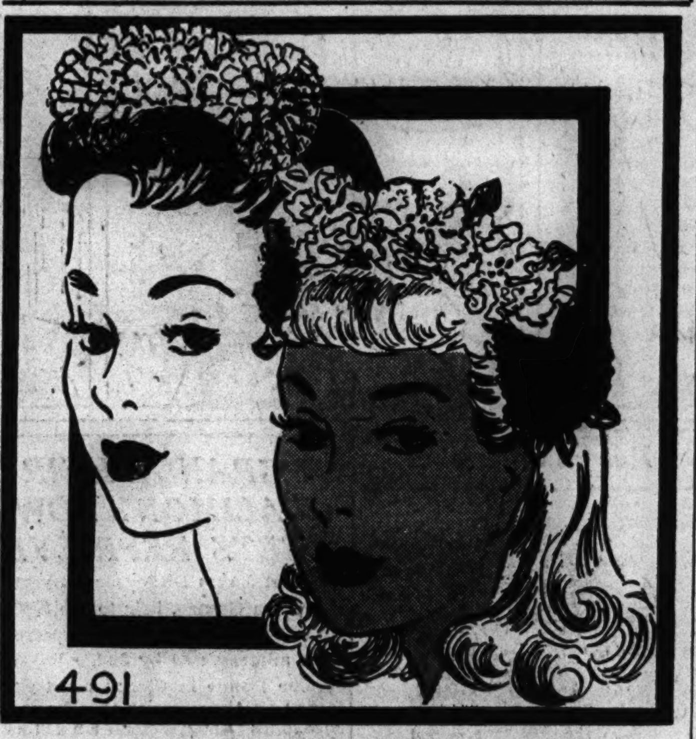
The rules of the contest this year are similar to those of the previous competitions and will be mailed to any individual, organization, or school immediately upon request. The chief requisite is that all sketches submitted in the contest be original. They may be executed in collaboration with artists and may be in black and white or colors. Any number of sketches may be submitted by any one entrant.

Prizes totaling $3,000 will be awarded to winners of the contest. Twenty sketches, selected from all entries, will bring awards of $50 each and will be made up into models at the expense of THE TRIBUNE. The grand prize winners of $1,000 for first place and $500 each for second and third will be chosen from among the 20 models at a professionally staged fashion show the latter part of September.

Deadline for all sketches will be midnight Aug. 1. The models will be made to the measurements of a corps of topflight mannequins, who will show the gowns at the fall fashion show. The same mannequins will pose for color photographs of the gowns which will appear in THE CHICAGO SUNDAY TRIBUNE.

All inquiries concerning the contest and all sketches should be addressed to "American Fashions, The Chicago Tribune, 435 North Michigan avenue, Chicago, Ill."

Crocheted Hair Bands



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Crocheted gardenias attached to a plastic hair band can do 'round the clock duty if you're the fluffy type. For more tailored coiffure a hair band decorated with rope wool pompons helps to keep the hair in place. Both are quick, easy, and inexpensive to create.

For instructions in crocheting the flower and wool hair bands, No. 491, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Both Miss Fellows and her fiancé, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schmidt of Gary, Ind., attended Lake Forest college, where he received his degree in 1942. The wedding is planned for Sept. 4, and Mr. Schmidt will take his bride to Manteo, N. C., where he is stationed at the naval auxiliary field.

Jubilees Honor Two Lutheran Pastors Sunday

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Two widely known Chicago Lutheran pastors will celebrate respectively their 50th and 35th anniversaries of continuous pastoral leadership of their present churches Sunday. Two other Lutheran pastors in the metropolitan area also will celebrate their golden jubilees in active pastoral work later this month.

Sunday's jubilarians are the Rev. A. W. Bartling, pastor for the last 50 years of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Missouri Synod church, Menard avenue and Iowa street, and the Rev. Dr. Joshua Oden, who will celebrate his 35th anniversary as pastor of Irving Park Augustana Lutheran church, Belle Plaine and Harding avenues.

The two other Lutheran pastors attaining 50 years in active pastoral service are the Rev. Carl Abel, pastor of Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Missouri Synod church, Elmhurst, and the Rev. Alex Ullrich, formerly of La Grange, now actively affiliated with the Missouri Synod Lutheran City Mission.

The growth of the Irving Park church under Dr. Oden's leadership has been considered exceptional. When he assumed the pastorship there were 30 members. Today the church is credited with having the largest membership in the Augustana Synod in America. Special jubilee services will be held at the church Sunday.

When Pastor Bartling came to St. Paul's church on July 9, 1893, Austin was a comparatively new community. During his 50 years, the congregation showed a net growth of 250 per cent. His jubilee service will be held at 7 p. m., Sunday, with the Rev. Otto Heerwagen of Proviso giving the jubilee address.

As long as there's a package of spaghetti in the house, there's always the making of a meal, and a fairly hearty one, too. Spaghetti and the other cereal pastes are plentiful, cheap, and unrationed. Many of the traditional accompaniments for spaghetti are rationed, of course, including meat, tomato paste, canned tomatoes, and cheese. But fortunately a little flavoring often goes a long way in a spaghetti dish, especially when the amount of onions is increased.

A simple, nutritious dish which requires only a small amount of rationed cheese is creamed spaghetti with sliced young green onions fresh from the war garden. This combination, placed in a casserole, topped with grated cheese and margarined crumbs, can be baked to golden deliciousness in 20 minutes.

Spaghetti Bake.

[Serves four.]

4 cups cooked broken spaghetti
½ pound hamburger, browned in fat
4 medium onions, sliced
4 fresh tomatoes, sliced
Grated Italian cheese
1¼ cups meat stock, consomme or bouillon
Salt, pepper, chili powder
½ cup fine buttered crumbs

Place half the cooked spaghetti in the bottom of a greased baking dish. Place the meat over it, slice onions and tomatoes over meat. Season each layer with salt, pepper, and chili powder unless a well seasoned stock is used, in which case only light seasonings or none at all are needed. Grate cheese, provoloni or a similar type, over the tomato layer. Top with remaining spaghetti and possibly another layer of grated cheese. Add liquid, and top with buttered crumbs [use margarine if you can't spare butter]. Bake in a 350 degree oven until hot and bubbling, about 35 minutes.

Spaghetti and Sausage Casserole.

[Serves six.]

1 7 or 8 ounce package spaghetti
1 pound pork sausages
1 can tomato soup

Cook spaghetti until almost tender in a large amount of boiling, salted water, drain and place in casserole. Add ½ cup water to sausages in a skillet and let cook gently until thoroly done. Place sausages on top of spaghetti. Add remaining water from sausages, which will contain sausage fat, to tomato soup. Rinse pan out with a little more water adding this also to soup. Pour soup thus diluted and flavored with sausage drippings, over spaghetti and bake in the oven 20 minutes. Serve from the casserole.

Spaghetti Salad.

[Serves four.]

2 cups cooked spaghetti, cut in short pieces
2 hard cooked eggs, quartered
2 or 3 slices bologna or other cold cut, shredded
½ cup shredded American or brick cheese
1 fresh tomato, cut in eighths
6 green onions, chopped, with tops
½ green pepper, chopped
1 pimiento, chopped
Well seasoned dressing
Leaf lettuce

Toss ingredients together with dressing which may be a cooked dressing or commercial mayonnaise type. Season dressing highly with salt, paprika, a little cayenne, some chili sauce, if you can spare it. Serve combination very cold on crisp leaf lettuce.

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

A group of 26 women, believed to be the first class of Red Cross dietitians' aids ever to be graduated from an army hospital, received their diplomas yesterday in ceremonies at the Edward Hines Jr. hospital. Dr. Charles F. Bayer, chief medical officer at the hospital, and Charles G. Beck, manager, addressed the graduates, and Miss Kathryn McHenry, chief dietitian, presented the diplomas.

Representing the Red Cross at the ceremonies were Mrs. George R. Nichols Jr. and Miss Margaret Conover, vice chairmen in charge of canteen in hospitals; Mrs. Arthur Krause, director of nutrition service, and Mrs. Leland K. Neeves, representing Mrs. James A. Cathcart, chairman of all volunteer Red Cross services.

The Consumer Information Service, under the chairmanship of Mrs. William H. Stanley, is in the midst of a campaign to organize community canning in all parts of the Chicago area. Owners of pressure cookers are urged to lend them to groups so that as many cupboard shelves as possible may be loaded down with produce from war gardens.

Altho the war production board has approved the manufacture of more pressure cookers, the amount will not be sufficient, Mrs. Stanley said, to cover the need.

The C. I. S. also is holding canning and food dehydration lectures and demonstrations on Tuesday and Thursday mornings and afternoons at both the People's Gas and Commonwealth Edison companies. The classes are kept small so that those attending may derive the greatest benefit from the demonstrations. Reservations for attendance may be made at the Consumer Information Service, 228 North La Salle street, Central 8210.

The general joy in WAC ranks over the Presidential signature on the bill bringing the women into the regular army, which will become law on Sept. 2, was expressed the other day by 2d Officer Ellen K. Leonard, commanding officer of the Fort Sheridan WACs. "Gone is that feeling of being half in and half out of the army," said 2d Officer Leonard, "and in its place is the feeling of being accepted."

With the adoption of their new status, the army women will drop their present rank nomenclature and exchange it for regular service ranks. Auxiliaries will become privates, junior leaders will become corporals, leaders will be known as sergeants, and first, second, and third officers will be addressed as captain and first and second lieutenants, respectively.

Col. John T. Rhett, Fort Sheridan commanding officer, says the change in status of the women soldiers will not affect their work in the many offices to which they are assigned, but probably will result in their use in increasing numbers.

At the present time, WACs are on duty in the post's finance office, its station hospital, dental clinic, service club, library, and signal, ordnance automotive, supply, intelligence, and public relations offices, and in the headquarters of the post engineer.

More than 40 additional WACs are expected at Fort Sheridan within the next few weeks for assignment in the anti-aircraft artillery training center.

Invasion Plans Born in Nation's Libraries, Says Association Head

Many of the military plans for invasion of strategic points in the South Pacific and in North Africa had their inception in the libraries of the nation, Miss Althea Warren of Los Angeles declared yesterday at the Drake hotel in her inaugural address as president of the American Library association. At the same dinner Carl Vitz of Minneapolis became first vice president and president elect for 1944.

Miss Warren said military strategists had called frequently on the facilities of libraries in mapping their future moves. This was particularly true in preparations for the campaigns of the South Pacific, where the map facilities of the San Francisco library became of the utmost importance.

Libraries are finding a reverse situation to most business and industry these days, Miss Warren pointed out. While in the depression the handling of all those who sought facilities of the library was a serious problem, reading rooms now are half empty. This is because millions have gone to war, others in industry are too busy and too tired, children are engaged in salvage, war bonds, and other drives, and older persons spend much of their spare time in war work.

BACKYARD PICNICS ARE "IN"

Picnics can and should happen more frequently than ever this year. There's no better way to relax than to get close to Mother Nature. And because you can have your own comfy beach chairs always handy, you'll find picnics in your own backyard are more restful and just as much fun as driving a long distance. So "Take to the Backyard" as often as possible this summer.

FIREPLACE NOT NECESSARY

You haven't a backyard fireplace? Why not trot down to the hardware or department store soon and get an outdoor grill. They're still available and the money you save on gasoline through the summer will more than buy one.

Look over the other picnic gadgets still available while you're there. It's strange what a few pennies spent on such things will add in pleasing the young folks.

They'll enjoy making things, too. And don't forget to suggest they rig up a storage space where all equipment can be kept handy—and clean—ready for instant use the minute the urge for a picnic comes on.

Fun with Biscuits-on-a-Stick

If you haven't baked biscuits over an open fire, you've missed a treat. Have the boys hunt up fairly large green sticks about a half inch in diameter (all right, the girls may go, too) and three feet or so long. Cut off the bark for about four inches on one end and keep clean.

Let Mom mix the baking powder biscuits in the kitchen except for adding the liquid—that's an outdoors job for Dad. Add almost enough liquid for drop biscuits, then everyone join in and take a large spoonful of dough and shape it over the trimmed end of the stick; hold it over the coals, and what a miracle!

Fill the center holes with Clear Brook Butter and marmalade. Boy! It's an honest-to-goodness treat!

GOOD FOOD—Reward for Efficiency

No need letting one hand be lazy. So use the extra one to toast a Wilson's Certified Frankfurter to a juicy brown during the last few minutes the biscuit is baking. A pound of franks (6 points) will serve 5. Easy on your point-budget.

For you "burger" fans, those gadgets pictured above will solve your problem of "How to Do It."

Army and Navy Orders Send Many Families Far and Wide

BY JUDITH CASS.

NOTHING is outmoded faster these days than an address book, and Chicagoans are finding it well nigh impossible to keep up with the army's and navy's humors for transplanting families from one part of the country to another. Former north shore residents can be found all the way from New London, Conn., the present home of the M. Scott Bromwells, to Portland, Ore., where Lt. and Mrs. Joseph C. Belden now are living.

Lt. and Mrs. Bromwell have taken a house for the summer near his army post. Mr. and Mrs. Solomon A. Smith have just returned from a visit with their son-in-law and daughter, the Bromwells, and young Bonnie, Scotty, and David Bromwell, and at present are at their summer place in Charlevoix, Mich. Their other daughter, Mrs. George S. Chappell Jr., and her husband and three children left last night for the Michigan resort.

Albert B. Pattou Recently Made Lieutenant Colonel.

While Lt. Belden is stationed in Portland with the navy, his father-in-law, Albert B. Pattou, is busy here with another branch of the service, having recently been promoted to a lieutenant colonel in the army. The Pattous' elder son, Brace, is taking an accelerated course at the University of Chicago waiting to be called into service. Young Gerald is en route to Boston, Mass., to visit Waldo Allen Jr., whose parents rented their Lake Forest home when Maj. Allen was called east.

Mrs. William B. Cudahy went to Boston early this week to join Lt. Cudahy for his brief shore leave. Since he reported for active duty with the coast guard she and the children, Victoria Fenton and William Brewer Cudahy, have had an apartment at 1315 Astor street. At present, however, they are spending the summer with Mrs. Cudahy's mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Fenton, in Lake Forest.

Mrs. John R. Hurley Back from Visit with Husband.

Mrs. John R. Hurley and her two older daughters, Adrienne and Joan, returned a few days ago from Washington, D. C., where they spent a month with Capt. Hurley while he was stationed there. Adrienne left over the week-end with her grandparents, the Paul R. Jurgenses, for their summer home at Leland, Mich., where Mrs. Hurley and Joan will join them on Aug. 1. The youngest member of the family, Brooke, who will be one year old next Monday, will remain in her nursery at 1235 Astor street, the apartment the Hurleys leased from the Henry L. McIntyres when Lt. McIntyre was assigned to Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Capt. Hurley is now attending the staff command school at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and upon completing a nine week course hopes to come to Chicago for a brief visit with his family.

Mrs. John R. Howland and her children have gone east for the duration, leaving their charming lake front house in Lake Forest in the care of Mr. and Mrs. W. Press Hodgkins. Mrs. Howland and the children will spend the summer on Gibson Island in Chesapeake bay and then go to Washington in the fall to join Lt. Col. Howland, who is stationed there.

Lt. and Mrs. Burgess Jr. Go to Florida After Visit.

Lt. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Burgess Jr. left on Monday for their new home in Miami Beach, Fla., after a visit here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burgess of Hubbard Woods and Mr. and Mrs. Lon C. Hill, who came from Corpus Christi, Tex., to see their son-in-law and daughter. The young Burgesses spent the past year in San Francisco, Cal. He now has reported in Florida for further training with the navy. Lon Hill Jr. has chosen the same branch of service and is attending the naval reserve midshipmen's school at the University of Notre Dame.

Mrs. William Darrow, the former Anita Straub, has gone to Tacoma, Wash., to join her husband, who is in training at Fort Lewis. Their baby, Peter, is with his grandparents, the Walter F. Straubs and Mrs. Darrow Sr.

Herbert C. De Youngs Are Parents of a Son.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. De Young [Virginia Winston] welcomed their first child on Tuesday in Evanston hospital. The baby has been named James Winston for his maternal grandfather. Mr. and Mrs. Winston live in Evanston. Little James also is a grandson of Mrs. Frederic R. De Young and of the late Justice De Young.

Tonight's concert at Ravinia park will mark the first Ravinia appearance of Marjorie Lawrence, the gallant infantile paralysis soprano. Miss Lawrence and her husband, Dr. Thomas King, arrived on the north shore yesterday and will be staying at the Hotel Moraine-on-the-Lake in Highland Park during their visit. Tonight Mr. and Mrs. Percy B. Eckhart will entertain the Francis Knights and the Carlos K. Eckharts. Mrs. Beck von Peccoz will be hostess in the box of her parents, the Charles H. Morses.

Summer Offers a Wide Variety of Sleek Robes

BY REA SEEGER.

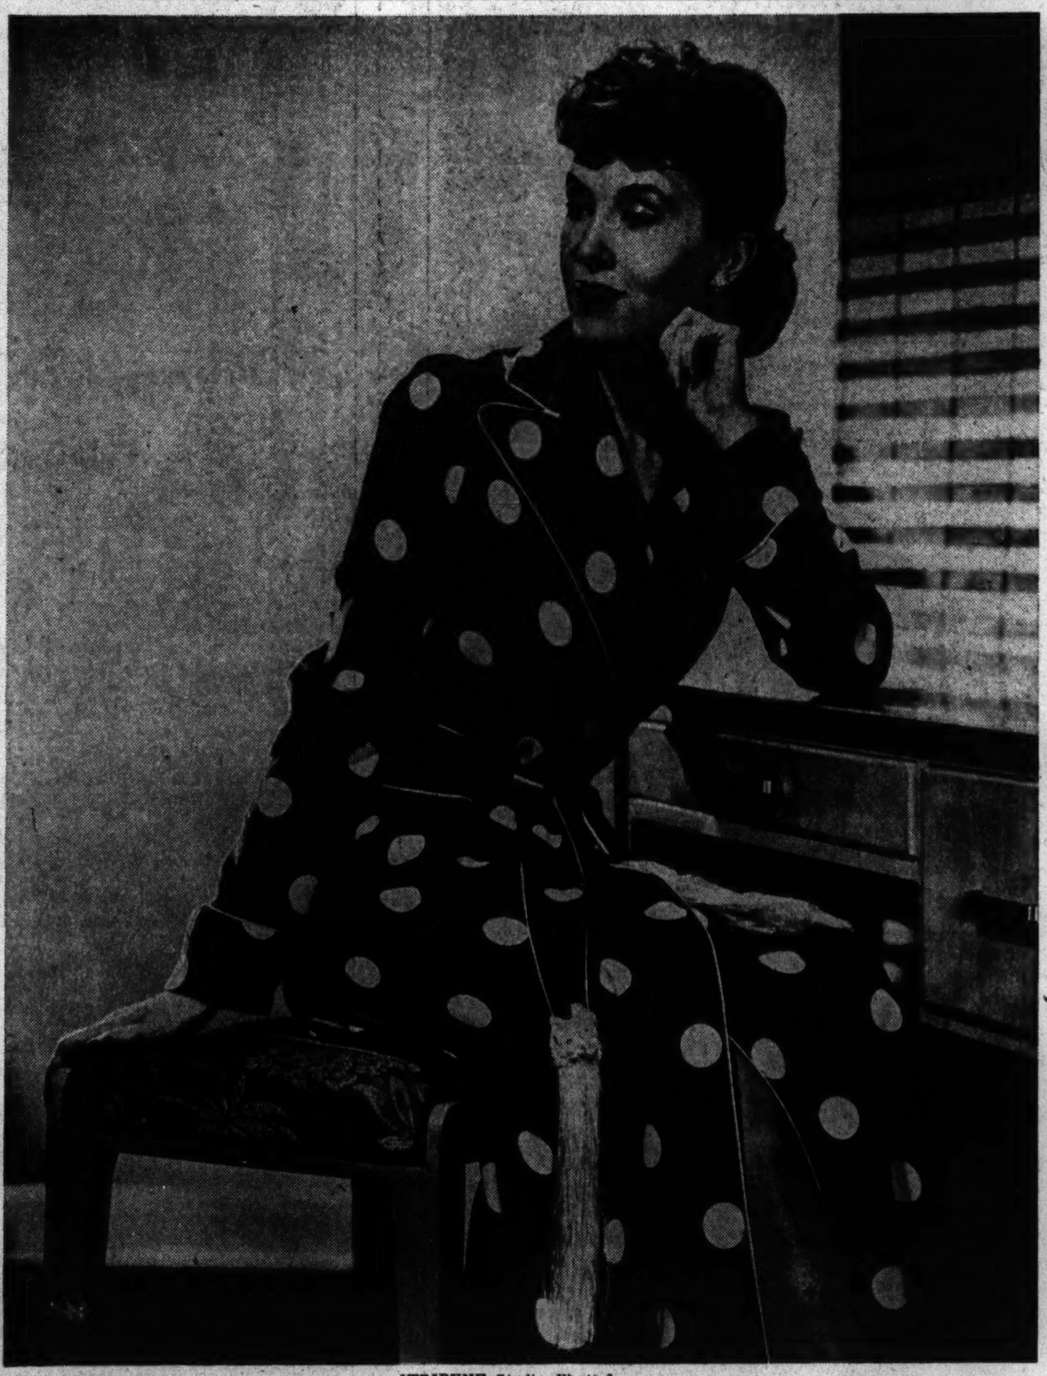
Many unusual summer robes are found in the midseason showings, sleek tailored affairs for travel or week-ends in the country and lacy, very feminine models for decorative lounging around the house. All models stress cool comfort with flattery.

The newest robes of lace are particularly tempting. Some are tailored simply in the same streamlines as the robes made of silk or crepe. But the most popular models are those with a bit of frou frou, an edge of ruching or frills of lace or even flounces around the skirt edge. Sleeves are the popular three-quarter length and can be pushed or gathered above the elbows.

In one collection of summertime negligees you'll see the smoothest tailored travel coats of the season. The material is copied from that popular masculine success, a heavy surah for foulard.

Other slick travel robes equal to the same easy performance at home or away are the robes of flowered print jersey. These jersey finds are especially easy for all travel wardrobes, because they'll shake out into wrinkleless perfection when they are unpacked and because they require little if any pressing attention either on the road or at home. Price marks are easy on a limited summer clothes allowance!

Smart Travel Robe in Tailored Silhouette



[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

This smart new travel robe in tailored silhouette may be had in a choice of four colors—copper, sage green, coral, or blue—printed with huge white dots. The material is a soft, silky surah; the details, white piping, notched collar and lapels, tie sash belt, and long white silk tassels attached to belt. It is available in a Chicago shop.

Altrusa Clubs Vote to Extend Terms of Present Officers

At a vote in which all Altrusa clubs participated, it has been determined that present elective officers of Altrusa International will remain in office until the next international convention of the business and professional women's organization.

Result of the vote, submitted thru the mail by 200 clubs located in major cities of the United States, Mexico, and Puerto Rico, was announced by the special election committee appointed to tabulate the ballot, at yesterday's session of the executive committee meeting at the Edgewater Beach hotel. This meeting, which opened Wednesday and closes today, replaces the usual convention canceled because of the war. The cancellation indicates present officers probably will serve for the duration. These include Dr. Nina Fay Calhoun of Dallas, Tex., president; Miss Mamie D. Larsh, Indianapolis, Ind., 1st vice president; Miss Eva Wall, Winston-Salem, N. C., 2d vice president; Mrs. Dessalee Ryan Dudley, Battle Creek, Mich., board member.

Hardy Crowd Enjoys Second Park Concert

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

Snug as musicians in their band shell seemed an enviable state last night to the shivering thousands who went to Grant Park to hear a symphony orchestra under the direction of Jerzy Bojanowski play the second free concert of the ninth lake front season. But your true Grant Park fan is a hardy fellow, conditioned to a capricious climate, and while some of the more flexible customers were glimpsed sitting on their feet, they stuck it out until the very end, when the programmed music of Grofé and Strauss was dropped in favor of one of those "request" numbers, in this case an orchestration of Rachmaninoff's Prelude in C sharp minor.

Such changes are taken in Grant Park's stride, which is why no one even raised an eyebrow when the soloist, Mary Kampo, burst into the "Habanera" from "Carmen" when her printed program called for Strauss' "Zueignung." This pretty brunette, in bon bon pink tulle, covered a wide vocal territory, from Gluck's "Che faro senza Euridice" to "The Bells of St. Mary's" and "Sweet Mystery of Life." She has a big, rich contralto, full of color and admirably placed, but she has yet to learn about style. Her singing is monotonous now because she finds little difference between a lively Gavotte from "Mignon" and Azucena's fearsome "Stride la vampa" from "Il Trovatore."

Mr. Bojanowski had his orchestra well balanced, and was at his best in crisply defined music such as the Overture to "Mignon" and the "Dance of the Apprentices" from Wagner's "Mastersingers." The excerpts from "Schéhérazade" were better in outline than in detail, and he needed more rehearsal if he hoped to turn Liszt's second Hungarian Rhapsody into so personal an expression of temperament. As usual on his programs, Mr. Bojanowski included a Polish number, Moniuszko's overture, "Fairy Tale," typical of the composer's lively use of national idiom.

Chapel for Sailors.

The war service committee of the Morgan Park Methodist church has furnished a chapel for the sailors at the naval training school, 87th street and Anthony avenue. The center's huge auditorium formerly was used for religious services and weddings.

Music Note

American soldiers and sailors overseas will hear two of this week's Ravinia concerts by the Chicago Symphony orchestra under the direction of Howard Barlow. Tuesday night's concert was recorded by the National Broadcasting company, which also will record Saturday night's performance, with Marjorie Lawrence, Australian soprano, as soloist. The recordings, made at the request of the overseas bureau of the office of war information, will be used in shortwave broadcasts sent to our troops on battle fronts.

BY CECIL SMITH.

The Actors' Company of Chicago, the only local group which is doing anything important for the theater in Chicago, has hit the jackpot again. "Guest in the House," an arresting and novel psychological melodrama, was originally slated for a visit from a touring company from New York last year, but managerial difficulties interfered, and the tour was canceled. As a consequence Minnie Galatzer, director of the Actors' Company, who usually seems to know a good thing when she sees it, snared the Chicago performance rights.

The action of "Guest in the House" centers upon one Evelyn Heath, a girl from Cleveland who arrives to pay a visit of indeterminate length in the home of her happily married cousins, Douglas and Ann Proctor. Evelyn, you will discover, is no ordinary girl, for her career in the Proctor home reveals her to be afflicted with heart disease, a paranoid fear of birds, an uncanny gift of seeming to be meek and generous while she is surreptitiously tearing every one's personal life to bits, and a gift for writing long and revealing entries in her diary.

By the middle of the second act Evelyn has set Douglas and Ann at each others' throats and driven Douglas to drink; and by the third act she has managed to fabricate a scandal for the tabloid press. You wouldn't trust your own grandmother when Evelyn is around, to say nothing of your wife. Few moments in the realm of melodrama are more gratifying than the one in which Evelyn is finally, and most ingeniously, disposed of.

Jane Elliott gives a remarkably penetrating, consistent, and strongly unified performance as the psychopathic heroine; she is in no way inferior to Mary Anderson, who made her reputation by playing the part for six months in New York. Brinton Turkle, as Douglas; Arlene Friedrich, as a brash but scrupulous artist's model, and Shirley Linder, as a sagacious aunt, are likewise outstandingly successful in realizing their characters. As Ann, Jana Lisa compels a good deal of sympathy, but her acting is marred by technical limitations.

All these people are amateurs, but Miss Galatzer's firm and telling direction seldom lets you realize that fact. She and her players have made "Guest in the House" one of the best entertainments in town.

Front VIEWS and PROFILES

BY MARCIA WINN

Random Observations.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., July 6.—Meatless Tuesday is observed rigidly out here. . . . Some prankster recently obliterated the "s" in the name of a butcher shop on Sunset boulevard: Black's Meat Market. . . . An inexplicable common denominator of all California restaurants now is that they run out of desserts quickly.

Men in uniform and civilians alike are all cash customers to the street car and bus lines. No one rides free. . . . Silver barrage balloons dot all the outlying areas, and every night coast artillery lights ribbon the heavens with their white beams, crossing and crisscrossing to pinion a passing practice plane. . . . Tall stalks of white yucca stud the canyons and valleys like solitary tombstones. Many call them "candle of heaven," and picking them now brings a $100 fine. Or is it $1,000? Anyway, it's a perilous climb. . . .

Any one who goes across the border to Mexico these days comes back with a pocket full of $2 bills, for all wayfarers must turn in their currency to customs officials, either checking it with them or having it changed into $2 bills and silver. This is to prevent United States money other than the $2 bill, which is difficult to counterfeit [and won't go far anyway], from getting into the hands of axis agents. . . .

Wandering onto a grassy plot at Universal studios the other day we ran into those two wild men, Olsen and Johnson, waiting to race into action in their new film, "Crazy House." Olsen, who was nattily dressed in a pale beige suit and a robin's egg blue hat on which he kept smearing tan makeup as he swabbed at dabs of perspiration with bits of Kleenex, greeted us happily. "Chicago," he breathed softly. "Gee . . . Chicago, Johnson!" "Yeah," said Johnson, "first time we saw our name in lights was at 63d and Halsted. . . ." "Yeah," said Olsen, "my first job was at 35th and Archer. I was a student at Northwestern then, waiting on tables. That was 1911, and I was a repressed singer. Then I saw an ad that this vaudeville house wanted an illustrated song singer . . . you know, somebody to sing them songs they'd flash on the screen . . . so I got it. That was $18 a week, so I quit school. I'd work there from 10:30 to 10:30 and from 11 to 1:30 I'd work for a motor company. Then all at once I discovered I had nothing to do from 1 until 7 in the morning so I eloped to Crown Point and got married. . . . Chicago! Say, kid, tell 'em hello!"

Out in Beverly Hills, on the peak above and beyond Ginger Rogers' house, is the home of Boris Lovet-Lorski, the sculptor. It is a house of glass, air, and terraces. In it are books, windows, pieces of sculpture, and clay. Out on the highest terrace overlooking Coldwater canyon and four blue ranges of hills and the mist of the Pacific beyond are six mammoth busts. One, a gentleman with piercing eyes and a cap set at a rakish angle, we identified immediately as MacArthur, his plaster eyes gazing always out toward the Pacific. "I call it the Pacific conference," Lovet-Lorski said, indicating the group. "Who are the other generals?" we asked, waving at the five backs. "Who? Why, they're MacArthur, too, of course!" he said proudly. And they were. He cast 12 busts and is giving them, one by one, to the army camps up and down the west coast.

Sally Appeals for Garments to Aid Needy

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

The case of Mr. X. is typical of those of many elderly persons who are without friends or relatives and are completely dependent upon old age pensions.

Mr. X. is 70 years old and must attend a clinic regularly. He is also on a special diet. The pension he now receives covers his rent, and by careful managing, his food bills, but cannot possibly be stretched to allow for the purchase of clothing. His clothing is shabby and worn, and he would be grateful for clothing size 48, shoes size 9, or shirts size 17½. He is 5 feet 9 inches tall and weighs 189. The address is on the west side of the city.

Mr. Z. is also elderly and in need of assistance. Both he and his wife are receiving small pensions. Mrs. Z. recently suffered a stroke and is now an invalid. They are much in need of bedding of all kinds, and Mr. Z. would appreciate underwear, size 42 or 44. The address is on the north side of the city. Since the man in question is 82 years old, we will be glad to supply the address to any reader who wishes to mail items.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

Preëmptive [shutout] bids acquire extraordinary value when they are not always orthodox. By this I mean that a player should occasionally preëmpt with a hand containing far more than the requirements. The opponents, having grown accustomed to conventional preëmptives, are apt to be trapped as South was in the following deal.

East, dealer.

♠3
♥10 7
♦9 6 5 4 2
♣Q J 9 6 5

WEST
♠K Q 7 5
♥A K Q J 9 6

EAST
♠J 4

♦J 10 8

SOUTH
♠A 10 9 8 6 2
♥5 4 3
♦K Q 7
♣10

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	4 hearts [!]	Pass
Pass	4 spades	Double	Pass
Pass	Pass

The South player in this case was anything but a novice, yet he fell hook, line, and sinker for the bait that West had dangled before him in the form of a preëmptive bid. Moreover, the four spade call, tho perhaps in the "desperation" class, was not nearly as bad as was indicated by its outcome. Ninety-nine times in a hundred, with East passing and West preëmpting, South would be justified in his expectation of finding usable values in partner's hand. This time, however, not only the cards but the circumstances were stacked against South. West was inordinately lucky to choose this particular time for his preëmptive bid, a time when South had a tempting hand and North had a complete washout.

The defense took full advantage of South's miserable condition. West opened the heart king and, when East played the eight spot, cashed the heart ace, then shifted to the club king. A third high heart was ruffed in dummy and over-ruffed by East. The club ace was then laid down and declarer, who could gain nothing by discarding a diamond or by ruffing low, ruffed in with the spade eight. West conserved his trump strength by discarding a heart. Declarer now laid down the spade ace, dropping East's jack, then played the spade ten. West won with the queen and returned a heart. Declarer ruffed with his low spade and, for want of a better play, led the diamond king. West won and, instead of letting declarer make another low trump by ruffing one heart, cleverly returned his remaining diamond. East's ten forced the queen, and now when declarer exited with his last diamond, West discarded a heart. East won with the jack and, on his forced club return, West had to collect the king and seven of trumps because they lay over declarer's nine and six.

Thus the unfortunate contract was defeated no fewer than six tricks for the huge penalty of 1,700 points!

"The Spanish Lady"

By Maurice Walsh

Copyright: 1943: by Maurice Walsh

SYNOPSIS: Diego Usted, whose father was Spanish and whose mother Scotch, comes from his Commando duties to the Scottish Highlands thinking he has but a few months to live. He visits his mother's kin, his Uncle Hamish and Aunt Ellen McLeod. Hamish is head forester for Gen. Harper in Glen Affran. Harper is old and domineering and is disliked as much as Ann, his young Spanish wife, is loved. Maj. Arthur, brother of the general, and his two children, Charles and Henrietta, live with Ann and her husband at Lodge Affran. Henrietta says she is going to marry Larry McLeod, son of Hamish and Ellen, altho she seems to be falling in love with Diego. But Diego finds himself more attracted to Ann than Henrietta. Gen. Harper wants to become a governor of the Antilles and clear out of the glen forever. He gets his solicitor, Ewan McInnes, to visit the lodge, planning to change the inheritance law about his estate.

INSTALMENT XVI.

ROCK OF SKENE.

Larry's was a long week-end. He was not due on duty till Tuesday.

It was on Monday morning, another morning full of sun, that Maj. Harper, Ann, and Henrietta came down in the outboard-cobble and proposed the tramp to Strath Dearg by the sanctuary. Diego was quite friendly with the two ladies by this time. He had dined at the lodge on two or three occasions, and they had been down on each Sunday. With Henrietta he was carelessly familiar as if she were actually a member of the Loch Beg family, as she virtually was. With Ann he was still a little formal, as she was with him, but there was no coldness in that formality. Not familiar and not cold, there was an old world dignified understanding between them; and sometimes still he kissed her hand and waited for the warm pressure of her fingers.

They marched in light order, carrying steel shod crooks of hazel and holly. After about an hour Maj. Harper called a halt.

Larry and Henrietta came back, and the daughter said: "You're all right, dad?"

"The old leg has fallen down on the job, Hett. Doubt if I can make it round by the Strath and over the chorrie."

Ann Harper looked from him to Diego and spoke definitely. "We postpone this our walk to another time."

But Maj. Harper was equally definite and more reasonable. "Not at all! You'll go on and never mind me."

"It is an order," said Ann Harper. "Follow us, my children!"

With a quick, impulsive hand she swung Diego round, and the two strode off together. The other two followed.

"You are very beautiful," said Diego, presently.

"That is charming." Her hands went out. "But you will not fall in love with me, Don Diego?"

"I shall not tell you so."

"But that is perfect. Liking me a little, myself, you will be silent so that our friendship be strong—and good. I like you, too. But wait! There is one thing you will tell me first." She hesitated, and then touched his arm. "I was afraid. I am afraid now. You were in Spain in the terrible time?"

Diego knew what she wanted to know. He answered firmly.

"I was. I was in Madrid, in the Escorial, in the San Gredos. If the flag flies again I shall be there—or dead."

The hills, green and brown and gray ribbed and sun dazed, folded closely about them, and the track lifted more steeply and turned many corners. Larry kept steadily on at an even pace, that shortstrided pace that many virile men have. Three or four weeks ago that pace would have left Diego breathless, but now he breathed keenly thru his nostrils and felt the whalebone back in his legs. Another month, and again he might be a fighting man.

"You are marching again, Don," Henrietta said. "I believe you could do Cairn Seilig and snowball fight at the cairn. Larry and I are going up. What say, Ann?"

"It is not permitted for Don Diego, for his good—not yet, but soon. We will climb with you to the top of the rough chorrie and from there you will go up to the cairn, but we will go down above the lodge to the Rock of Skene where we will sit in the sun of evening, our toes a hundred meters above the loch and wait for you two hours."

They went up a stony rise for half a mile. At its head they turned a corner, and ahead, saw the chorrie. A conical peak rose to the left of it to a blunt point on which the pinhead of a cairn stood at above a ridge of snow.

"The wild hielands, Jimmy!" said Larry, "and that's our goal."

On one hand the cone of the mountain lifted a thousand smooth feet; and on the other a foot track in the heather went over the shoulder of the hill.

"Two hours we wait at the Rock of Skene—but longer if Don Diego charms me."

"I'll bounce a rock off the cairn at you," called Hettie.

"The poor young one!" said Ann. "My heart is not cold to her, as hers is to me—not always, not often. I think your cousin is touched by her in a place that hurts."

"And she?"

She turned her head round at him.

"And she! I do not know. But I will not have her hurt tho she hate me. In the end, I think that she will be one with her foster brother—if he is in life. Now I talk no more until the rock, and then you will talk."

The track they were on was easy all the way. They went on down for half an hour. Ann walked smoothly, untiredly, her lithe shoulders back and her head up, and her carriage was the carriage of a woman used to bearing weights on her head. But she was not at all silent, for sometimes she sang a snatch of Spanish song. And thus they came to a rounded linchened mass of rock standing a man's height out of the heather.

"The Rock of Skene," she said.

She stepped into the heather and went round to the front of the rock, Diego following her closely. But suddenly he started back in dismay, and felt for a grip on the stone. The edge of the cliff was only three paces away, and Ann was standing lightly on the very brink of it as if about to take the air.

"I am sorry. It is my surprise for you." She swung a hand out and down. "Behold my kingdom!"

He looked down and across Affran Loch. The mountains made an immense amphitheater before him. At the far end he saw the bluffs hiding Loch Beg and caught a distant glimpse of Glenn Aran; at the near end, only a down slanted mile away, he saw the torrent of young Affran water pouring white down the pass, and the stone house of Affran on its green tree dotted lawn below the pine belt.

"It is only a stroll down to the lodge," Ann said. "Now we will sit here in the heather and wait."

They sat side by side in the cushion of heather and grass between the rock and the cliff. Diego felt comfortable and a little drowsy, and in other company he would have slept. But he did not sleep in that woman's company. All he wanted to do was to sit there and listen to the deep richness of her voice, and occasionally feel the touch of her shoulder. But she did not begin to talk, and he turned his head to see if she were asleep. Her dark shining eyes met his.

"What would you have me talk about—your beauty?"

"But no—no! Your own place and the life of it."

Her deft questions got him interested and quite eloquent for a silent man. He told her of the white hacienda, wide verandaed, red roofed, with the high moorish arch leading into the big patio. She wanted to know of that house, how it was run, the women in it, the cooking arrangements, the ceremonial of the house and table, everything.

"But Don Diego," she said, "with that great house you would have many brothers and sisters, too."

"I am the only child."

"But that was so lonely for you, so tragic." She frowned. "Is it that you are of a family that do not breed?"

Diego laughed at that frankness. "Not so. I have six uncles and cousins by the score. My mother with God, when I was born—she had an accident."

"Yes, I understand. It was a tragedy. You will go on?"

He told her of the outside then, the plantations of yerba and sugar cane and maize and mandioca; of the immense pastures with the white fronted cattle; of the horses for whose colors they had seven and 40 names; and of the men that rode the horses so daringly but well.

Mrs. Gertrude G., Chicago—When you are painting around, or cleaning up this summer, here's my dad's tip on a safe position for the family ladder: Keep the foot of the ladder one-fourth of the ladder's length away from the wall against which it leans. And don't use a ladder that has a missing step or rung, or even one that is half broken.

Mrs. Graham C., Chicago—I'm always forced, it seems, to take two or three days to do even a little paint job around the house. So when I stop painting for the day I pour a little turpentine over any flat paint I'm using; over enamel I pour either turpentine or enamel oil, and over outside paint I pour boiled oil. These keep off any annoying scum, saving the bother of straining paint thru silk stocking or cheesecloth.

Anne S., Oak Park—I found an old piano stool in our attic that hadn't been used for 10 years. I dragged it onto the back porch, put oilcloth over the seat, and painted the legs to match kitchen woodwork. Now I have a handy little kitchen stool that's adjustable in height—something I've always wanted.

Mrs. Hilda F., Milwaukee—I use a clean tobacco pipe cleaner when I have to clean iced tea sippers.

Middle Course Is Best When Training Child

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Due to some comment in a letter from a mother who doesn't quite understand the trend of my articles on small children, and because there also may be others who do not, I am going to set down a few forthright statements.

When I advocate gaining obedience without spanking, I still mean gaining obedience, not giving the liberty that is license.

When I advise the young mother whose runabout child is discontented, and apparently destructive, to give him a chance to use his young muscles instead of keeping him quiet and expecting him to play only with "toys," I am really advocating a fine education in controled freedom.

You may be interested in a letter which came to my desk.

"I started reading your articles [with a prejudiced viewpoint] and decided your views on children were somewhat too liberal. Well, it was like reading directions for making a cake and deciding from printed matter that it wouldn't work.

"When my baby girl arrived I once more proceeded to read your column in a wary fashion, and realized that your information and advice, when intelligently applied, have excellent results. I want to take this opportunity to apologize.

"It is mostly mothers of a certain type of mind who read your column and quite glibly misquote you. That seems hardly fair. But, if it is any consolation, I firmly believe your column tends to keep all mothers happy."

The point probably is that it is difficult for some persons to believe in a middle course. These parents belong to the extremists.

They think that either you must believe that children should touch nothing, or that they should handle and mar everything. Either you must believe that adolescents should be absolutely controled by their parents, or that they should run wild. Either you believe that children should be under strict military discipline, or you believe they should have no discipline at all.

All of which, of course, is quite silly. There is such a thing as a happy medium or a middle course.

BY CECIL SMITH.

The story of "They Came to Blow Up America" is embroidered upon the history of the Nazi saboteurs who landed on Long Island, only to be apprehended by the FBI, tried, and duly required to pay the price of their guilt. Except for the fact that it is often difficult to tell which part of the plot is history and which part fiction, the film is a praiseworthy addition to the list of war inspired moving picture stories.

The direction is so intelligent and well paced and the acting is so capable that "They Came to Blow Up America" will hold you fast in your seat from beginning to end. There are several sequences of uncommon suspense and excitement, and there is never a dull or unreasonable moment.

George Sanders gives an easy and convincing performance as the hero, who assumes the identity of an American Nazi in order to fulfill his plans. Anna Sten, an actress of intensity and power, effectively plays a short role as the wife of the man whose identity and passport Mr. Sanders has appropriated. Dennis Hoey, departing from his custom of portraying British types, impersonates a gestapo colonel with the proper harsh brutality.

Thru the Looking Glass

Even the women who ordinarily perspire very little find they need a protection against perspiration stain and odor in hot weather.

It's been our experience that individuals have to do some experimenting to find the product that best suits their individual requirements. Some women need and can use quite strong preparations without irritation. Others must use products that are milder, even if they have to use them oftener.

One of our favorite preparations for women with sensitive skin who perspire normally is a double action cream which is highly efficient but quite easy on the skin. At least that's been our experience with it.

It's a pure white cream, very smooth and not at all grainy, that checks perspiration and completely deodorizes. Because it is so beautifully blended it vanishes into the skin almost instantly—there is no tedious waiting for it to dry. It's effective for from 12 to 24 hours for most women, for longer periods in some cases. We would judge that the average woman need use it only three or four times a week, but it can be applied, with no danger of irritation, as often as once a day.

This is the kind of preparation that you might be looking for as a grooming aid to be used regularly. If you perspire heavily you may need a liquid which is stronger. But if the flow is about average this can be used after the bath as often as necessary. There is no fuss or muss about it, and smoothing it on the skin doesn't take a moment of your precious grooming time.

Looking at Hollywood . . . . By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., July 7.—Paul Muni definitely returns to pictures in a story titled "At Night We Dream," to be produced by Lou Edelman, who's just signed a new contract at Columbia. Edelman will produce "My Client Curley," with Cary Grant, before getting around to Muni. . . . Lionel Barrymore is writing the foreword for Gene Fowler's book about his brother, John. And who, might I ask, could do it better? . . . Richard Quine of the coast guard brought Susan Peters an antique clock. When Susan finishes her picture in a week she gets a month off. It looks now as tho she and Richard would be married during that time. . . . Ginny Simms played Cupid to her secretary, Cora Mae Wilson, by introducing her to Craig W. Hayes of the air engineers. They'll be married in Santa Barbara July 23.

Paul Muni.

Give Her a Chance.

Geraldine Fitzgerald is wanted by Walter Wanger for his next picture. She has two more to do for Warners. I'm wondering why they don't give her a good part. She's played second fiddle to everybody on the lot. She's a fine actress, and in New York critics linked her with Helen Hayes and Tallulah Bankhead as giving the finest performances of the year. Geraldine's play wasn't very successful, but she was. It was "Sons and Soldiers." Instead of Warners buying it for the little girl, Metro grabbed it for one of its stars. . . . Nice casting—Lillian Gish and Richard Dix in "Man of the Family." . . . Zasu Pitts, not the play "Her First Murder," got good notices when it opened. Zasu deserves something much better.

Honeymoon Over.

I doubt whether Muriel Morris, when she becomes Mrs. Red Skelton, will do as much for his career as Edna has. Edna nursed him along as you would a child, and carefully built him into a name known all over America. Now she's forced into a back seat. One of the things I liked about Red when he first arrived was that wherever he gave a performance he always introduced Edna, saying, "She really should be taking the bows, because she's entirely responsible for my career." . . . Richard Arlen, always canny about business, is looking ahead. He's bought himself an automobile agency down in San Diego.

Work, Not Pleasure.

If you catch Martha O'Driscoll and Leighton Noble tripping into the Trocadero of an afternoon, it's not for fun but vocal lessons from Al Siegel, who's coaching them for "Crazy House." . . . Atwater Kent and his friend, Vivi Scott, must have forgotten that court battle and made up. Anyway, as guests were leaving a party at his house, Vivi was arriving. Nobody knows how rich Kent is, but I hear a business man offered him $150,000,000 for half his interests. . . . The Catalina coast guard band, headed by Bill Markas and not Lt. Rudy Vallee, goes to Santa Barbara Friday to help recruit SPARS. Now the band calls itself "The Lucky 13."

No Battles.

Now that "Cry Havoc" is finished, the 13 girls who made it are lonely. Each day one brought a present. Margaret Sullavan arrived one day with 13 bottles of pep pills, and another brought a card which her small daughter gave her on Mother's day. It read, "To my son who is overseas." The baby loved the picture on it, and wouldn't buy any other card. . . . Joan Blondell is so good she may do another at Metro. While she was there, she lost a good part in "Government Girl" with Olivia De Havilland. Joan thinks that little Dorothy Morris, who did the hysterical scenes, is star material. . . . Looks as tho Veronica Lake would save her baby, but it may arrive earlier than Veronica anticipated. She has to remain in the hospital until after the blessed event.

Of Such Is Fame.

When Oscar Levant reported at Warners for the Gershwin picture, he was sent over to the makeup department. They asked what part he was taking. "Oscar Levant," said he. He was told to wait. Then they got pictures of Levant, compared them with his face and said, "Yes, we won't have any difficulty making you up to look like him." . . . First shots of Joan Fontaine in "Frenchman's Creek" are so good Paramount wants her for two more. . . . Myron Selznick had dinner for his mother on her birthday, brought in a cake with two candles, decorated with a huge question mark, and said, "Now, mother, give. Just how old are you?" She said, "66—as I was last year, year before that, and many years before that."

Deserves It.

Credit should be given where it's due. Mrs. Basil Rathbone deserves much. If other hostesses at the Hollywood canteen worked as hard to get star entertainers as Ouida, there'd be no complaints from anybody. She also got a check of $1,000 from Spyros Skouras, which buys the angel's table for 10 weeks. Instead of angels, wounded soldiers will occupy that place of honor, which is even better. . . . Red Cross blood bank was likened to a coronation by a friend of mine. "Why?" I asked. "Because so many faint—only it's men, not ladies." A male friend of hers has given three times. Each time he made up his mind nothing would happen—each time the big lug passed out like a light.

"I see by Newsweek . . .

Soldiers' Influence on Congress Is Growing! Seems letters from service men and relatives played an important part in making congress pass anti-strike bill over President's veto. Already congress has provided service men with more benefits than the 1918 boys received until long after the war. Political observers believe the next big lobby will be service men . . . it will dwarf the influence organized labor has won in recent years! (Note: Every week our fighting men receive "Battle-Baby"—Newsweek's miniature overseas edition.)

"I see by Newsweek . . .

Two Angles on the Roosevelt-Congress Dispute! Ernest Lindley says, Roosevelt is well-informed on the biggest problems facing us; congress is not. Roosevelt is still anxious about the future; congress is over-optimistic. Roosevelt has neglected home affairs, but congress in an angry mood hasn't helped matters. On the other hand, Ralph Robey says, confusion on taxation, food production, rationing, and labor problems rests squarely on decisions made by Roosevelt and his bureaucrats! (Note: Signed opinions by recognized authorities are regular Newsweek features.)

ARE you tired of news that is "angled". . . news that tries to lead your thinking? Wouldn't you rather have honest, objective reporting? Example: We gave you both sides of the coal miner's controversy . . . at a time when most news sources gave one side only.

Perhaps you're weary of news warmed over . . . of facts you've read again and again! Wouldn't you prefer inside information, news-meaning, news-significance? Example: Recently we revealed a behind-the-scenes story on the drafting of fathers . . . with facts that helped clarify a confusing picture!

Maybe you'd like opinions that are signed. Example: We give you the signed opinions of Lindley, Moley, Robey, Pratt, and Lardner.

Maybe you're looking for something more than yesterday and today . . . for the news that hasn't happened yet . . . the trends that will affect your life tomorrow? Example: Newsweek's "Periscope" predictions have been 88% accurate . . . and Newsweek's "Postwar Horizons" has already explored postwar U. S. bases, the postwar food problem, postwar aviation, electronics, plastics—will continue to illuminate the world of tomorrow.

"I see by Newsweek . . .

Britain's Postwar Plans Won't Conflict with Ours! According to Newsweek's postwar horizons department we will both dominate world commerce because we will share vast productive capacity and the control that goes with victory. Britain must increase exports to make up for foreign investments lost in war . . . but world needs will be great enough at first to make fighting for markets unnecessary. The main difference between Britain's plans and ours is that she has already determined her postwar goals.

"I see by Newsweek . . .

Nazi Desperation Over Cracking Morale is reflected in new propaganda line which plays up suffering from allied bombing . . . promotes hate. They've also changed from "fortress of Europe" line to "inner fortress" line because of imminent invasion of Italy. Further evidence of cracking morale is shown in frenzied efforts of many Germans to get neutral testimony in writing that they have been "good" Germans in their behavior towards Jews and other oppressed groups!

"I see by Newsweek . . .

We Home-Fronters Can Expect . . . a big new prohibition drive this year . . . fewer movies than at any time in 20 years . . . more meat by mid-summer with the possibility of the government buying up all stocks and distributing them . . . certain other food stocks may also be sold through the government—at a loss—to reduce cost of living and improve distribution . . . the same amount of oil despite new pipe lines!

(Important: One sure way to speed victory and good things again is to buy as many war bonds and stamps as we possibly can!)

April 23, 1942—Newsweek's "Periscope" predicted Finland's policy of inactive warfare which was announced in the news on July 25, three months later.

March 22, 1943—Newsweek's "Periscope" predicted that Russia would soon renew fishing treaty with Japan. Five days later the signing of the treaty was announced in the news.

April 5, 1943—Newsweek's "Periscope" revealed that the Navy was holding back, for reasons of security, good news in the Pacific.

We had occupied the Russells in the Solomons . . . announced in the news on May 5!

We had established a base on Amchitka, 70 miles from Kiska . . . announced in the news on May 8!

Every week Newsweek's "Periscope" gives you predictions, inside views, and dramatic pre-views of world events. It has been accurate more than 4 out of 5 times.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The White Sox were so sorely pressed for hits in the pinches yesterday that they finally resorted to their pet weapon—wild west running. Wally Moses set out for home when the enemy wasn't suspecting anything, reached the plate with room to spare and registered the run that slapped down Joe Cronin's Boston boys in the 14th inning. The score was 3 to 2, marking the sixth success for Johnny Humphries, who stuck to the finish by yielding only one hit in the last seven innings.

Climb to Third Place.

The victory raised the Sox to third place in the American league standings.

At one stage of the show Dykes' stock yards gang didn't seem to have much chance of getting away with the rubber game of the series. The enemy had Humphries down under a 2 to 0 count in five innings and the Sox couldn't get into the run column against Oscar Judd until the sixth when a fly ball produced one. Thanks to a pass issued by Rescuer Mike Ryba, they had the tying run forced on them in the eighth and the party proceeded from there until Moses staged his wild dash.

Moses not only delivered the final stroke, but started it on its way by singling to start the 14th, his first hit in seven appearances. Thurman Tucker bunted him to second and Guy Curtright singled to center but Moses went only as far as third. Ryba was hastily yanked for Mace

WHEN Hi Bithorn, four time conqueror of the Cardinals this year, was left off the National league All-Star team he became incensed and more so when some one told him the squad was picked by sports writers. . . . Some of the accused sports writers, a bit frightened at the Puerto Rican's wrath, hastily broke down and told him the truth—that the selections were solely in the hands of the managers. . . . In 1938 we saw Tandberg outpoint Germany's heavyweight champion, Herbert Runge, at the Sportspalast in Berlin, but he couldn't make the trip to the United States and Runge substituted for him. . . . July.

I sing of July and hollyhocks,

Their sweet summer harvest glean.

And poppies wave hot and red;
And white moths idle their lives away,
O'er the blue-green cabbage bed.

I sing of July, when the firefly,
When locusts strum, of the frosts to come,
And many other things.

Our Boys Go to War.

So many boys have left our town
With firm unfaltering step.
Keen lads just out of high school
They've left our quiet homes and streets
And all the folk they knew,
For Uncle Sam has called them
For a job he has to do.

The letters come from far and near
From these, our loyal sons—
These chaps who'll play a vital part
With ships and planes and guns.
They're working hard, they tell us,
And they're meeting ev'ry test.
And they want to do their best.

I sometimes wonder how they'll fare
Wherever they may go,
For some may land in old Berlin
And some in Tokio.
And some may be in submarines,
Beneath the heaving foam,
Or drop huge bombs from planes that
Fly ten thousand miles from home.

Our town is not the same,
But this we know, where'er they go,
Each one will play the game.
We're mighty proud of boys like these—
Lads loyal to the core,
And pray they'll all come safely back
When we have won this war.

First I spelled it "cissors," but that didn't look right, so I crossed it out and spelled it "sissors" and that didn't look right, either. I got out my little dictionary and looked up "cis," but all I could find was cistern. Then I looked up "sis" and all I could find was sister. SIGNATOR, 8-5, WINS $5,000 NORTHWESTERN

Six Entered for Today's Feature.

Great Lakes Field

SIX horses will go to the post today in Arlington Park's $5,000 Great Lakes claiming stakes at Washington Park. The field in order of post position follows:

	Weight.	Jockey.	Prob. Odds.
Weigh Anchor	114	M. Peters	10-1
Reading II.	117	No boy	5-2
Georgie Drum	117	F. Zufelt	10-1
Pumpgun	114	No boy	8-1
Devalue	120	M. Pena	2-1
Valdina Gr'm	114	No boy	4-1

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Signator, the Woolford farm's 5 year old campaigner which loves to gallop thru the mud, found yesterday's off-track exactly to his liking as he led the way home in Arlington Park's $5,000 Northwestern handicap at Washington Park.

Racing at odds of 8 to 5, Signator got in two lengths ahead of the even money favorite, Red Vulcan. Wishbone was third and Martian last in the field of four. The difficult track conditions had prompted the withdrawal of Best Seller, King's Abbey, Daily Trouble, and Blue Pennant from this midweek stake.

Signator was scoring his second victory of the Chicago season, his previous success having occurred in one of Lincoln Fields' stakes. The running strip had dried so quickly after the downpour of Tuesday that it was no worse than slow when the horses came out for the Northwestern handicap, a seven furlong dash.

Takes Command Early.

Nick Jemas lost no time in sending Signator out to take command and from the early stages to the finish it was just a question of whether Red Vulcan would be able to catch him. At one stage Signator had a four length advantage, which was reduced to three at the head of the stretch. In the straightaway Ferril Zufelt asked Red Vulcan for speed, but the favorite was unable to threaten the leader.

Six horses in the top range of the claiming class will go to the post today in the $5,000 Great Lakes claiming stakes, a gallop of a mile and a furlong.

H. H. Haag's Devalue, winner of three stake events in New England during the spring season, has been alloted top weight of 120 pounds. His rivals will include Reading II., Weigh Anchor, Georgie Drum, Valdina Groom, and Pumpgun.

Mar-Kell Top-Weighted.

Reading II., an importation from Australia, is a grass course record holder. Valdina Groom, a familiar campaigner to Chicago fans, has been delivering some fairly good races this season.

Racing Secretary Webb Everett yesterday announced the weights for the $10,000 Matron stakes, which will top Saturday's program. As expected, Calumet farm's brilliant filly, Mar-Kell, was alloted the top impost—126 pounds. Brookmeade stable's Pomayya drew 118 and from there the imposts range down to 100 pounds on Hasty Kiss, Wheatstraw, and Wiseasyou.

Mar-Kell scored her most recent victory in the Cinderella handicap on June 30. During the previous week she had won the War Admiral purse in which her stablemate, Whirlaway, finished third.

Matron Eligibles Listed.

The eligibles for the Matron, together with weights, follow: Calumet farm's Mar-Kell, 126; Brookmeade stable's Pomayya, 118; J. C. Ellis' Flying Easy, 114; Brookmeade's Yarrow Maid, 112; Hal Price Headley's Askmenow, 109; Woolford farm's Pig Tails, 105; Leslie Combs' Hometown, 104; Coldstream stable's Horn, 103; J. K. Houssel's Emolument, 102; Mrs. E. G. Bennett's Rivagold, 102; Ruth Sidell's Burgoo Maid, 102; E. P. Metz's Hasty Kiss, 100; Thomas Piatt's Wheatstraw, 100, and J. D. Well's Wiseasyou, 100.

MORE WORRY FOR THE REDSKINS

Cub-Dodger Game Balked by Weather

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 7.—Weather brought an interruption to Cub doings today and the game which the lads were to have played with the Dodgers will become part of a double header on Aug. 18, first day of a four day visit.

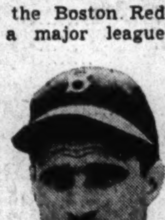
Tomorrow the Chicagoans will journey to Fort Monmouth for a contest with the signal corps fellows there. This will be in the nature of a warm up for the impending crucial series for last place between the Giants and Cubs, which opens with a single game Friday and proceeds with double headers on Saturday and Sunday. The Giants have won six of their last eight games in National league competition. Also they have whipped the Cubs in all five matches the teams have played this season.

Manager Jim Wilson has his pitching assignments lined up for the entire impending series. Henry Wyse will pitch the opener. Hi Bithorn and Bill Lee will work Saturday's double header and it will be Paul Derringer and Claude Passeau in the Sunday engagements.

Lou Novikoff will continue in left field for a while, regardless of the state of Ival Goodman's health, Wilson said today. Goodman, however, is a really sick boy and it may be quite a spell before he is able to resume play.

Bobby Doerr Sets Fielding Record for 2d Basemen

Bobby Doerr of the Boston Red Sox has broken a major league fielding record for second baseman, surpassing Oscar Melillo's mark of 271 chances at that position without an error in 1933.



Bobby Doerr.

After making his second error of the season May 20 in Cleveland, Doerr has been perfect. Since that game he has been flawless on 285 plays. Statisticians last night were trying to learn at what point in the May 20 game Doerr erred. That day he handled 10 chances, so his still unfinished record is between 285 and 295.

Doerr, who led the league in fielding last year with .975 while making 21 errors, has been charged with only two misplays this season, having taken care of 410 of 412 chances for a .995 mark.

Naval Cadets Loom Large in Leahy's Plans

Cleveland, O., July 7 (AP).—The traditional football game between Notre Dame university and the United States Naval academy in Cleveland's Municipal stadium Oct. 30 shapes up as almost an all-Navy game, Frank Leahy, Notre Dame coach and athletic director, said here today.

The university now has more than 3,000 naval training students, Leahy said, and the Irish will be strongly reinforced by the sailors.

At a chamber of commerce luncheon for representatives of Notre Dame and the Annapolis academy, Leahy paid tribute to the naval academy, declaring:

"The men in charge of athletics at the naval academy have done more to keep football going than any other group in the country. I assure you that we appreciate it."

Regarding prospects for a 1943 team, Leahy said the veteran Angelo Bertelli and Pennsylvanian John Lujack are the only two quarter backs available to operate in the T-formation, but both may be transferred. Bertelli is in the marine corps reserve and Lujack is a navy V-12 student.

STUHLDREHER GETS OWN PUPIL FOR FULL BACK

Reports Aug. 7 for Charity Game.

All-Star Roster

THE following college football players have accepted invitations to join the All-Star squad which will meet the Washington Redskins in Dyche stadium on Aug. 25:

BY WILFRID SMITH.

When Harry Stuhldreher of Wisconsin, head coach of the 1943 All-Star football team, calls his players together in Dyche stadium Aug. 7, he will be greeted by one of his greatest Badger players. That player is Marlin [Pat] Harder, Wisconsin full back, a member of the United States marine corps, currently stationed at Parris Island, S. C.

Harder has accepted an invitation to join the college squad which meets the Washington Redskins in the 10th game sponsored by The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., in Dyche stadium Aug. 25. Addition of Harder, who led the Western conference in scoring in 1941 and who was third in this tabulation last year, gives the college back field a full back who not only is thoroly grounded in the system of offense Coach Stuhldreher will teach but who will round out an attack the Redskins will have great difficulty in stopping.

All This Makes Pat Great.

Wisconsin fans still debate after two years why Harder is a great full back. They agree wholeheartedly that he has no peer, but some have maintained he was superlative in performance because of speed and ability to run in the open, while others insist his fame rests on the power of his quick starting, hard smash at opponents' lines.

Each group of Harder's supporters, of course, is correct. While Pat's 190 pounds on a 6 foot frame fit the requirements of a half back, he has used the weight with the effectiveness of a 220 pound line crasher. From his prep school competition at Milwaukee's Washington High, where he scored 143 points in eight games one season, thru his junior year at Wisconsin last fall, few have doubted Harder's preëminence, and these critics do not live in the state of Wisconsin.

In his sophomore year Harder rallied a Badger attack that previously had lacked speed to be effective consistently, and he rolled up 731 yards from scrimmage to lead the Western conference in ground gained and in scoring.

349 Yards in 5 Games!

Harder had a net gain of 349 yards in five conference games last fall when the Badgers finished second in the Big Nine. He lost only 26 yards in the 89 times he carried the ball. Gene Fekete of Ohio State, who led in ground gained with 550 yards, carried the ball 134 times to Harder's 89, and Harder thus had a superior average gain of 3.9 yards to Fekete's 3.1.

Pat's 40 points gave him third place in scoring, and the men who finished ahead of him, Fekete and Paul Sarringhaus, also of the Buckeyes, had the advantage of playing six conference contests. Harder scored five touchdowns and 7 of the 9 points after touchdowns he attempted. Fekete, conference scoring leader, made six touchdowns

2 ILLINOIS CITIES SEND ENTRIES TO TRIBUNE SWIM

Moline and Bloomington to Be Represented.

Moline and Bloomington, Ill., were represented in the entries received yesterday for the Chicagoland 100 yard free style swimming races. Don Sundine of Moline entered the sectional trials in the California park pool and Mary Sue Dennis of the Lakeside Country club, Bloomington, Ill., chose to compete in the qualifying races in Cermak pool.

Miss Dennis competed in class B for girls 13 and 14 years of age last year and qualified for the Chicagoland championships. This year she swims in class C for contestants 15 and 16 years of age. The Cermak pool races will be held on Saturday, July 17, as will the preliminary races in the Sherman park pool.

Qualifiers Meet July 25.

Sundine competes in class C for boys and the California park preliminaries on July 18 are paired with trials in Whealan pool on the same afternoon. The qualifiers in the four sectional meets—118 qualified last year for the finals—will meet in the 10 championship races on Sunday, July 25, in California park.

The number of boys and girls receiving qualifying medals at the four sectionals will be determined on the ratio the entry at each center bears to the total registration. In the class E races for boys and girls 19 years of age and over, the entry this year, because of the war and employment, may not warrant qualifying events. In this case the contestants will be notified to report directly for the finals in California park.

Bronze Souvenir Button.

The purpose, of course, of the sectionals is to permit as many youngsters as possible to enter the 100 yard tests without traveling too far from their homes. This also is the reason each swimmer receives a souvenir bronze button for completing his 100 yard test. The races, annually sponsored by The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., were founded in 1930 to encourage youngsters under 16 years of age to enter speed swimming contests. One hundred yards was selected as the most adequate test of ability.

There were only two age classes in 1930, but the following summer the age divisions were expanded to five classes for boys and five for girls.

Entries for this year's sectional trials will close at midnight Monday. Individual entries may be made on the blank printed daily in these columns. Team entries may be submitted by coach or group leader if the home address of each contestant is given as well as his age.

45 REPORT FOR FOOTBALL DRILL AT WISCONSIN

Madison, Wis., July 7 (AP).—Forty-five candidates reported for summer football practice at the University of Wisconsin yesterday, but only one has had any previous experience in a Badger uniform.

Coach Harry Stuhldreher said Full Back Len Calligaro was the lone exception. Calligaro saw some action last fall as a replacement for Marlin [Pat] Harder, now in the marines.

Stuhldreher said the candidates included trainees in the navy's V-5, V-7, and V-12 scholastic programs, some regular university students, and a few freshmen.

Tribute Game for Paige at Wrigley Field July 18

Chicago admirers of Leroy [Satchel] Paige are planning to pay tribute to the Negro baseball pitcher when a day is tendered in his honor at Wrigley field, Sunday, July 18. Paige will be on the mound for the Memphis Red Sox of the Negro American league in an intersectional showdown with the New York Cubans of the Negro National league. The other game will bring together the Birmingham Black Barons, winners of the Negro American league's first half, and the clever Cincinnati Clowns of the same circuit.

Nine Amateur Bouts Carded for Tomorrow

Pairings for a series of amateur bouts between boxers from Camp Grant and Chicago were announced yesterday by Matchmaker Bob Howard. The show will be held in the Madison-Cicero outdoor arena tomorrow.

There will be nine contests, two of which will bring together Tim Dalton, Chicago lightweight, and George Matijo of Camp Grant, and Johnny Mezzano, Chicago bantamweight, and Gene Roberts of Camp Grant.

Lyndell McClure, Camp Grant, vs. Merrill Hudson, Chicago heavyweights; Joe Chuckro, Camp Grant, vs. Billy Love, Chicago, 175; Ray Grimm, Camp Grant, vs. Charles Glenn, Chicago, 155; Don Hanni, Camp Grant, vs. Sammy Sanders, Chicago, 147; Fred Conti, Camp Grant, vs. Bob Weatherly, Chicago, 126; Grover Barren, Camp Grant, vs. Johnny Bratton, Chicago, 128; William McVay, Camp Grant, vs. Jackie Boyd, Chicago, 112.

SPORTSMEN TO PLAN CANADIAN DUCK BREEDING

Plans for creating a new "duck factory" in eastern Saskatchewan will be discussed tonight by 250 Chicago sportsmen at the Svithiod club, 624 West Wrightwood avenue. The proposed duck breeding area, to be called Lake Illinois, will be created by a new dam which will maintain water levels in a marshy territory near Yorkton, Sask. The Lake Illinois committee has been formed by the Ducks Unlimited organization to promote the project.

Tom Main, engineer in charge of Ducks Unlimited's Canadian projects, said yesterday that the proposed dam would flood about 4,000 acres and maintain marsh levels conducive to duck nesting on an additional 40,000 acres. At the present time the area is flooded in the spring, but dries up in midsummer, leaving thousands of ducklings stranded.

ILLINI GRIDIRON DRILL ATTRACTS 30 PROSPECTS

Champaign, Ill., July 7 (AP).—Coach Ray Eliot has 30-odd players out for summer football practice at Illinois—but it's not as good as it sounds. For until last night only one member of the squad, Ralph Palmer, had had previous college experience.

Now Eliot has two veterans on hand, since Full Back Theron Bradley, former Illini freshman and later a varsity performer at the University of Wyoming, has reentered Illinois.

OPEN 51ST SEASON.

Ames, Ia., July 7 [Special].—When the football season opens with Kansas Oct. 9 it will mark the beginning of the 51st gridiron season at Iowa State college.

HARDER TO PLAY WITH ALL-STARS AGAINST PROS

A Back Field of Stars.

Harder's position in Western conference football is best exemplified by his selection in a poll of the nine conference coaches. He was named on the all-conference team at full back, while Fekete was placed on the second team and Bob Wiese of Michigan was given honorable mention in the same newspaper service poll. Harder's greatest thrills in football were Wisconsin's victories last year over Minnesota and Ohio State.

There will be additions to the 1943 All-Star squad, of course, but right now the college men could open practice. In addition to Harder, Coach Stuhldreher will have Roy McKay of Texas, outstanding Southwest conference full back; Bob Steuber, Missouri; Otto Graham, Northwestern, and Charles Trippi, Georgia, at left half back, and Steve Lach, Duke, and Steve Juzwik, Notre Dame, at right half.

The All-Star line was bolstered yesterday by acceptance of an invitation by Ray Frankowski, University of Washington guard. Frankowski, whose home is in Hammond, Ind., and who is stationed at Navy pier, is 23 years of age, weighs 220 pounds, and is 5 feet 11 inches tall. Frankowski played three years on the Huskie varsity and he was a member of the 1942 All-Star team which met the Chicago Bears a year ago.

JOYCE, TEANEY HEAD MONDAY'S RING PROGRAM

Harry Teaney, Cleveland lightweight, has been signed to meet Jimmy Joyce of Gary in an eight round semi-windup to a 10 round event between Nate Bolden and Clarence Brown in Marigold outdoor arena Monday.

Six round events will bring together Bob Garner, Louisville light heavyweight, and Jesse Jackson, and Fitz Fitzpatrick, middleweight, also of Cleveland, and Jimmy Hunt. Isadore Miner and Jerry Pittro, local welterweights, will clash in a four round opener.

Hymie Wiseman, co-manager with Billy Daly of Lee Savold, yesterday was in town to close a match between Savold and Lou Nova in Wrigley field Aug. 9.

YANKEES BLANK BROWNS, 2 TO 0; DICKEY INJURED

Veteran Catcher Rehurts Ailing Knee.

St. Louis, Mo., July 7 (AP).—The New York Yankees completed a clean sweep of their four game series with the St. Louis Browns today by capturing a 2 to 0 shutout on Spurgeon [Spud] Chandler's six hit hurling.

The Yanks sewed up their victory in the first three innings, scoring a run in the second on successive singles by Bill Dickey, Joe Gordon, and Bill Johnson and again in the third on Nick Etten's sixth home run of the season and fourth of the current western swing.

The Yankee triumph was tempered by the recurrence of the leg injury which had kept Catcher Dickey out of action for more than a month. After opening the second inning with a single, Dickey pulled up lame at second base as Gordon beat out a bunt and the veteran had to be replaced by Rookie Ken Sears. His withdrawal today may mean that he will not be available to the American league All-Stars in their game with the National league at Philadelphia Tuesday night. Score:

TIGERS WIN; TAKE SECOND.

Detroit, Mich., July 7 (AP).—The Detroit Tigers, gaining their ninth victory in 11 games took the American league's second place today by beating the Washington Senators, 9 to 1, for a 3 to 1 series edge. It was Washington's seventh defeat against three successes in the west.

Southpaw Hal Newhouser pitched a five hitter for his seventh victory and one of his rare triumphs over the Senators since 1940. He fanned eight to raise his league leading strikeout total to 78. Rookie Dick Wakefield of Detroit got three safeties to run his season total to 96 hits. Score:

Reds Defeat Braves, 5 to 1, Then Lose, 4-2

Boston, Mass., July 7 (AP).—The Boston Braves and Cincinnati Reds split a double header at Braves' field today as Elmer Riddle pitched a three hit, 5 to 1, victory for the Reds in the opener, and Manny Salvo squared the Braves in the second game with a five hit, 4 to 2, triumph.

Nate Andrews, who opposed Riddle in the first game, was given poor support by the Braves and Riddle had no trouble in scoring his 10th success of the season. Salvo recorded his third victory of the campaign, and Bucky Walters lost for the ninth time this season in the second game. Score:

WHITE SOX BEAT BOSTON, 3-2, ON STEAL IN 14TH

Moses Speeds Home to Win for Humphries.

Brown, the onetime Pirate. He helped things along by passing Appling, but promptly put a damper on the rally by fanning Jim Grant. Then, after two wide pitches to Don Kolloway, Moses set out for home, a maneuver so unexpected that he was almost ready to start his slide before Brown turned loose the pitch.

Skeeter Drives In Run.

Humphries dodged the possible dangers of a pass in the first inning, but there was nothing he could do about preventing a run in the second, unless he restricted the hitting, and that wasn't done. Babe Barna singled with one out and after two were out, little Skeeter Newsome sailed a double over Curtright's head, Barna scoring.

The Chicagoans didn't even make a man's sized threat against Judd until the fifth. In this session Joe Kuhel singled and took third on a single by Mike Tresh with one out but Humphries merely fanned and Moses fouled to Bobby Doerr.

Humphries also had two of his enemies flattened in the fifth before conceding the second run. Pete Fox singled to right, Tony Lupien walked, and Jim Tabor singled to left, sending in Fox. There also was a single from Doerr's bat—a line drive that Grant blocked but couldn't hold. Humphries got out of this jam by fanning Barna.

Appling Comes Thru.

The lone run picked off by the Sox in the sixth was started by a pass to Tucker with none out. Curtright halted a further nose dive of his recently hefty average by singling to left, Tucker speeding to third. He stepped home on Luke Appling's fly to Fox, but Grant forced Curtright and Kolloway was erased on an infield tap.

The first two Sox to face Judd in the eighth were dispatched easily and even when Curtright walked there wasn't much thought of a tie. Infield singles by Appling and Grant, filling the bases, didn't arouse much hope, but this was where Ryba was rushed in to relieve Judd and the change was just what the Chicagoans needed. The rescuer walked Don Kolloway, forcing in Curtright with the tying run. The inning closed on Kuhel's fly to Fox.

SMITH IS SUSPENDED

The pacesetting Yankees, who will launch a Chicago visit with an electric light game tonight in Comiskey park, will not have to look at the southpawing of Eddie Smith during the series. The little round man was suspended indefinitely yesterday by Manager James Dykes on a charge of not being in condition for work. Smitty will get back on the payroll if, or when, he can show an appreciable shrinkage in his waist line. He has won four, but lost six.

Orval Grove will trot out his 6 victory, no loss record tonight to let the Yankees have a look. Hank Borowy will operate for the pacesetters.

The Sox catching staff was reduced to one able-bodied man yesterday when Tom Turner went to his home in Arizona upon receipt of word his mother had suffered a stroke. Vin Castino hasn't fully recovered from the effects of the foul tip that removed one of his fingernails during last Sunday's first game.

Jim Webb, the Sox reserve infielder who had been notified to report today for induction in Meridian, Miss., and who asked to have his papers transferred to a Chicago board, has been granted a stay by the latter. The papers haven't arrived.

REFEREE FINDS DEMPSEY WINNER IN DIVORCE SUIT

Holds Charges Proven Beyond Doubt.

White Plains, N. Y., July 7 (AP).—Former Heavyweight Boxing Champion Jack Dempsey today won a referee's decision in his marital battle with the former Hannah Williams, one time singing star of Broadway musical comedy.

Official Referee J. Addison Young of the state Supreme court awarded Dempsey, now a lieutenant commander in the coast guard, a decree of divorce, ruling that "the charge of the defendant's infidelity alleged in the amended complaint as occurring Nov. 22, 1942, at Los Angeles, Cal., was proven beyond a doubt."

He referred to Dempsey's allegation that his wife had been intimate with Benny Woodall, trainer of prize fighters, in a west coast bungalow.

Wife's Claim Dismissed.

As far as it went the 70 word decision was a sweeping victory for Dempsey. Young dismissed Mrs. Dempsey's counter-claim for a separation.

Among the questions left to be determined was the custody of the two Dempsey children, Barbara, 6 years old, and Joan, 8. They are living in their father's Scarsdale, N. Y., home.

Custody Fight Up Next.

Under routine legal procedures which will be followed in this case, Dempsey's attorney will submit to the court for approval statements of the findings in the case. If approved by the court interlocutory judgment would be entered, setting the period of time which must elapse before the decree becomes final.

Referee Young ruled he would "consider the question of the custody of the children and other relevant matters" when the interlocutory judgment was settled. Arthur F. Driscoll, Dempsey's counsel, said he would start the preparation of findings of fact immediately.

NAVY AIR SHOW TO SALUTE ARMY MEN TOMORROW

Special observances will mark two of the July broadcasts of Meet Your Navy, presented each week by the men of Great Lakes Naval Training station. The bluejackets will unloose musical salvos in salute to their khaki comrades in arms at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow over WLS-Blue network.

Maj. Gen. Henry S. Aurand, commanding general of the 6th service command, and his aide, Maj. Wayne King, will be "aboard" to receive the navy's special salute. They will be welcomed by Rear Adm. John Downes, commandant of the 9th naval district.

On Friday, July 30, the Meet Your Navy program will be broadcast from the Chicago Stadium as part of a special navy "Happy Hour" to be presented as a highlight of Chicago's Meet Your Navy day, proclaimed by Mayor Kelly. The Happy Hour, a typical all-Bluejacket revue, will be presented in coöperation with Cook county council of the American Legion, with proceeds going to service men's centers.

RAIL WALKOUT THREATENS BIG COPPER MINE

Union Claim Denied by Utah Company.

Bingham Canyon, Utah, July 7 (AP).—A walkout of 100 railroad men threatened today to shut down completely operations of the Utah Copper company, which produces a large portion of the nation's supply of war vital red metal.

Approximately 6,000 men are employed in the company's open cut mine at Bingham Canyon, largest in the world, and its mills at Arthur and Magna.

The dispute centered on the question of retirement benefits for members of the Order of Railway Conductors [AFL]. A union spokesman said these were in jeopardy but the company denied the claim.

Employment Status at Issue.

The men walked out over demands that the company recognize they are employes of the Bingham and Garfield railroad, not the copper company. Bert H. Richardson, union spokesman, said the company's refusal to classify the men as railroad employes caused them to lose benefits of the railroad retirement act.

D. D. Moffatt, company president and general manager, said processing of ore at the Magna and Arthur mills has ceased with the stoppage of ore shipments from the open mine at Bingham. Fires in the huge Mallet engines, which haul ore on six round trips daily between mine and mills, were cooling today for the first time since depression days.

Union Claim Disputed.

Disputing the union's spokesman's claim the company said in a statement:

"A number of years ago train and enginemen on the Utah Copper company ore delivery department contended they were entitled to retirement benefits under the railroad retirement act and the courts ruled in their favor on that issue."

Depletion of the stockpile, which processes concentrates from the mills into copper bars, may close the smelter, operators said. The bulk of smelter output, after refining at east and west coast plants, goes into war production.

Pickets Close Mines.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 7 (AP).—Roving pickets closed four mines and prevented four others from reopening today in the Brownsville region along the Monongahela river. Nearly 5,000 miners who planned to work were kept idle. Among the pickets were three women.

John P. Busarello, president of United Mine Workers, district 5, said the pickets were among insurgent miners who at a three hour meeting in Brownsville yesterday decided to try to enlist other miners in their "No contract, no work" campaign.

Busarello described it as "an outlaw meeting of an outlaw group of miners."

Aluminum Molders Out.

Bridgeport, Conn., July 7 (AP).—A strike of 60 molders at the Aluminum Company of America continued today, with union officials blaming lack of protection facilities for the work stoppage and a company spokesman contending that wage increases and bonuses also were an issue.

The molders quit Saturday after two workers were injured in the explosion of a mold, and notified the management that they would not return until their demands for the installation of protective devices were met.

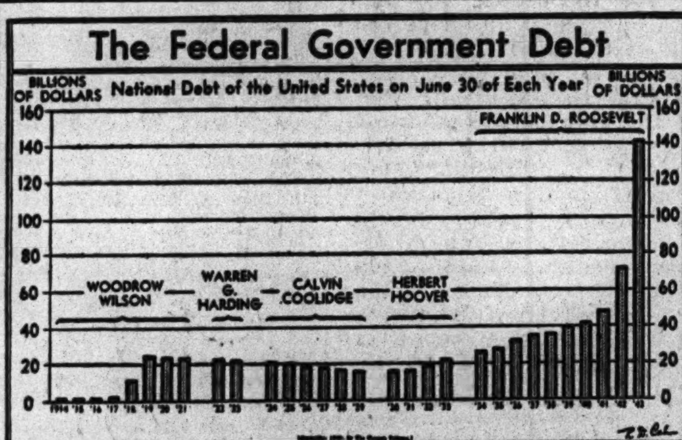
People and Events

Personnel of the Chicago Malleable Castings company and the Allied Steel Castings company entertained John T. Llewellyn, president of the companies, at a dinner in the South Shore Country club last night in observance of his 80th birthday. Llewellyn is one of the veteran iron and steel men in the Chicago area, having been in the business since 1879 when he started with the North Chicago Rolling Mill company, now Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation. With his brother, the late Silas J. Llewellyn, and others, he established the Chicago Malleable Castings company in 1889, and the Allied Steel Castings company in 1918.

The Federal Government Debt



Arms Change Slowed Work, Says Nelson

Plan Material Loans

New York, July 7 [Special].—To overcome delays in the completion of vital military programs, the WPB is setting up a special allotment procedure under the controled materials plan under which small producers of highly essential parts will receive "bank loans" of strategic materials, it was reported today by spokesmen for prime contractors. This development, it was said, indicates a speedup in certain types of military procurement for the balance of this year.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 7.—The nation's disappointing arms output in May was due largely to changeovers in types of munitions being produced and to cut-backs in some lines, Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the war production board, said today. Man power problems and midwestern floods were contributing factors, he added.

Nelson also told reporters that some manufacturers may have "let down" a little, particularly those who have been ordered to curtail output in some lines or have seen such cut-backs ordered in their communities. Such changes will continue but should not cause any relaxation of production effort, he warned.

June Output Up Little.

His remarks were made at a joint press conference with Charles E. Wilson, WPB vice chairman, called to discuss WPB's May production report, which yesterday showed that over-all arms output for the month failed to gain over April. Increases in aircraft and combat vessel output were offset by declines in ground ordnance and other arms.

The two officials said June output will show only a slight increase over May. Wilson added that June aircraft production will be about the same as for the preceding month, when the total was just under 7,200 planes.

Plane Types Changed.

Wilson also disclosed that new types of army fighter planes have recently gone into production, and that this changeover accounts for the May output of fighters falling behind schedule.

Nelson warned both industry and WPB employes against "letting down" at a time when increased effort is needed to boost production. He said that in recent months, production has not been held up by shortages of materials or lack of transportation facilities.

SALES OF SEARS AND WARD SHOW GAINS FOR JUNE

OPA to Discuss Higher Newsprint Price Request

Washington, D. C., July 7 [Special].—The OPA announced today that its officials will hold a closed meeting with a group of "representative" newspaper publishers in New York City tomorrow to discuss a request by Canadian producers for a boost in the ceiling price of newsprint.

TREASURY PUTS BAN ON BLOCKED NATIONS' NEGOTIABLE PAPERS

Washington, D. C., July 7 (AP).—The treasury extended its control over foreign funds today by prohibiting the export of checks, drafts, and other negotiable instruments to blocked countries and the importation of checks and drafts from those countries.

Intended to confine all international trade to licensed banking channels and thus prevent American dollars from falling into enemy hands, the new export regulations are effective immediately; those applying to imports are effective Aug. 25.

The ruling applies to all enemy and enemy-occupied countries, together with Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, and their territories and possessions, Tangier, Finland, French North and West Africa, and the French antilles. Altho China is a blocked country, the regulations will not apply to it.

Stock Prices Slip Despite Air Line Gains

New York, July 7 (AP).—A late burst of activity in air line issues failed to shake the stock market out of its lethargy today and, altho many shares recovered a part of earlier losses, the close generally was lower.

Prominent in the decline were steels and rails, trailed by pivotal retailing and chemical stocks, mostly off fractions.

Until the air lines spurted, utilities had offered the chief resistance and the Associated Press index for that group rose .1 to a new 1943 high at 35.8.

The slowness in trading apparently was a result of uncertainties regarding significance of the German advance in Russia, the eventual outcome of the anti-inflation and subsidy battle in Washington and a tendency to await details of Pacific battles.

American Airlines climbed as much as 3 points, closing up 2½ at 74½. United improved 1⅛, Pan American ¾, and Pennsylvania-Central ½. All were at new highs for the year or longer.

BOND PRICES MIXED.

New York, July 7 (AP).—Railroad loans set a pattern of irregular prices which spread over most of the corporate bond list today.

With advances canceled by declines, the averages of all the major groups were unchanged.

CHICAGO STOCKS UNEVEN.

Prices were irregular yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange on a turnover of 37,000 shares. Volume leaders included Chicago corporation, up ⅛ point; Midland United, down 1-16; Commonwealth Edison, down ⅛; Nash-Kelvinator, down ¼, and Aviation corporation, up ⅜. Six issues touched new peaks.

Rail Earnings for May Top Year Ago 21 Million

The nation's railroads had a combined net income of $85,100,000 during May, compared with $63,668,283 in the corresponding year last year, the Association of American Railroads estimated yesterday. Net income for the first five months of the year was $377,600,000, an increase of $166,000,000 over the comparable period in 1942.

Illinois Central Train Schedules Lengthened

Schedules of five Illinois Central trains will be lengthened Sunday to assure on-time operation under expanded war time travel, J. V. Lanigan, passenger traffic manager, announced yesterday. Terminal departure time will be 15 to 35 minutes earlier. Chicago trains affected are the Creole, Seminol, and Illini.

Lehman Asset Share Value Up to $36.31

Lehman corporation, largest of the "closed-end" diversified investment companies, closed its fiscal year on June 30 with net assets equivalent to $36.31 a share, its annual report showed yesterday. As a result of market appreciation of its portfolio holdings, the asset value rose from $34.54 a share at the end of March and $25.09 on June 30, 1942.

Robert Lehman, president of the corporation, operated from New York, said the $36.31 asset value was after an allowance of $1.11 a share for taxes that would be payable under the general corporate provisions of the federal revenue code, if all unrealized portfolio appreciation were realized at this time.

Assets Up to 74 Millions.

Gross assets rose to $74,439,979, from $49,876,278 a year earlier. Cash, receivables and government bonds amounted to $7,445,318, or 10 per cent of total assets, common stocks 77.6 per cent, preferred stocks 6.8 per cent, and bonds, other than governments, 5.5 per cent.

Of the $57,746,251 market value of common stocks held at the end of June, the largest group investment —$10,177,952—was in oil stocks. The principal common stock additions to the portfolio during the June quarter were 15,000 shares of Twentieth Century-Fox, 2,400 Coca-Cola, 7,600 Pepsi-Cola, 2,400 United Fruit, 11,000 National Cash Register, 5,000 Simmons, 5,000 Sylvania Electric Products, 2,000 R. WIRE OFFICIALS UPHOLD MERGER AT FCC HEARING

Washington, D. C., July 7 (AP).—A. N. Williams, president of Western Union, said today that his company's agreement for merging with Postal Telegraph "constitutes the best arrangement that could be arrived at under the conditions imposed."

First witness in a public hearing on the merger, Williams told the federal communications commission that a national unified telegraph system would bring improved telegraph service.

Edwin F. Chinlund chairman of Postal, also testified to his belief that "the public interest is best served by merging" the companies.

SHIPYARD MEN ASK WAGE RAISE FOR LIVING COST

Washington, D. C., July 7 (AP).—American Federation of Labor workers in private shipbuilding and repair yards today made a formal demand on the war labor board for approval of upward wage adjustments to match increased costs of living.

Opening his union's case in WLB's first review of existing contracts under zone stabilization agreements, John Frey, president of the metal trades council [AFL], asked assurance "that labor's real wages in relation to the cost of living are going to be maintained."

FDA DEPRIVES 22 OF PERMITS TO SLAUGHTER

Result of Campaign on Illegal Trade.

Slaughter permits of 22 Illinois and Wisconsin slaughterers and butchers have been revoked permanently for operating in violation of federal regulations, the war food administration announced yesterday in Chicago. The cancelations were ordered by E. O. Pollock, Great Lakes regional administrator of the food distribution administration, who said the action was another direct move against illegal markets for meat.

None of the 12 from Illinois losing their permits is from Chicago. Eight are from Danville. Pollock said the total slaughter affected under the revocations was about 6,442,000 pounds, dressed weight, based on the slaughter allowed for 1943, and nearly all this meat was earmarked for Chicago consumers.

List of Permits Canceled.

Illinois. Harry C. Jonas, Bernardi Brothers [Robert Bernardi, partner], C. R. Klayer, Gerald G. Arnholt, B. E. Bailey, Tom McGowen, Edgar W. Kuemmerle, and Park and Shop grocery [Herman Smith, partner], all of Danville; Peter Guntor, Westville; Ralph J. Richter, Fairmont; Morris Lubman, Depue, and W. C. Deubell, Dixon.

Wisconsin. Alexander Novak, Marion T. McGrath, and William Haus, all of Rice Lake; George H. Dratina and Edmund Novak, Ladysmith; Leonard Pabst, Turtle Lake; Clarence J. Leonard, Tony; Karl Bailey, Sarona; F. H. Hombrook, Chetek, and Harry L. Pittman, Clear Lake.

An FDA representative said that revocation of the 22 permits would divert a large quantity of meat to regular commercial channels.

Cattle Slaughter Drops.

The war meat board, meeting in Chicago, reported that cattle slaughtered in federally inspected plants last week totaled 160,000 head and production of beef was 86 million pounds, respective decreases of 40 and 39 per cent compared with a year ago. Both slaughter and production gained 1 per cent from the preceding week, however.

Calf slaughter was 76,000 head and veal production was 8 million pounds, reductions of 28 and 38 per cent below a year ago, but increases of 4 and 5 per cent compared with the previous week's production. Sheep and lamb killing of 394,000 head accounted for 15 million pounds of meat, or 7 and 12 per cent less, respectively, than in the corresponding 1942 period.

The meat board said that the "brightest spot" in the nation's meat prospect last week was the slaughter of 1,310,000 hogs, which produced 199,000,000 pounds of meat. This was a gain of 36 and 40 per cent, respectively, above a year ago, and 28 and 32 per cent over the preceding weeek.

Candy Makers May Not Gain from Increased Cocoa Supply

Philip P. Gott.

Increased imports of cocoa from Africa and South America as the result of an improved shipping situation do not ncessarily mean that civilian candy supplies will become correspondingly larger, Chicago candy manufacturers said yesterday. They explained that sugar and corn sirup limitations dim recent optimistic predictions that with cocoa beans coming into the United States in substantially larger volume civilians soon can expect more candy bars.

Army transports returning from North Africa have been stopping at the cocoa port of Accra on the Gold Coast, and shipments of the commodity from Brazil have picked up as the submarine menace has lessened.

No Restrictions for Army.

This will result in the government's raising the civilian quota of cocoa manufacturers from their present 60 per cent of 1941 to 70 per cent, trade sources predicted. There is no restriction on production for the army and navy.

Philip P. Gott, president of the National Confectioners' association, Chicago, said he has been informed by government food officials that civilian quota limitations are not expected to be changed at least during this quarter because the increased cocoa imports are to be used to build up a stockpile.

Expect More for Consumer.

The trade official and manufacturers said chocolate bar producers probably would benefit to some extent and it is expected that household cocoa will become more plentiful if the grinding quota is raised.

Ice cream manufacturers said they would welcome an increase in cocoa and chocolate since they are short of this popular flavoring, but asserted the over-all ice cream supply would be scarcely affected because of production restrictions. They said there probably would be a moderate increase in chocolate ice cream if cocoa quotas are raised. Bakers said more cocoa similarly would mean an increase in chocolate flavored pastries and icings.

SEC Suit No Barrier to Investors' Payments

The suit filed in Minneapolis last Saturday by the securities and exchange commission against the Investors' Syndicate of Minneapolis and two affiliated companies does not prohibit the making of instalment payments by holders of investment certificates, the Chicago office of SEC said yesterday. The company agreed voluntarily at the time the petition was filed that all new money received would be segregated, and the business "frozen," pending a court hearing.

SENATE VOTES TO RAISE CORN LIMIT TO $1.40

Farm Group Rides Over Opposition.

Washington, D. C., July 7 (AP).—Legislation to raise the ceiling price of corn from $1.07 a bushel, Chicago basis, to $1.40 was approved by the senate today and sent to the house.

"Tired of Being Regimented."

Chairman Ellison D. Smith [D., S. C.] of the senate agriculture committee, who introduced the measure, attributed a current shortage of available corn to the fact that farmers are finding it more profitable to feed the grain to hogs than to sell it to processors at the ceiling set by the office of price administration.

"I, for one, am tired of being rationed and regimented by people who don't know what it's all about," said Smith.

Altho acknowledging the corn situation is serious, Majority Leader Alben Barkley [D., Ky.] said if congress starts fixing prices on individual commodities the country would find itself in "a hopeless swamp."

"And if this law is enacted I hope it won't be taken as a precedent for congress to take up every commod-

Two Ways We Can Help The Investor

When you place securities with The First National Bank in a Supervised Agency Account, you at once begin to receive assistance on your current investment difficulties in these two ways:

1. Investment Recommendations. The bank's trust investment organization will make definite recommendations for the purchase or sale of specific securities whenever changes appear desirable. Your securities will receive the same continuing attention which we apply to trust investments. Each recommendation will be based upon such factors as: safety, income, liquidity, diversification, tax effect, and, of course, your personal investment objectives as you explain them to us. No action will be taken without your approval. You retain ownership of your securities and complete control of your purchases and sales.

2. Freedom from Detail. You are freed from responsibility for the physical protection of your securities, from taking time to collect income and principal promptly, from the worry of keeping systematic records for income tax purposes, and from other related routine tasks. If you find your days do not have enough hours for your activities, the resulting relief from the week-by-week care of your securities should be most welcome.

ity separately and adjust the price," he said.

Cotton Floor Sought.

Danaher's first attempt to scuttle the bill was in the form of an amendment to put a floor of 23½ cents a pound on the sale of government held cotton, remarking that identical legislation had been approved by the agriculture committee. Proponents of the $1.40 corn bill said that however meritorious the cotton bill may be they did not want the pending bill cluttered up with it.

The Connecticut senator then offered an amendment to increase the price of crude oil 20 per cent, and another under which the government could have forced citizens to sell commodities at any price stipulated by the government. Both failed, with Danaher casting the only audible vote in their favor.

GRAIN PRICES SLUMP

Heavy profit taking developed yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade after an early rise which carried rye up ¼ to 2¾ cents a bushel. July rye sold at $1.15 at the start, but closed only 1 cent higher at $1.13¼. Other deliveries of rye were ½ to 2¼ cents lower.

Wheat closed ⅛ to ½ cent lower. Oats declined ⅜ to ⅝ cent.

Uncertainty over congressional action in regard to subsidy legislation was said by traders to be responsible for the falling off in speculative interest.

BOUNTIFUL RAIN CALLED BOON TO ILLINOIS CROPS

Farmers in northern Illinois yesterday surveyed results of Tuesday's "million dollar" rain and found them good. They reported the rains had been needed desperately because the ground had baked hard under the sun and was cracking. C. A. Hughes, Cook county farm agent, said that the plentiful supply of moisture would be sufficient for at least two weeks.

Paradoxically the wet weather so welcomed by farmers has brought the European corn borer. Reports thruout the state indicate early sweet corn crop has been badly damaged.

U. S. SAVINGS BONDS—2.

Court tests have been made in a number of states as to the right of the United States treasury to pay over war bonds to co-owners and beneficiaries regardless of the claims of creditors or the inheritance laws of the state. The cases were carried to the highest courts of Washington, Iowa, and Colorado. In Washington and Iowa the decisions went against the treasury, the courts holding that the bonds become a part of the decedent's estate even when a co-owner or a beneficiary is named.

In other states the lower courts have handed down conflicting decisions. The New York state legislature settled the question by enacting a law which provides that bonds should go to the co-owner or beneficiary in accordance wtih treasury regulations.

The Probate court in Chicago several months ago ruled in favor of the treasury, and was upheld on an appeal to the Circuit court. The Illinois Supreme court has not yet ruled on the question.

The trend of state court decisions has been in favor of the treasury. Lawyers attribute this to the fact the nation is at war, and the argument that bond sales might be hampered if treasury regulations were upset.

Where state high courts hold that the bonds belong to the decedent's estate, the co-owners or beneficiaries have been required to cash them and turn the proceeds over to probate courts. The effect, of course, is to nullify the treasury's assurance that the co-owner or beneficiary is, the sole and absolute owner of the bond.

In view of the conflicting court decisions, the rights of co-owners and beneficiaries are in doubt, and promise to remain so until a ruling is made by the United States Supreme court, or other state legislatures follow New York's lead in adopting special legislation.

[The tax status of war bonds will be discussed in Friday's column.]

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM

The FARM by Gail Compton

July 7, 1943.

THE last shipment of steers which brought a price of only $15.85 a hundredweight illustrated an old truth of cattle feeding which must be kept in mind if a profit is to be expected from the operation.

That truth is the fact that the cost of putting weight on an animal increases rapidly toward the end of the feeding period. The last few pounds put on are the most expensive.

During the first four months of the feeding period the largest gains are made. Then comes a short period of consistent gains followed by a steady reduction in the daily rate. It is just when this final period begins that cattle feeders should market their animals.

More Feed Required.

Agricultural colleges have found that calves require one and a half times as much feed to gain 100 pounds during the second 100 days of the feeding period as they do the first. The amount of grain it takes to fatten at various ages differs little, because young cattle receive a small amount over a long period of time and older cattle get a large amount for a short period.

The first steers shipped from the farm lot averaged 1,095 pounds. The second batch sent to market averaged 1,140 pounds. It took the latter bunch 28 days to put on 45 pounds. Earlier in their feeding period the steers were gaining from two to two and one-half pounds a day.

Thus the steers only gained about 1½ pounds per day. This beef was worth, it turned out, about 25 cents. It was costing close to 50 cents a day to feed each steer. Thus that 50 cents' worth of feed, labor and housing brought a return of only 25 cents.

Cost Is Too High.

University tests have shown how this final gain on a steer usually costs more than the gain is worth. The tests proved that the daily gain of steers increases until they reach 600 pounds, after which it decreases slightly. The amount of feed required to make a 100 pound gain increases steadily as the steers grow.

A comparison of the feeding of calves, yearlings and 2 year olds reveals that the calves eat considerably less than older cattle, but as they are fed longer, they eventually consume as much as older steers. The calves make the cheapest gains of any type altho their initial cost is higher.

Altho calves usually bring a higher selling price and make cheaper gains, it is not right to assume that calves always are the best bet to feed. If the cost of yearlings or 2 year olds per 100 pounds is sufficiently below that of calves to offset the cheap gains of the calves, then the profit will be greater in the older cattle. More care is necessary with calves than with yearlings and 2 year olds.

The GARDEN by Ben Markland

CAREFUL judging of the pea varieties which were grown in the large garden this season indicates that the Little Marvel variety has been the most successful. A total of 1,900 row feet of peas, including four varieties, were grown in the gardens this year. All have been harvested, and the gardener states that the Little Marvel variety was the most productive, gave the earliest crop, and had the best flavor.

The other three varieties grown this season were Telephone, Giant Stride, and Dwarf Defiance. The latter has been a standard variety in the farm gardens for several years, since it matures later than Little Marvel and therefore provides a successive feature to the pea crop.

Giant Stride proved to be the best of the three late varieties, and next year the gardener plans to plant only two varieties — Little Marvel for an early crop and Giant Stride to follow.

Altho the peas were on new ground this season there was some wilt in all four varieties, altho not enough to affect the yield. Giant Stride seemed to resist the wilt better than any of the other three varieties.
